Sec. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the allowance of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 160.)

Sec. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any place outside thereof, shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and before any alien shall be allowed to land from such vessel, a complete list of all aliens employed on board such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the alien employ, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be landed at the port of arrival; or if there continue on board of such vessel any such aliens destined to the United States, a list containing the names of all such aliens, together with such information as may be required by the Attorney General as to the health, nationality, and occupation of such aliens, and the intended length of their stay in the United States and such other information as may be required by the Attorney General, shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival before any such vessel shall leave such port, and a further list shall be delivered before the departure of such vessel from any intermediate port of all aliens employed on board such vessel, stating the additions to the list since the previous list was delivered, the reasons for the removal of any alien from the vessel, and the destination of such alien. Any master, commanding officer, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section, or who shall fail to report, detain, or deliver any such alien specified in any such list, or who shall land or permit to land any alien employed on board such vessel at any port other than a port at which such alien is entitled to land under the provisions of this Act, shall pay a penalty of $200 for each such alien, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or while any such alien remains on board, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section as amended shall apply to all penalties arising subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any subsequent vessel on which such vessel is a consort, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after detention under the immigration officer of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General shall have issued a warrant for the arrest of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived and such alien shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165; 102 Stat. 48; 8 U. S. C. 161(a)–161(c))

EXTRACTS FROM IMMIGRATION AND NATIONALITY ACT (JUNE 27, 1952)

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, JOHN KINDER, of the M.V. PA CLIPPER, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the entries from the Immigration and Nationality Act, noted above, below.

JOHN KINDER
Master, First or Second Officer

Sworn to before me this 3rd day of March, 1953

[illegible]
Immigration Officer.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

(a) Except as may be otherwise prescribed by regulations issued by the Attorney General, proof that an alien crewman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside the United States, if signed by the master or commanding officer of such vessel or aircraft, together with a description of such alien and any information likely to lead to his apprehension.

(b) If space on the back of the owner, agent, consignee, master, or commanding officer of any vessel or aircraft arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States is not sufficient for the entry of all aliens crewmen, the master, or commanding officer, agent, consignee, or owner, as the case may be, shall cause sufficient additional lists to be prepared to accommodate them, and such lists shall be identified as a part of the manifest.

(c) Before the departure of any vessel or aircraft from any port in the United States, it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, master, or commanding officer thereof, to deliver to an immigration officer at that port (1) a list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival at that port but who will leave such port thereon at the time of the departure of such vessel or aircraft and the names of those, if any, who have been paid off or discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed at that port, or (2) in the discretion of the Attorney General, such a list containing so much of such information, or such additional or supplemental information, as the Attorney General shall by regulations prescribe. In the case of a vessel engaged solely in traffic on the Great Lakes, Saint Lawrence River, and connecting waterways, such lists shall be furnished at such times as the Attorney General may require.

(d) In case any owner, agent, consignee, master, or commanding officer shall fail to deliver complete, true, and correct lists or reports of aliens, or to report cases of desertion or landing, as required by sub-sections (a), (b), and (c), such owner, agent, consignee, master, or commanding officer, shall, if required by the Attorney General, pay to the collector of customs of any customs district in which the vessel or aircraft may at any time be found the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom such lists or reports are not delivered or such reports are not made as required in the preceding sub-section. No such vessel or aircraft shall be granted clearance from any port in which if arrives pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and if such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid. No such fine shall be remitted or refunded. Clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a bond or a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

Section 254. (a) The owner, agent, consignee, charterer, master, or commanding officer of any vessel or aircraft arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, if any alien crewman has been detained by an immigration officer at the expense of the airline, any alien crewman employed thereon until an immigration officer has completely inspected such alien crewman, including a physical examination by the medical examiner, or (2) to deport any alien crewman on board the vessel, or in the case of an aircraft at a place specified by an immigration officer at the expense of the airline, after such inspection and such alien crewman has been granted clearance, or (3) to remove any alien crewman from the United States at the expense of the airline, any alien crewman who is found by the Attorney General, after such hearing as he may prescribe, to be a member of the class described in section 13 (c) of the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended, or any alien crewman who is found by the Attorney General, after such hearing as he may prescribe, to be afflicted with any communicable disease specified by the Surgeon General, or any alien crewman who is found by the Attorney General, after such hearing as he may prescribe, to be afflicted with any mental disease or defect which may affect the ability of such alien crewman to safely land in the United States, or any alien crewman who is found by the Attorney General, after such hearing as he may prescribe, to be afflicted with any physical disability or infirmity which may affect the ability of such alien crewman to earn a living, unless such alien crewman is a conditional permit to land temporarily has been granted such alien crewman under section 212 or unless an alien crewman has been permitted to land temporarily under section 215 (d) (2) or 223 for medical or hospital treatment, or (3) to deport such alien crewman if it appears to the satisfaction of the Attorney General, from an examination made by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, and is so certified by such medical officer, that such alien crewman is so afflicted at the time he was applied or engaged and taken on board such vessel or aircraft and that the existence of such affliction might have been detected by means of a competent medical examination at such time, the owner, commanding officer, agent, consignee, or master thereof shall pay for each alien so afflicted to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $20. No vessel or aircraft shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sums, or while such sums remain unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of an amount sufficient to cover such sums or of a bond approved by the collector of customs with sufficient surety to secure the payment finally of. Any such fine may, in the discretion of the Attorney General, be remitted or remitted.

Section 255. If space be unlawful for any vessel or aircraft carrying passengers between a port of the United States and a port outside thereof to have employed on board upon arrival in the United States any alien afflicted with idiopathic trichosis, insanity, epilepsy, tuberculosis in any form, leprosy, or any dangerous contagious disease. It if appears to the satisfaction of the Attorney General, from an examination made by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, and is so certified by such officer, that any such alien was so afflicted at the time he was applied or engaged and taken on board such vessel or aircraft and that the existence of such affliction might have been detected by means of a competent medical examination at such time, the owner, commanding officer, agent, consignee, or master thereof shall pay for each such alien so afflicted to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $20. No vessel or aircraft shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sums, or while such sums remain unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of an amount sufficient to cover such sum, or while the time remains unpaid, no such vessel or aircraft shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such sum, or unless a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate or remit any such fine as he shall think proper.

(b) Except as may be otherwise prescribed by regulations issued by the Attorney General, proof that an alien crewman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master or commanding officer of such vessel or aircraft as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport such alien crewman.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of an alien crewman under this section on the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived is impracticable or impossible, or would cause undue hardship to such alien crewman, he may cause the alien crewman to be deported from the port of arrival or any other port on another vessel or aircraft of the same transportation line, unless the Attorney General finds this to be impracticable. All expenses incurred in transporting an alien crewman from one place in the United States to another under such conditions and safeguards as the Attorney General shall impose, shall be paid by the owner or owners of the vessel or aircraft on which the alien arrived in the United States. The vessel or aircraft on which the alien arrived shall not be granted clearance until such expenses have been paid or their payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. An alien crewman who is transferred within the United States in accordance with this sub-section shall not be entitled to admission to the United States.

Section 256. If space be unlawful for any vessel or aircraft carrying passengers between a port of the United States and a port outside thereof to have employed on board upon arrival in the United States any alien afflicted with leprosy, tuberculosis in any form, insanity, epilepsy, or any dangerous contagious disease. It if appears to the satisfaction of the Attorney General, from an examination made by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, and is so certified by such officer, that any such alien was so afflicted at the time he was applied or engaged and taken on board such vessel or aircraft and that the existence of such affliction might have been detected by means of a competent medical examination at such time, the owner, commanding officer, agent, consignee, or master thereof shall pay for each alien so afflicted to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $20. No vessel or aircraft shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sum, or while the time remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a bond or a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

Section 257. (a) Upon arrival of any vessel or aircraft in the United States from any place outside the United States it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, master, or commanding officer thereof to deliver to an immigration officer at the port of arrival (1) a complete, true, and correct list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel or aircraft, the positions they respectively hold in the crew of the vessel or aircraft, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and those to be paid off or discharged in the port of arrival; or (2) in the discretion of the Attorney General, such a list containing so much of such information, or such additional or supplemental information, as the Attorney General shall by regulations prescribe. In the case of a vessel engaged solely in traffic on the Great Lakes, Saint Lawrence River, and connecting waterways, such lists shall be furnished at such times as the Attorney General may require.

(d) In case any owner, agent, consignee, master, or commanding officer shall fail to deliver complete, true, and correct lists or reports of aliens, or to report cases of desertion or landing, as required by sub-sections (a), (b), and (c), such owner, agent, consignee, master, or commanding officer, shall, if required by the Attorney General, pay to the collector of customs of any customs district in which the vessel or aircraft may at any time be found the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom such lists or reports are not delivered or such reports are not made as required in the preceding sub-section. No such vessel or aircraft shall be granted clearance from any port in which if arrives pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and if such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid. No such fine shall be remitted or refunded. Clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a bond or a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

Section 254. (a) The owner, agent, consignee, charterer, master, or commanding officer of any vessel or aircraft arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, if any alien crewman has been detained by an immigration officer at the expense of the airline, any alien crewman employed thereon until an immigration officer has completely inspected such alien crewman, including a physical examination by the medical examiner, or (2) to deport any alien crewman on board the vessel, or in the case of an aircraft at a place specified by an immigration officer at the expense of the airline, after such inspection and such alien crewman has been granted clearance, or (3) to remove any alien crewman from the United States at the expense of the airline, any alien crewman who is found by the Attorney General, after such hearing as he may prescribe, to be a member of the class described in section 13 (c) of the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended, or any alien crewman who is found by the Attorney General, after such hearing as he may prescribe, to be afflicted with any communicable disease specified by the Surgeon General, or any alien crewman who is found by the Attorney General, after such hearing as he may prescribe, to be afflicted with any mental disease or defect which may affect the ability of such alien crewman to safely land in the United States, or any alien crewman who is found by the Attorney General, after such hearing as he may prescribe, to be afflicted with any physical disability or infirmity which may affect the ability of such alien crewman to earn a living, unless such alien crewman is a conditional permit to land temporarily has been granted such alien crewman under section 212 or unless an alien crewman has been permitted to land temporarily under section 215 (d) (2) or 223 for medical or hospital treatment, or (3) to deport such alien crewman if it appears to the satisfaction of the Attorney General, from an examination made by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, and is so certified by such officer, that any such alien was so afflicted at the time he was applied or engaged and taken on board such vessel or aircraft and that the existence of such affliction might have been detected by means of a competent medical examination at such time, the owner, commanding officer, agent, consignee, or master thereof shall pay for each alien so afflicted to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $20. No vessel or aircraft shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sums, or while such sums remain unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of an amount sufficient to cover such sums or of a bond approved by the collector of customs with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof. Any such fine may, in the discretion of the Attorney General, be remitted or remitted.

(b) Except as may be otherwise prescribed by regulations issued by the Attorney General, proof that an alien crewman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master or commanding officer of such vessel or aircraft as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport such alien crewman.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of an alien crewman under this section on the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived is impracticable or impossible, or would cause undue hardship to such alien crewman, he may cause the alien crewman to be deported from the port of arrival or any other port on another vessel or aircraft of the same transportation line, unless the Attorney General finds this to be impracticable. All expenses incurred in transporting an alien crewman from one place in the United States to another under such conditions and safeguards as the Attorney General shall impose, shall be paid by the owner or owners of the vessel or aircraft on which the alien arrived in the United States. The vessel or aircraft on which the alien arrived shall not be granted clearance until such expenses have been paid or their payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. An alien crewman who is transferred within the United States in accordance with this sub-section shall not be entitled to admission to the United States.

In column 9 opposite the name of each alien crewman shall be shown the serial number. (including any letter which is a part thereof) of any immigration or Foreign Service form in his possession which, under the act, he is required to present and surrender upon applying for admission to the United States.

In column 8 opposite the name of each alien crewman is permitted to land in the United States, as required by sub-section (a) (1), (2), 225, or 223, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located or in which the vessel or aircraft may at any time be found the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom such lists or reports are not delivered or such reports are not made as required in the preceding sub-section. No such vessel or aircraft shall be granted clearance from any port in which if arrives pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and if such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid. No such fine shall be remitted or refunded. Clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a bond or a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

Section 254. (a) The owner, agent, consignee, charterer, master, or commanding officer of any vessel or aircraft arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, if any alien crewman has been detained by an immigration officer at the expense of the airline, any alien crewman employed thereon until an immigration officer has completely inspected such alien crewman, including a physical examination by the medical examiner, or (2) to deport any alien crewman on board the vessel, or in the case of an aircraft at a place specified by an immigration officer at the expense of the airline, after such inspection and such alien crewman has been granted clearance, or (3) to remove any alien crewman from the United States at the expense of the airline, any alien crewman who is found by the Attorney General, after such hearing as he may prescribe, to be a member of the class described in section 13 (c) of the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended, or any alien crewman who is found by the Attorney General, after such hearing as he may prescribe, to be afflicted with any communicable disease specified by the Surgeon General, or any alien crewman who is found by the Attorney General, after such hearing as he may prescribe, to be afflicted with any mental disease or defect which may affect the ability of such alien crewman to safely land in the United States, or any alien crewman who is found by the Attorney General, after such hearing as he may prescribe, to be afflicted with any physical disability or infirmity which may affect the ability of such alien crewman to earn a living, unless such alien crewman is a conditional permit to land temporarily has been granted such alien crewman under section 212 or unless an alien crewman has been permitted to land temporarily under section 215 (d) (2) or 223 for medical or hospital treatment, or (3) to deport such alien crewman if it appears to the satisfaction of the Attorney General, from an examination made by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, and is so certified by such officer, that any such alien was so afflicted at the time he was applied or engaged and taken on board such vessel or aircraft and that the existence of such affliction might have been detected by means of a competent medical examination at such time, the owner, commanding officer, agent, consignee, or master thereof shall pay for each alien so afflicted to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $20. No vessel or aircraft shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sums, or while such sums remain unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of an amount sufficient to cover such sums or of a bond approved by the collector of customs with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof. Any such fine may, in the discretion of the Attorney General, be remitted or remitted.

Section 255. If space be unlawful for any vessel or aircraft carrying passengers between a port of the United States and a port outside thereof to have employed on board upon arrival in the United States any alien afflicted with idiopathic trichosis, insanity, epilepsy, tuberculosis in any form, leprosy, or any dangerous contagious disease. It if appears to the satisfaction of the Attorney General, from an examination made by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, and is so certified by such officer, that any such alien was so afflicted at the time he was applied or engaged and taken on board such vessel or aircraft and that the existence of such affliction might have been detected by means of a competent medical examination at such time, the owner, commanding officer, agent, consignee, or master thereof shall pay for each alien so afflicted to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $20. No vessel or aircraft shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sums, or while such sums remain unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of an amount sufficient to cover such sums or of a bond approved by the collector of customs with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof. Any such fine may, in the discretion of the Attorney General, be remitted or remitted.

(b) Except as may be otherwise prescribed by regulations issued by the Attorney General, proof that an alien crewman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master or commanding officer of such vessel or aircraft as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport such alien crewman.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of an alien crewman under this section on the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived is impracticable or impossible, or would cause undue hardship to such alien crewman, he may cause the alien crewman to be deported from the port of arrival or any other port on another vessel or aircraft of the same transportation line, unless the Attorney General finds this to be impracticable. All expenses incurred in transporting an alien crewman from one place in the United States to another under such conditions and safeguards as the Attorney General shall impose, shall be paid by the owner or owners of the vessel or aircraft on which the alien arrived in the United States. The vessel or aircraft on which the alien arrived shall not be granted clearance until such expenses have been paid or their payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. An alien crewman who is transferred within the United States in accordance with this sub-section shall not be entitled to admission to the United States.

Section 256. If space be unlawful for any vessel or aircraft carrying passengers between a port of the United States and a port outside thereof to have employed on board upon arrival in the United States any alien afflicted with leprosy, tuberculosis in any form, insanity, epilepsy, or any dangerous contagious disease. It if appears to the satisfaction of the Attorney General, from an examination made by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, and is so certified by such officer, that any such alien was so afflicted at the time he was applied or engaged and taken on board such vessel or aircraft and that the existence of such affliction might have been detected by means of a competent medical examination at such time, the owner, commanding officer, agent, consignee, or master thereof shall pay for each alien so afflicted to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $20. No vessel or aircraft shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sum, or while the time remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a bond or a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

Section 257. (a) Upon arrival of any vessel or aircraft in the United States from any place outside the United States it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, master, or commanding officer thereof to deliver to an immigration officer at the port of arrival (1) a complete, true, and correct list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel or aircraft, the positions they respectively hold in the crew of the vessel or aircraft, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and those to be paid off or discharged in the port of arrival; or (2) in the discretion of the Attorney General, such a list containing so much of such information, or such additional or supplemental information, as the Attorney General shall by regulations prescribe. In the case of a vessel engaged solely in traffic on the Great Lakes, Saint Lawrence River, and connecting waterways, such lists shall be furnished at such times as the Attorney General may require.

(d) In case any owner, agent, consignee, master, or commanding officer shall fail to deliver complete, true, and correct lists or reports of aliens, or to report cases of desertion or landing, as required by sub-sections (a), (b), and (c), such owner, agent, consignee, master, or commanding officer, shall, if required by the Attorney General, pay to the collector of customs of any customs district in which the vessel or aircraft may at any time be found the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom such lists or reports are not delivered or such reports are not made as required in the preceding sub-section. No such vessel or aircraft shall be granted clearance from any port in which if arrives pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and if such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid. No such fine shall be remitted or refunded. Clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a bond or a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

Section 254. (a) The owner, agent, consignee, charterer, master, or commanding officer of any vessel or aircraft arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, if any alien crewman has been detained by an immigration officer at the expense of the airline, any alien crewman employed thereon until an immigration officer has completely inspected such alien crewman, including a physical examination by the medical examiner, or (2) to deport any alien crewman on board the vessel, or in the case of an aircraft at a place specified by an immigration officer at the expense of the airline, after such inspection and such alien crewman has been granted clearance, or (3) to remove any alien crewman from the United States at the expense of the airline, any alien crewman who is found by the Attorney General, after such hearing as he may prescribe, to be a member of the class described in section 13 (c) of the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended, or any alien crewman who is found by the Attorney General, after such hearing as he may prescribe, to be afflicted with any communicable disease specified by the Surgeon General, or any alien crewman who is found by the Attorney General, after such hearing as he may prescribe, to be afflicted with any mental disease or defect which may affect the ability of such alien crewman to safely land in the United States, or any alien crewman who is found by the Attorney General, after such hearing as he may prescribe, to be afflicted with any physical disability or infirmity which may affect the ability of such alien crewman to earn a living, unless such alien crewman is a conditional permit to land temporarily has been granted such alien crewman under section 212 or unless an alien crewman has been permitted to land temporarily under section 215 (d) (2) or 223 for medical or hospital treatment, or (3) to deport such alien crewman if it

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, or transferred to such vessel while in any port of the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine, or for the purpose and to the extent authorized by such immigration officer at the port of arrival, pending the final determination of the case by the Attorney General, who shall cause such alien seaman to be immediately deported in the manner provided in section 20 hereof to the country to which he belongs or in which he resided prior to entering the United States, as the Attorney General may direct: Provided, That any alien seaman who has remained in the United States for a period in excess of thirty days shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States unlawfully, unless such alien seaman shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that his failure to depart was occasioned by illness or other circumstances beyond his control.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside foreign contiguous territory who shall refuse to allow to be taken on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel duly authorized immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (after inspection of such seaman (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board until such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid: (on all such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888, 891; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine, or for the purpose and to the extent authorized by such immigration officer at the port of arrival, pending the final determination of the case by the Attorney General, who shall cause such alien seaman to be immediately deported in the manner provided in section 20 hereof to the country to which he belongs or in which he resided prior to entering the United States, as the Attorney General may direct: Provided, That any alien seaman who has remained in the United States for a period in excess of thirty days shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States unlawfully, unless such alien seaman shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that his failure to depart was occasioned by illness or other circumstances beyond his control.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof other than Mexico or adjacent islands shall refuse to allow to be taken on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel duly authorized immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (after inspection of such seaman (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board until such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

The section, as amended, shall apply to all hereafter arising independent of June 2, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after readmittance by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall not permit any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or to any alien seaman employed on board any vessel at any port in the United States from which the Attorney General is authorized to issue certificates of clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit or cancel any such bond, in whole or in part, without interest. Clearance may be granted to any vessel notwithstanding the refusal of any alien seaman to proceed to sea in such vessel, or his failure to report on board for the purpose of proceeding to sea in such vessel, or his absence from the vessel without leave, when such refusal or failure occurs and such seaman has been paid or has an amount due him sufficient, in the opinion of the immigration officer in charge of the port, to defray his expenses until such time as he can be replaced, or such vessel can proceed without him, whichever shall first occur, not exceeding $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such refusal occurs, when such refusal occurs at the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart after treatment by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any person in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board the vessel on which he arrives and those to be detained or landed, as provided in this Act, at the port of arrival; or lists containing the names of such aliens as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all such aliens employed on such vessel who have not been previously reported, stating a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, in writing, a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel who have not been previously reported, stating a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and officers of the United States may go on board any vessel arriving in the United States for the purpose of inspecting the same and of examining the crew, and may detain such vessel for a period not exceeding five days at any port for the purpose of such inspection and examination, and may take and keep in their possession the certificate of registry of such vessel during such detention; and if any such vessel shall depart or attempt to depart from the United States before the inspection and examination of the crew thereof shall have been completed, or before the certificate of registry shall have been delivered up, or without the permission of the officer in charge of the port, the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port is located shall refuse clearance to such vessel and may call upon the United States marshal or any deputy marshal to arrest such vessel and detain her until such inspection and examination shall be completed and such certificate delivered up, or such permission granted, and may use all necessary force to compel compliance; and any such vessel, her tackle, apparel, furniture, and cargo, or a sufficient amount or value thereof to satisfy any fine imposed upon the master or owner thereof under the provisions of this section, shall be liable to seizure and forfeiture to the United States, and may be proceeded against summarily by libel in the district court of the United States for the district in which she may be found or arrested.

SEC. 39. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board the alien seaman employed on such vessel lists required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to report such seaman if required by such immigration officer to the Attorney General so to do, or who fails to pay the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all beneficial alien seamen employed on June 2, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the onboard manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a justice to deport under warrant by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

The law described below shall be observed on board a vessel arriving at any port in the United States. Failure to comply with the requirements of the immigration inspector pursuant to the law may result in the refusal of permission to land, and in the imposition of a penalty of $300 for each alien on board. Any questions should be addressed to the nearest immigration officer.

Sec. 23. (a) It shall be unlawful for the master, commander, or agent of any vessel or aircraft arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign port or place to land, or permit to be landed, any alien (other than an alien crewman) from such vessel or aircraft, unless and until such master, commander, or agent has delivered to the immigration officer at the port of entry a list or manifest of all such aliens, in such form and manner and containing such information as the Attorney General may prescribe by regulations. Such list or manifest shall be prima facie evidence, for the purpose of any proceeding before a special inquiry officer, of the right of any alien named therein to enter the United States, and the burden of proof shall be upon such alien to establish that he is not entitled to enter the United States under the terms of this Act or any other law or regulation made in pursuance thereof. Such master, commander, or agent shall also deliver to such immigration officer at the time of entry a like list or manifest of all aliens on board such vessel or aircraft who are destined to the United States, and such additional lists or manifests with respect to aliens who may subsequently join such vessel or aircraft in foreign territory or in transit thereto as may be required by the Attorney General. Such lists or manifests shall be in such form and contain such information as the Attorney General shall prescribe. Any master, commander, or agent who shall refuse or fail to deliver any such list or manifest, or who shall refuse or fail to detain any alien on board his vessel or aircraft when ordered so to do by any immigration officer, or who shall refuse or fail to comply with such regulations as the Attorney General shall prescribe governing the inspection of aliens destined to the United States, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver to any such alien notice to appear for inspection, or who shall refuse or fail to detain any such alien for such reasonable time as may be required to enable a special inquiry officer to conduct a hearing as provided in section 236, or who shall refuse or fail to prevent any such alien from landing in the United States except as provided in this Act or regulations made in pursuance thereof, or who shall refuse or fail to report, detain, or deliver such alien upon the request of any officer or employee designated by the Attorney General, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of entry is located at which such vessel or aircraft arrives a penalty of $300 for each such alien with respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such penalty or while such penalty remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to payment of such penalty or while such penalty remains unpaid in the case of a vessel employed solely as a ferry operating between ports or places in continuous possession of the United States or Canada, if such vessel has been granted clearance by the collector of customs at the last port or place in the United States or Canada at which it arrived, and if the master, commander, or agent thereof has reported to such collector the information required by this subsection with respect to aliens on board such vessel, and has delivered to such collector such lists or manifests with respect to such aliens as the Attorney General may require. Clearance may be granted to any vessel prior to the determination of the liability to payment of a penalty which may be imposed by reason of the failure of any alien to be included in a list or manifest delivered as required by this subsection if there is deposited with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to pay such penalty, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien with respect to whom such failure occurs, when such failure is due to the Attorney General in his discretion shall finally prescribe.

(b) Proof shall be on any alien seeking to enter the United States that he is not subject to exclusion under any of the provisions of this Act or any other law relating to the immigration of aliens.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien cannot be effected by the master of the vessel on which he arrived, but that such deportation will be effected by another vessel or aircraft of the same transportation line, such alien may be required by the immigration officer to remain on board such vessel or aircraft or to proceed to and remain on board another vessel or aircraft of such line pending the completion of the removal of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

Sec. 25. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel or aircraft bringing to the United States any alien who is not lawfully entitled to enter the United States shall be required to take such alien back to the country from which he came or to the country in which he embarked, at the option of the alien, and the cost of his maintenance while he is detained under this section shall be borne by the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel or aircraft. If the alien elects to be returned to the country in which he embarked, the cost of his maintenance shall be borne by the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived in the United States. If the alien elects to be returned to a country other than that in which he embarked, the cost of his maintenance shall be borne by the last vessel or aircraft on which he sailed to the United States. The cost of maintenance required by this section to be furnished by the master, commander, agent, consignee, owner, charterer, or operator of a vessel or aircraft may be collected from any one or more of them. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel or aircraft the master, commander, agent, consignee, owner, charterer, or operator of which refuses or fails to furnish maintenance required by this section, or which has refused or failed to comply with any requirement of the Attorney General under this section, until such maintenance is furnished or the requirement complied with, or until a sum sufficient to furnish such maintenance or to comply with such requirement has been deposited with the collector of customs. Any such master, commander, agent, consignee, owner, charterer, or operator who refuses or fails to furnish such maintenance or to comply with such requirement shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each such refusal or failure, and no vessel or aircraft shall be granted clearance while such penalty remains unpaid. (43 Stat. 164–165; 8 U. S. C. 181 (a), (c).)

Sec. 3. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from foreign port or place if alien is found on the vessel, master, consignee, or agent of vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively born, their last permanent residence, and whether they have been previously in the United States, and if so, when and how long since, and whether they have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, and whether they have a ticket to their destination, and whether they have been assisted in coming, and by whom, and whether they have the means to pay their passage, and whether they have been in the United States or elsewhere, and if so, where, and whether they intend to return to the United States, and such other information as may be required by the Attorney General. Such lists shall be prima facie evidence, for the purpose of any proceeding before a special inquiry officer, of the right of any alien named therein to enter the United States, and the burden of proof shall be upon such alien to establish that he is not entitled to enter the United States under the terms of this Act or any other law or regulation made in pursuance thereof. Such master, commander, or agent shall also deliver to such immigration officer at the time of entry a like list or manifest of all aliens on board such vessel who are destined to the United States, and such additional lists or manifests with respect to aliens who may subsequently join such vessel or aircraft in foreign territory or in transit thereto as may be required by the Attorney General. Such lists or manifests shall be in such form and contain such information as the Attorney General shall prescribe. Any master, commander, or agent who shall refuse or fail to deliver any such list or manifest, or who shall refuse or fail to detain any alien on board his vessel or aircraft when ordered so to do by any immigration officer, or who shall refuse or fail to comply with such regulations as the Attorney General shall prescribe governing the inspection of aliens destined to the United States, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver to any such alien notice to appear for inspection, or who shall refuse or fail to detain any such alien for such reasonable time as may be required to enable a special inquiry officer to conduct a hearing as provided in section 236, or who shall refuse or fail to prevent any such alien from landing in the United States except as provided in this Act or regulations made in pursuance thereof, or who shall refuse or fail to report, detain, or deliver such alien upon the request of any officer or employee designated by the Attorney General, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of entry is located at which such vessel or aircraft arrives a penalty of $300 for each such alien with respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such penalty or while such penalty remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to payment of a penalty which may be imposed by reason of the failure of any alien to be included in a list or manifest delivered as required by this subsection if there is deposited with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to pay such penalty, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien with respect to whom such failure occurs, when such failure is due to the Attorney General in his discretion shall finally prescribe. 1940.

(d) Proof shall be on any alien seeking to enter the United States that he is not subject to exclusion under any of the provisions of this Act or any other law relating to the immigration of aliens.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien cannot be effected by the master of the vessel on which he arrived, but that such deportation will be effected by another vessel or aircraft of the same transportation line, such alien may be required by the immigration officer to remain on board such vessel or aircraft or to proceed to and remain on board another vessel or aircraft of such line pending the completion of the removal of such alien from the United States. ALIEN SEAMEN

Sec. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employment on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily to receive medical treatment, or because of illness certified by the medical officer of the port, or in case of emergency, or for burial, or for such other reasons as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe for the elimination of added expense to the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

Sec. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel or aircraft arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof to which any alien may come after the effective date of this Act by water or air, shall be required to take such alien back to the country from which he came, or to the country in which he embarked, at the option of such alien, and the cost of his maintenance while he is detained under this section shall be borne by the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel or aircraft. If the alien elects to be returned to the country in which he embarked, the cost of his maintenance shall be borne by the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived in the United States. If the alien elects to be returned to a country other than that in which he embarked, the cost of his maintenance shall be borne by the last vessel or aircraft on which he sailed to the United States. The cost of maintenance required by this section to be furnished by the master, commander, agent, consignee, owner, charterer, or operator of a vessel or aircraft may be collected from any one or more of them. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel or aircraft the master, commander, agent, consignee, owner, charterer, or operator of which refuses or fails to furnish such maintenance or to comply with such requirement, until such maintenance is furnished or the requirement complied with, or until a sum sufficient to furnish such maintenance or to comply with such requirement has been deposited with the collector of customs. Any such master, commander, agent, consignee, owner, charterer, or operator who refuses or fails to furnish such maintenance or to comply with such requirement shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each such refusal or failure, and no vessel or aircraft shall be granted clearance while such penalty remains unpaid. (43 Stat. 164–165; 8 U. S. C. 181 (a), (c).)

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Hans M. Hansmark, Master, of the M.V. Prosper Queen, General, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

Hans M. Hansmark
Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this 3rd day of March, 1953

M. K. Jones
Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members to be made at each succeeding port, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of departure. Women and children are to be listed separately. A notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens assigned, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival in or departure from the United States from the foreign port to place in Alaska, Hawaii, or the Canal Zone, or in the district of Porto Rico or the Virgin Islands of the United States from any foreign port or place in Alaska, Hawaii, or the Canal Zone, or between such islands, districts, or territories, or between any of them and the United States, the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of any vessel bringing or carrying aliens shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival lists containing such information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, approved by the Secretary of Labor, concerning all aliens who may be on board such vessel, whether they have been granted visas or not, and concerning the sanitary conditions surrounding them while on board ship, and such other information relative to such aliens as the Commissioner General of Immigration may deem necessary for the proper administration of the immigration laws of the United States. Such lists shall be signed and sworn to by the master or commanding officer of the vessel, or by the first or second officer thereof, in the presence of the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of any vessel failing to deliver such lists or making any false statement in connection therewith shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Upon the refusal or neglect of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of any vessel to deliver lists containing the information required by this section, or upon the refusal or neglect of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of any vessel to deliver lists containing such information in respect of any alien on board such vessel, the Commissioner General of Immigration may, in his discretion, refuse clearance or the granting of a permit to depart from the United States to the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, and such refusal or neglect shall be reported to the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, who may withhold clearance for such vessel or any vessel owned by the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee thereof, or may direct the withholding of clearance for such vessel or any vessel owned by the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee thereof, until such lists have been delivered as required by this section, or such information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration has been furnished concerning any alien on board such vessel, or such refusal or neglect has been corrected or explained to the satisfaction of the Commissioner General of Immigration. (38 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 141.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on demand to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and before the vessel is granted clearing papers, or who refuses or fails to deliver on demand to the Commissioner General of Immigration or to any immigrant inspector duly authorized to demand the same, a complete and accurate list or manifest of all the persons on board such vessel, regardless of whether they have been granted visas or not, and of all the members of the crew, whether they are to be discharged in the port of arrival or not, or who refuses or fails to deliver on demand to the Commissioner General of Immigration or to any immigrant inspector duly authorized to demand the same, a complete and accurate list or manifest of all the persons who have been employed on such vessel since it departed from the last foreign port or place in which it touched, or who refuses or fails to deliver on demand to the Commissioner General of Immigration or to any immigrant inspector duly authorized to demand the same, a complete and accurate list or manifest of all the persons who are to be employed on such vessel upon its departure therefrom for the next port or place in the United States at which it is scheduled to touch

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws may be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except temporarily for medical treatment, or detained on board to testify in the investigation of any casualty or matter under inquiry, or for such other limited period as may be necessary to secure his presence, or pending decision on appeal, when such alien has been certified to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and has furnished such security as may be required by the Attorney General in his discretion, to insure that he will depart from the United States upon the vessel on which he arrives or on some other vessel, or within such period as may be allowed by the Attorney General, not exceeding in any case the period of time such alien is permitted to remain ashore under the immigration laws and regulations, or to secure his presence from time to time before the Attorney General for examination or for hearing, or to insure his departure when ordered by the Attorney General or the Board of Immigration Appeals, or to insure his departure from the United States within the period allowed by the Attorney General or the Board of Immigration Appeals for the purpose of taking on board a vessel or other conveyance for which it has been certified by the immigration officer at the port of arrival and upon which it has been granted accommodations for departure, or to insure his presence when specially required by the Attorney General: Provided, That no alien seaman shall be permitted to land temporarily under this section unless the immigration officer at the port of arrival is satisfied that the presence of such alien ashore is necessary for one of the purposes stated, and that adequate provision has been made by the master, agent, consignee, owner, or operator of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived, or by the steamship company operating such vessel, for the return of such alien seaman to a foreign port or to the United States, whenever required by the Attorney General or the Board of Immigration Appeals: And provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section to such extent and upon such terms and conditions as he may deem necessary in the case of any vessel which regularly visits ports of the United States and foreign ports contiguous thereto. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien (other than an alien crewman described in section 3 (6) (D) of this Act) to a port of the United States shall be responsible for the payment of the cost of maintenance while detained (pursuant to regulations prescribed by the Attorney General) of such alien, and for his removal if he is not admitted to the United States. Clearance of the vessel may be withheld or, in the case of a vessel not subject to clearance, the departure of the vessel may be prevented, by the collector of customs for the district in which the port is located, pending the payment of the cost of maintenance or the furnishing of a bond or other security approved by the Attorney General, or pending a decision as to whether any such alien is likely to become a public charge. Clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such cost, or of a bond sufficient to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, initiate such hearing as may be necessary to determine the admissibility of any alien with respect to whom such failure occurs, upon such return as the Attorney General in his discretion shall finds proper. $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such return as the Attorney General may prescribe. Clearance may be granted prior to the payment thereof upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such cost, or of a bond sufficient therefor, with sureties

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, master, or consignee of such vessel, and the boatswain and each of the pilots employed on such vessel, within the boundaries they respectively hold at the ports or districts for which they were respectively appointed or employed, and especially those to be had on board the vessel at the port of arrival; to list the crew of such vessel as hereinafter provided, and to report the same to the proper officer of the port of arrival; to list the complement of officers and crew of such vessel as hereinafter provided, and to report the same to the proper officer of the port of arrival; to report the nationality, age, and general description of each alien; forthwith, after the arrival of such vessel at such port, to report in writing to the immigration officer in charge at such port the name of each alien who shall have been found on board such vessel, stating the manner in which such alien arrived on board, whether as a cabin passenger or otherwise, the amount of money in the possession of each alien, the final destination of each alien, whether he has a ticket through to such destination, whether the transportation has been paid in whole or in part, and by whom paid, and such other information relative to each alien as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor; to report the sickness or death of any person on board such vessel, stating the cause thereof, and the name, age, and last place of residence of each person so sick or dying; to report the name of each stowaway found on board such vessel after departure from a foreign port, and the last foreign port at which such vessel touched before the discovery of such stowaway, and the intended port of debarkation; to report the name of each seaman who shall desert or who shall leave such vessel at any port or place in the United States, and the cause for which such seaman left such vessel, if known; to report the name of each seaman who shall be discharged or who shall die during the voyage, and the cause of death in each case; to report the name of each seaman who shall be shipped, the date of shipment, and the capacity in which he shall have been shipped; to report the number of births that shall occur on board such vessel, and the sex of each child born; to report the arrival at each port of such vessel, the condition of the vessel, and the sickness of each person on board, and to make such other reports as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor; to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a correct list containing the names of all seamen employed on such vessel who have been left behind in any foreign port or place, the reasons for which they were so left behind, and the wages due to each; to deliver to each seaman employed on such vessel at the port of departure, and also to the seamen at each port, a full and true account, duly certified according to the form and containing the particulars required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, of the sum of wages due to such seaman, and the deductions to be made therefrom on account of sickness, or for any cause, and the sum finally payable to such seaman; to report the illness or death of any seaman, specifying the cause thereof, during the period for which the master shall be entitled to receive the wages of such seaman; to report the wages due to each seaman who shall desert or who shall die during the voyage; to pay to each seaman the wages due to him within two days after the termination of the voyage and his discharge, or in default thereof to pay the wages of such seaman for each day during which payment shall be delayed beyond two days after such discharge, unless the master or consignee shall show cause to the contrary before the United States commissioner, shipping commissioner, or other officer shipping the crew, or before the United States commissioner, shipping commissioner, or other officer before whom the seaman is discharged, or the court before which the seaman shall make complaint; to report the name of each seaman who shall be discharged in the port of arrival; to make corrections in the crew list in case of the illness or death of any of the crew; to report the sickness or death of any person on board such vessel during her stay in port, and the cause thereof; to deliver to each seaman employed on such vessel, at the time of the payment of his wages, a statement in writing showing the gross amount of wages and other moneys due him, the various deductions made therefrom, and the net amount payable to him; to indorse upon the certificate of discharge of each seaman the name of the vessel in which he shall proceed, if any, and the destination of such vessel; to indorse upon the certificate of discharge of each seaman the conduct, character, and capacity in which he shall have served; and to comply with all the requirements of the immigration laws of the United States relating to the shipping, naturalization, and discharge of seamen, and with all the requirements of the navigation laws of the United States relating to the shipping, discharge, and payment of seamen, so far as the same are applicable to masters of vessels. (46 Stat. 854; 8 U. S. C. 141.)

SEC. 35. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof only half as large as the crew list, and the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival may require the production of such crew list before granting clearance papers to such vessel; and (b) (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), every alien passenger shall be examined by an immigrant inspector to ascertain whether he is entitled to enter the United States under the provisions of this Act or to which class he belongs if admissible, and every alien not found by the immigrant inspector to be clearly and beyond doubt entitled to land shall be detained for a hearing before a special board of inquiry, which shall have all the powers conferred by section 16 of this Act upon boards of special inquiry, and such hearing shall be had and concluded as soon as practicable. Pending the final determination of the character and right to land of any such alien, he shall be detained in such manner as the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may direct. Detention facilities shall be provided by the Government for such detention. All aliens who are ordered excluded shall be given a reasonable opportunity to communicate with relatives or friends, and with counsel, by telephone or telegraph, at their own expense, before and after the decision of the board of special inquiry. Such communications shall be over the signature and control of the immigrant inspector in charge. Any alien who shall come to the United States from foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands, shall be detained only for such period as may be reasonably necessary to inquire into his right to enter, but in no case for more than seventy-two hours, unless in special cases the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization shall so direct. (8 U. S. C. 153.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 35. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof only half as large as the crew list, and the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival may require the production of such crew list before granting clearance papers to such vessel; and (b) (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), every alien passenger shall be examined by an immigrant inspector to ascertain whether he is entitled to enter the United States under the provisions of this Act or to which class he belongs if admissible, and every alien not found by the immigrant inspector to be clearly and beyond doubt entitled to land shall be detained for a hearing before a special board of inquiry, which shall have all the powers conferred by section 16 of this Act upon boards of special inquiry, and such hearing shall be had and concluded as soon as practicable. Pending the final determination of the character and right to land of any such alien, he shall be detained in such manner as the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may direct. Detention facilities shall be provided by the Government for such detention. All aliens who are ordered excluded shall be given a reasonable opportunity to communicate with relatives or friends, and with counsel, by telephone or telegraph, at their own expense, before and after the decision of the board of special inquiry. Such communications shall be over the signature and control of the immigrant inspector in charge. Any alien who shall come to the United States from foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands, shall be detained only for such period as may be reasonably necessary to inquire into his right to enter, but in no case for more than seventy-two hours, unless in special cases the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization shall so direct. (8 U. S. C. 153.)

SEC. 150.15. Limit of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the limit of alien employees fixed by section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 153; 8 U. S. C. 173), shall have been complied with, or the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel has been granted a permit by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization authorizing the departure of such vessel with the number of alien employees on board in excess of the limit fixed by such section. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 150.16. Penalty for failure to deport alien crew members. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who fails to deport any alien crew member specified in § 150.15 when ordered to do so by an immigrant inspector, or who fails to report the illness or hospitalization of any alien crew member, or who fails to detain on board any alien crew member when ordered to do so by an immigrant inspector, or who fails to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a correct list of the crew, or who fails to report the illness or death of any person on board such vessel, or who fails to deliver to any such alien crew member the clothing and baggage left on board such vessel by such alien crew member, or who fails to pay the cost of the maintenance of any such alien crew member while detained at the port of arrival, or who fails to pay the cost of the passage of any such alien crew member ordered deported, shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each such alien crew member specified in such case, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty or pending the payment of the same or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty or pending the payment thereof upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty or to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $500 for each alien crew member in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the declaration shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all deportation arising subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(d) Every alien in a alien seaman who did not appear upon the inspection manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien when required by the Attorney General so to do, unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that such failure to deport was occasioned by sickness or other cause beyond the control of the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that any deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to certain of such seamen he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be required to transport such seamen to such seaman's native country or to the country in which he shall have shipped. SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of entry list or lists correctly and truthfully showing the full name of every alien on board such vessel, whether such alien be a cabin passenger or a steerage passenger, and whether he or she is in possession of a ticket or not, the number of pieces of baggage belonging to each, and the final destination of each such alien as far as the same is known; and it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or agent of such vessel to report to such immigration officer, at the time of the departure of such vessel from a foreign port or place, the additional information hereinafter required as to such aliens on board such vessel as may be in his possession at such time. Such lists shall be prepared in such manner and upon such forms as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or agent of such vessel shall be required to make oath as to the correctness of the lists by him delivered. Such lists shall contain such information touching each alien mentioned therein as may be required by the Secretary of Labor at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place from which she sails for the United States. Such additional information touching the right of aliens to enter the United States as may be required by the Secretary of Labor shall be furnished by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or agent of such vessel, in writing, at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of entry, to the immigration officer in charge of such port, and such officer is hereby authorized to administer oaths to such persons as may be necessary to secure the correctness of such information. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or agent of any such vessel who refuses to comply with the requirements of this section, or who knowingly or willfully furnishes false information or refuses information concerning any alien entitled to land, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and ineligible to be issued an immigration visa may be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily while necessary in the ordinary course of the vessel's business and while in possession of a valid landing permit, or to proceed to any point in the United States other than that at which he shall have been examined and admitted or granted permission to land, or be employed on board any vessel departing from the United States until such time as he has been duly examined and granted a permit to depart from the United States in accordance with the provisions of this Act, and the Secretary of Labor is authorized to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this section. (43 Stat. 161.) (8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the Dominion of Canada or Newfoundland, or from any island adjacent thereto (other than Cuba or islands belonging to the United States), any alien (other than a bona fide member of the crew who intends to land temporarily and solely in pursuance of his calling as such member of the crew and who is in possession of a valid seaman's identity certificate and a valid passport containing a photograph of the bearer) shall, before such vessel departs from any port or place in the United States, deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of entry a list or manifest containing the name, age, nationality, last permanent residence, calling, and final destination of each such alien, and shall answer such questions with respect thereto as may be put by such officer. Such list or manifest shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be verified by the master and by the owner or agent of the vessel, if the owner or agent is in the United States and has knowledge of the facts. The master shall also deliver to such officer lists containing the names of all aliens employees who were not employed upon it the time of the arrival but who will leave such vessel upon the departure of the vessel upon which they are then employed, and such other information in regard to such employees as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. The master, owner, agent, consignee, or agent of any such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a duly vised report at such port as shown as above required, and in the event such alien is not produced, within a reasonable time: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. Ice shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General shall find that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will cause undue hardship to such alien seaman by reason of his race, religion, or political opinion, and that such alien seaman may properly be permitted to remain in the United States, the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such penalty or any part thereof.

(d) Every alien seaman in order to be admitted to land temporarily by the immigration officer at the request of such vessel as a deserter, shall be required to deposit with such officer a sum sufficient to cover the cost of returning such alien seaman to the country to which he belongs, or to the country from which he came to the United States, or to such other country as may be willing to receive him, such sum to be determined by such immigration officer, but not exceeding $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such inquiry is to be made. Such deposit shall be applied to the payment of the cost of the return of the alien seaman for whom the deposit was made, but any part of such deposit not so applied shall be returned to the person who deposited the same.

(e) Every alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel, whether he shall have been granted a permit to land temporarily or not, and who shall remain in the United States for a period of more than 29 days, shall be deported in the same manner as provided in the case of other aliens unlawfully in the United States, unless specially exempted by the Secretary of Labor. Deportation shall not be limited to the vessel on which the alien seaman arrived in the United States, but may be made to any vessel or other means of transportation. Deportation shall be at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. Any alien seaman who shall refuse to be deported when ordered by the Secretary of Labor shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court.

(f) Every alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel, whether he shall have been granted a permit to land temporarily or not, and who shall remain in the United States for a period of more than 29 days, shall be deported in the same manner as provided in the case of other aliens unlawfully in the United States, unless specially exempted by the Secretary of Labor. AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, _____, of the _____ do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew, brought in said vessel from any port or place outside the United States, and that I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 21 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, as they appear below.

Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this _____ day of _____, 19__.

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crew (Form I-418) and of the original list, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is a "stowaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port to any port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing their respective ports or places of birth and last permanent residence, the name and address of the next of kin in the country whence they came, the final destination of each alien if any, whether they have been in the United States before, if so, when and where, whether they have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether they have a ticket through to their destination, whether they are in possession of money and how much, whether they are in possession of a railroad ticket or other through ticket, and whether they have been deported from the United States, and if so, when and where, whether they are coming in pursuance of a previous promise, contract, or agreement to perform labor in the United States, and if so, what kind of labor, whether they intend to become citizens of the United States, whether they are going to join relatives or friends, and if so, what relatives or friends, and their names and complete addresses, whether they are married or single, whether they are able to read or write, the age, sex, nationality, race, and last occupation of each alien, the port at which each alien intends to land, and whether each alien has been in the United States before, and if so, when and how often, the height and complexion of each alien, the color of the hair and eyes of each alien, and any distinguishing marks of each alien, and whether any alien has a ticket or is in possession of money sufficient to pay his way to his ultimate destination, and whether any alien has been employed by the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel or by the United States Government or by any State, county, or municipal government, and if so, what department or bureau of such government, and whether any alien has been deported or excluded from the United States, and if so, whether the case was reported to the Secretary of Labor, and whether any alien has been in receipt of relief from any charitable institution or society within the United States, and if so, what institution or society, and whether any alien is coming to the United States under a contract or agreement to perform labor, and if so, whether such contract or agreement has been reduced to writing, and if so, whether a copy of the same has been preserved, and whether each alien has been assisted in coming by any person or corporation, society, or body, and if so, what person or corporation, society, or body has rendered such assistance, which said lists shall be certified to by the master of such vessel or by the chief officer of such vessel, and shall be sworn to before the consul of the country from which the vessel sails, or, if there be no consul at such port, then before the consul of a friendly country, and shall be produced to the immigration officer at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of first arrival in the United States; and the master of every such vessel shall deliver to the said immigration officer at the time of inspection of the alien passengers a true and correct list of all such passengers who may have been refused permits to land, and the reasons therefor. (39 Stat. 879; 8 U. S. C. 136 (a).)

SEC. 28. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port to which it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively applied to engage, and specifying those of the port of departure in which they were discharged, all cases in which such aliens have deserted such vessel, all aliens who have been left behind by reason of illness, injury, or otherwise, and the cause therefor, and the names of all aliens who have been treated in hospitals, and the names of the hospitals, and all aliens who have been committed to prison, and the cause therefor, and the length of time of such confinement, and all aliens who have been granted permits to land, and the reasons therefor, and all aliens who have been refused permits to land, and the reasons therefor, and the amount of money in possession of each alien, and whether any alien has a ticket or is in possession of money sufficient to pay his way to his ultimate destination, and whether any alien has been employed by the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel or by the United States Government or by any State, county, or municipal government, and if so, what department or bureau of such government, and whether any alien has been deported or excluded from the United States, and if so, whether the case was reported to the Secretary of Labor, and whether any alien has been in receipt of relief from any charitable institution or society within the United States, and if so, what institution or society, and whether any alien is coming to the United States under a contract or agreement to perform labor, and if so, whether such contract or agreement has been reduced to writing, and if so, whether a copy of the same has been preserved, and whether each alien has been assisted in coming by any person or corporation, society, or body, and if so, what person or corporation, society, or body has rendered such assistance, which said lists shall be certified to by the master of such vessel or by the chief officer of such vessel, and shall be sworn to before the consul of the country from which the vessel sails, or, if there be no consul at such port, then before the consul of a friendly country, and shall be produced to the immigration officer at the time of inspection of the alien passengers and before the departure of the vessel from the last port outside the United States. (39 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the adjacent islands, or, if such vessel has touched at the seaport of any such island for the purpose of embarking any person coming to the United States, before the departure of such vessel from such island, shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list containing the name, nationality, last permanent residence, and destination of each such person, and such other information as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, and shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each such person, except that no charge shall be made for any person in transit through the United States to a foreign country, unless a sufficient bond to cover such charge is not given within a reasonable time, in which case the charge shall be collected if the person remains in the United States. (b) The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, in cases where it appears to him that the collection of the charge provided for in subdivision (a) of this section will cause undue hardship, refund or remit the charge or any part thereof. (c) Any person who knowingly and willfully fails to deliver a list required by subdivision (a) of this section, or who knowingly and willfully delivers a list containing false information or omitting any material fact, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such offense. (d) Proof shall be made in such manner and form as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and any such proof may be made before any consul of the United States. Form I-446 U. S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE (Rev. 7-1-52)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, thereof, to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who are to be landed in the port of arrival; to deliver a manifest of the names of all aliens, and such information in regard to them as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, who shall have the right to require the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and to report the departure of any such alien from the United States, and also the names of any alien employees who were not employed when the vessel left port, and the cause of their absence. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to such immigration officer, or his authorized assistant, any such list, manifest, or report, or who shall refuse to allow such officer to examine the same, or who shall refuse or neglect to report the departure of any such alien employee who were not employed when the vessel left port, or who shall refuse or neglect to furnish the cause of such absence, or who shall refuse or neglect to perform any other duty required by the provisions of this Act or any rule or regulation made thereunder, shall be fined for each such offense not more than $1,000 and imprisoned for not more than one year: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the delivery of such list or manifest of any vessel upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof. This section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties which subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Every alien arriving in the United States at a seaport or land border port of entry who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigrant visa, reentry permit, border crossing identification card, or other document required by this Act or regulations issued thereunder, or whose visa has been improperly issued, is excludable and shall be refused admission to the United States. Such alien shall be detained for a hearing before a special inquiry officer. Proceedings conducted by special inquiry officers shall be separate and apart from the public, and counsel for the alien may be present but may not otherwise participate in the proceedings except upon request by the special inquiry officer. The record of hearing and all documents and photographs relied upon shall be made available to the alien or his counsel, before the special inquiry officer, and may be subpenaed by both the alien and the Service. The special inquiry officer shall inform the alien of his right to communicate with consular officers of the country of which he claims citizenship. Decisions of special inquiry officers shall be based only upon evidence produced at the hearing. The special inquiry officer shall certify to the Attorney General the case of any alien who has been excluded after a hearing before him, and the alien may appeal to the Attorney General from his decision. Pending final decision, the alien shall be detained in the custody of the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, unless released under bond in such amount, not less than $500, as the special inquiry officer may prescribe, sufficient to assure the appearance of such alien at any hearing or proceeding in connection with his possible deportation, or pursuant to such conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe. Any alien who has been ordered excluded by a special inquiry officer may obtain review of such order by habeas corpus proceedings and not otherwise.

(c) Any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of any prohibition contained in this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof.

SEC. 37. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the Republic of Mexico any alien who has been refused admission to the United States by the Attorney General may be required to take such alien back to the country from which he came to the United States, or to any country which is willing to receive him and which the Attorney General may designate, without expense to the alien or to the United States Government, unless the alien is a bona fide resident of the country to which he is returned. (43 Stat. 161, 8 U. S. C. 166).

SEC. 38. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the Republic of Mexico any alien (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), arriving after inspected such alien (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), arriving after the time fixed to detain such alien on board the vessel, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1 for each such alien so detained, and the Attorney General is to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1 for each such alien so detained in excess of the time fixed by such immigration officer or the Attorney General for the detention of such alien, or, in the case the vessel is required by law to remain during the detention of such alien in quarantine, after the vessel is released from quarantine, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof. This section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties which subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Every alien arriving in the United States at a seaport or land border port of entry who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigrant visa, reentry permit, border crossing identification card, or other document required by this Act or regulations issued thereunder, or whose visa has been improperly issued, is excludable and shall be refused admission to the United States. Such alien shall be detained for a hearing before a special inquiry officer. Proceedings conducted by special inquiry officers shall be separate and apart from the public, and counsel for the alien may be present but may not otherwise participate in the proceedings except upon request by the special inquiry officer. The record of hearing and all documents and photographs relied upon shall be made available to the alien or his counsel, before the special inquiry officer, and may be subpenaed by both the alien and the Service. The special inquiry officer shall inform the alien of his right to communicate with consular officers of the country of which he claims citizenship. Decisions of special inquiry officers shall be based only upon evidence produced at the hearing. The special inquiry officer shall certify to the Attorney General the case of any alien who has been excluded after a hearing before him, and the alien may appeal to the Attorney General from his decision. Pending final decision, the alien shall be detained in the custody of the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, unless released under bond in such amount, not less than $500, as the special inquiry officer may prescribe, sufficient to assure the appearance of such alien at any hearing or proceeding in connection with his possible deportation, or pursuant to such conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe. Any alien who has been ordered excluded by a special inquiry officer may obtain review of such order by habeas corpus proceedings and not otherwise.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien aboard or the master of the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien or to the owner of such vessel, or if such alien is destitute or a seaman, such alien may be permitted to land temporarily under such bond as may be required by the Attorney General, but such expense shall not be charged to the vessel on which he arrived or the expense of the vessel on which he arrived may be refunded in such amount as may be required by the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 161–163, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 167 (a), 167 (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury requiring hospital treatment, or for the purpose of obtaining treatment for such sickness or injury, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, or unless such alien is a bona fide member of the crew of a vessel which departs from the United States within seventy-two hours after the entry of such alien, or unless such alien is a stowaway and the master of such vessel certifies that such stowaway will be detained on board and returned on such vessel. Any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall be inspected by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, and such alien seaman shall be issued a landing card, which shall specify the length of time and the particular ports to which such alien seaman shall be restricted, and such alien seaman shall be required to depart on such vessel from the port of arrival unless prevented by reasons beyond his control which shall be certified to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival by the master of such vessel. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155). Any alien seaman who shall fail to depart on such vessel or within the time specified in his landing card, or who shall go from such vessel without permission of the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, shall be deported as provided in such sections 19 and 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917, and shall be refused a visa as an immigrant or nonimmigrant by any consular officer until the cost of his deportation shall have been refunded to the United States Government by the owner of such vessel, or by the steamship company operating such vessel, or by the general agent in the United States of such steamship company. Any alien seaman who shall fail to depart on such vessel

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessels in the United States from any foreign port to which the crews of such vessels, or any of them, or any person who may have been employed on such vessels, shall have deserted, or from which they shall depart without the consent of the master, or without having the reasonable cause to fear violence to their persons from the master or officers, or which cruel and unusual treatment shall have been inflicted, the consul general, consul, vice consul, commercial agent, or consular agent of the United States within such foreign country shall, upon the application of the master, owner, agent, or consignee of such vessels, or any of them, cause said deserters to be arrested and conveyed on board of such vessels within forty-eight hours after such application, or, if such vessels be bound to sail within a shorter period than forty-eight hours, then without unnecessary delay, and may for that purpose demand from the proper authorities all such aid as may be authorized by treaty or usage within such country. All such deserters shall be delivered up within the jurisdiction of the United States; and if any such foreign country shall require evidence of the desertion of any such seamen, before delivering them up, the same shall be furnished by the production of the register of the vessel and the list of the crew, or by the copy of such register and list, certified by the consul general, consul, vice consul, commercial agent, or consular agent of the United States to whom application shall be made for the surrender of such deserters; and it shall be the duty of the courts, magistrates, and officers of the United States to aid and assist in the execution of all warrants issued by the consuls, vice consuls, commercial agents, or consular agents of the United States for the purpose of arresting such deserters, and to commit them to the jails of the United States, where they shall be detained and safely kept at the request of the consuls, vice consuls, commercial agents, or consular agents, or of the masters, owners, agents, or consignees of the vessels from which they deserted, until they shall be claimed by the consuls, vice consuls, commercial agents, or consular agents, or by the masters, owners, agents, or consignees of the vessels to which they belonged, or shall be otherwise disposed of according to law. If any such deserter shall not be so claimed or disposed of within three months after his commitment, he shall be discharged from custody and shall not be again arrested for the same cause. If any such deserter shall, before his commitment, desert from any vessel other than that to which he belonged, he shall be liable to the same proceedings and punishment as if he had deserted from the vessel to which he belonged. If any such deserter shall, after his commitment, make complaint of any cruel or unusual treatment on board the vessel to which he belonged, the consul general, consul, vice consul, commercial agent, or consular agent of the United States within whose jurisdiction he may be shall inquire into the same, and if he shall find that such complaint is well founded he shall discharge such deserter from custody and from the vessel to which he belonged, and shall cancel the shipping articles of such deserter. If any such deserter shall refuse to join his vessel or to proceed to sea in her, or to do duty on board thereof, when ordered so to do by the consul general, consul, vice consul, commercial agent, or consular agent of the United States within whose jurisdiction such vessel may be, or if any such deserter shall be found lurking or secreting himself on board of any vessel, or on shore within the jurisdiction of the United States, any justice of the peace, or other magistrate, of any court of the United States, or any marshal of the United States, upon the application of the consul general, consul, vice consul, commercial agent, or consular agent of the United States within whose jurisdiction such vessel may be, shall issue his warrant for the apprehension of such deserter, and cause him to be committed to the jail of the district, or to the jail of any county or city in which he may be found, there to remain until the vessel to which he belonged shall be ready to proceed on her voyage, or until the consul general, consul, vice consul, commercial agent, or consular agent of the United States within whose jurisdiction such vessel may be shall require his discharge, and shall certify to the keeper of such jail the cause of such commitment, and the time during which such deserter may be required to be detained in his custody. And the keeper of such jail shall detain such deserter in his custody during the time so certified, and shall not require any fee or reward for receiving, detaining, or discharging such deserter, nor shall any such keeper be liable to any suit for false imprisonment for anything done in pursuance of this section. And the consul general, consul, vice consul, commercial agent, or consular agent of the United States shall not be liable to any suit for anything done in pursuance of this section. (46 Stat. 854; 22 U. S. C. 256.)

SEC. 37. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board any such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry may grant clearance for the vessel, or who fails to deliver to any such immigration officer at the port of entry any alien who has been ordered by a medical officer (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner) to be certified for special inquiry at the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien so ordered, in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof in an amount not to exceed $300 for each alien in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper, the vessel may be granted clearance before the determination of the liability to the payment of the fine.

(b) Fines shall be paid to the collector of customs who shall not grant clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment thereof. The action, as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising subsequent to June 2, 1910.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien seaman, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States. Any fine or penalty collected from any person outside thereof, or that he may be reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be paid unless evidence to the satisfaction of the Attorney General be furnished showing sufficient reason why such fine or penalty should not be paid. (43 Stat. 161–162, as Stat. 810; 8 U. S. C. 101 (a), 101 (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness requiring his detention for hospital treatment, or for examination or hearing by the Attorney General or any inspector, or because of actual necessity, to the extent only and for such time as may be certified necessary by the medical officer in charge at the port of entry, but no alien seaman shall be permitted to land temporarily under this section to perform any work other than such as may be necessary for the proper and expeditious handling of the vessel. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board any such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry may grant clearance for the vessel, or who fails to deliver to any such immigration officer at the port of entry any alien who has been ordered by a medical officer (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), for special inquiry at the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof in an amount not to exceed $300 for each alien in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper, the vessel may be granted clearance before the determination of the liability to the payment of the fine.

(b) Fines shall be paid to the collector of customs who shall not grant clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment thereof. The action, as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien seaman, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States. Any fine or penalty collected from any person outside thereof, or that may be reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be paid unless evidence to the satisfaction of the Attorney General be furnished showing sufficient reason why such fine or penalty should not be paid. (43 Stat. 161–162, as Stat. 810; 8 U. S. C. 101 (a), 101 (c).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below is prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and is ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest to the port of arrival. Such lists or parts thereof may be obtained on postal card application to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (from 1–418 Customhouse, New York 4, N. Y.). The list of changes of alien members of crew (Form I–418) must be returned on postal card application by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. WHEN AN ALIEN SEAMAN IS A DESERTER.—It should be made on the manifest. It must be certified by the master, owner, agent, or consignee of the vessel that the alien seaman has deserted the vessel, stating the position he held in the vessel's company, when and where they were respectively shipped to engage, and, briefly, those to be held on the descriptive list, together with a description of such alien, followed with the information likely to lead to his apprehension; and illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, followed with the information likely to lead to his apprehension; and shall further state the circumstances that prevented the return of all alien employees who were not employed (return at the time of the arrival but who before the departure of the said vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which the said vessel under section 212 (a) (2) or 212 (a) (3) (B) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, or (3) to deport such alien pursuant to section 241 (a) (4) (C) of such Act, shall be paid by the owner of the vessel or aircraft.

Section 251. (a) Whenever any alien arrives at or seeks admission to the United States and the Attorney General has reason to believe that such alien seeks to enter the United States for the purpose of performing skilled or unskilled labor, and that the importation of such alien will adversely affect the wages or working conditions of the workers in the United States similarly employed, he shall cause such alien to be detained in custody pending inquiry as to the facts in the case. Such inquiry shall be conducted as speedily as practicable. The Attorney General shall cause such alien to be notified of the time and place at which such inquiry will be held, and shall give such alien reasonable opportunity to be present at such inquiry and to produce such witnesses and documents as he may desire.

(b) The Attorney General shall cause to be kept a complete record of all proceedings and of the testimony in connection with any such inquiry, and shall cause a transcript thereof to be made if requested by such alien. The Attorney General shall make his decision as speedily as practicable after the conclusion of such inquiry.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that the importation of such alien will adversely affect the wages or working conditions of the workers in the United States similarly employed, he shall exclude such alien from admission to the United States. Such decision of the Attorney General shall be final unless such alien shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that the importation of such alien will not adversely affect the wages or working conditions of the workers in the United States similarly employed.

(d) The Attorney General shall cause to be kept a record of all aliens excluded from admission under this section, together with the reasons therefor.

Section 252. If shall be unlawful for any person, master of a vessel or aircraft carrying passengers performing any service in connection with the boarding or landing of passengers, baggage, or mail of such vessel or aircraft arriving at a port of the United States, to go aboard any such vessel or aircraft before it has been granted free pratique and has been inspected by the immigration officers, except in case of accident, illness, or emergency, or by permission of the immigration officers, until the customs officers have also performed their official duties with respect to such vessel or aircraft. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

Section 253. (a) Whenever the Attorney General is satisfied that the government of a foreign country will not accept back from the United States any alien who is a citizen, subject, national, or resident thereof, and who has been ordered excluded and deported from the United States, and that such country has requested that such alien be not admitted to the United States, and that in the opinion of the Attorney General the admission of such alien into the United States would have serious adverse effects on the foreign relations of the United States, such alien shall not be admitted to the United States.

(b) Whenever the Attorney General is satisfied that the government of a foreign country will not accept back from the United States any alien who is a citizen, subject, national, or resident thereof, and who has been ordered excluded and deported from the United States, and that such country has requested that such alien be not admitted to the United States, and that in the opinion of the Secretary of State the admission of such alien into the United States would have serious adverse effects on the foreign relations of the United States, such alien shall not be admitted to the United States.

(c) Whenever the Attorney General finds that the government of a foreign country will not accept back from the United States any alien who is a citizen, subject, national, or resident thereof, and who has been ordered excluded and deported from the United States, and that such country has requested that such alien be not admitted to the United States, and that in the opinion of the Secretary of State the admission of such alien into the United States would have serious adverse effects on the foreign relations of the United States, such alien shall not be admitted to the United States.

(d) The Attorney General shall cause to be kept a record of all aliens excluded from admission under this section, together with the reasons therefor.

Section 254. (a) The owner, agent, consignee, charterer, master, or commanding officer of any vessel or aircraft arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails (1) to detain on board the vessel, or in the case of an aircraft to detain at the airport of arrival, any alien as directed by an immigration officer at the time of the inspection of such alien, or (2) to deliver to an immigration officer at the airport of arrival any alien who has been ordered by such officer to be detained for special inquiry under this Act, or (3) to remove any such alien from the United States in accordance with the directions of the Attorney General, shall pay a fine of $1,000 for each such alien in respect of whom any such failure occurs. No such vessel or aircraft shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien otherwise in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as he shall think proper.

(b) Except as may be otherwise prescribed by regulations issued by the Attorney General, proof that an alien otherwise did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master or commanding officer of such vessel or aircraft as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport such alien.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of an alien otherwise under this section on the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived is impracticable or inadvisable or would cause undue hardship to such alien otherwise, he may cause the alien otherwise to be deported from the port to which the vessel or aircraft is destined, or to any other port on another vessel or aircraft of the same transportation line, unless the Attorney General finds this to be impracticable. All expenses incurred in transporting an alien otherwise from one place in the United States to another under such conditions and safeguards as the Attorney General shall impose, shall be paid by the owner or owners of the vessel or aircraft on which the alien arrived in the United States. The vessel or aircraft on which the alien arrived shall not be granted clearance until such expenses have been paid or their payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. An alien otherwise who is transported within the United States in accordance with this sub-section shall not be regarded as having been landed in the United States.

Section 255. If shall be unlawful for any vessel or aircraft carrying passengers performing any service in connection with the boarding or landing of passengers, baggage, or mail of such vessel or aircraft arriving at a port of the United States and a port outside thereof to pass embroyed on board upon arrival in the United States any alien suffered with feeble-mindedness, insanity, epilepsy, tuberculosis in any form, leprosy, or any dangerous contagious disease. If it appears to the satisfaction of the Attorney General, from an examination made by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, and is so certified by such officer, that any such alien was so afflicted at the time he was shipped or engaged and taken on board such vessel or aircraft and that the existence of such affliction might have been detected by means of a competent medical examination at such time, the owner, commanding officer, agent, consignee, or master thereof shall pay for each alien so afflicted to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $20. No vessel or aircraft shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sums, or while such sums remain unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of an amount sufficient to cover such sums or of a bond approved by the collector of customs with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof. Any such fine may, in the discretion of the Attorney General, be remitted or remitted.

In column 9 opposite the name of each alien otherwise shall be shown the serial number (including any letter which is a part thereof) of any immigration or foreign service form in the possession which, under the act, he is required to present and surrender upon applying for admission to the United States.

In column 8 opposite the name of each alien otherwise shall be made in column 8 opposite the name of the otherwise receiving such treatment or medication.

When the member of the crew shall have been treated or instructed medicine during the voyage for one of the diseases or disabilities specified in section 255 of the act, notation to that fact shall be made in column 8 opposite the name of the otherwise receiving such treatment or medication.

The list described below shall be prepared on forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall not be delivered on board, but shall be delivered to the master of the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving aeroplane or other aircraft (Form I-433) shall not be detained

NOTIFYING THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, H.M.Martensen. Master of the S.S. Kobe Maru do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in any case owned from any port or place during the present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 30, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this 22 day of MAR, 19 52

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector mentioned the vessel at the port of arrival. Due care will be taken to insure delivery of the list to the proper officer at the port of depart (From 1 (48 hours before departure). Any additions to the list after the vessel has left the last foreign port must be reported on postal and will be delivered by the master to the proper immigration officer at the port. When an alleged seaman is a "noncitizen" additional information should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alleged American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of any temporary illness of such seaman certified as the United States quarantine officer, unless such seaman shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he (a) entered the United States prior to July 1, 1924, or (b) entered the United States from a foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent island, or (c) was in the United States prior to the last departure therefrom of the vessel on which he arrived, or (d) was forced by stress of weather or other unavoidable cause to enter the United States. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917, as amended, and shall thereafter be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States unless in the case of any such alien seaman who entered the United States prior to July 1, 1924, the Secretary of Labor shall recommend to the Attorney General that such alien seaman has resided in the United States for a period of five years next preceding the time he shall have applied for citizenship, and that during such period he has been of good moral character, attached to the principles of the Constitution of the United States, and well disposed to the good order and happiness thereof.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof for the purpose of landing any alien seaman on board such vessel, shall before the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival make application (which application in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), for the landing of such alien seaman on board such vessel, and deposit with the immigration officer such sum of money as the Attorney General may prescribe, not exceeding $500 for each alien seaman, to insure the departure of such alien seaman from the United States, unless such alien seaman is a person with respect to whom such landing occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the application by the collector or pending the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector or customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit or any part thereof if in his judgment such withdrawal will not be prejudicial to the interests of the United States. This section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens employed on any vessel arriving at any port in the United States on or after July 1, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deposit or obtain the removal of such seaman by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will cause undue hardship to such seaman or cause him to be detained by the authorities of the country to which he would be deported, and that such seaman is otherwise admissible, the Attorney General may permit such seaman to enter the United States for such time and upon such conditions as he may prescribe, notwithstanding the provisions of this section. Any such seaman who shall remain in the United States beyond the time prescribed by the Attorney General or who shall violate any condition imposed by him shall be deported in the manner provided by this section. Any such seaman who shall depart from the United States shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917, as amended. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 180.)

Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 30 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171) have been transmitted, and the fines imposed by section 30 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 180) paid or bond therefor approved, and the deposit specified in 8 CFR 150.12–150.17, and 150.21, has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 30. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel; arrange the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and discharged, and whether they are to be paid off or not; to list separately the names of such aliten members of the crew as may be discovered, all cases in which such vessel is found to have arrived in the United States with any such alien on board, and the reasons; the names, countries, or masters to which transferred; all cases in which any such alien has been allowed to depart from the United States, and the reasons; the names, countries, or masters to which transferred; all cases in which any such alien has been granted a conditional landing from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with the information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed who were not employed as crew upon the vessel at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the next departure; and also the names of those, if any, who were seen being put ashore, or who are reported, and the circumstances; and the names of those, if any, who have been transferred to another vessel, and the name of such vessel, and the date and character of the clearance granted; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver lists as required by section 30 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171) prior to the departure of such vessel, in addition to the penalty prescribed by section 32 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 173), such vessel shall not be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or while it remains during such determination, unless a sum sufficient to cover such penalty, or bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector or customs, shall be deposited with him. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit or any part thereof if in his judgment such withdrawal will not be prejudicial to the interests of the United States. This section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens employed on any vessel arriving at any port in the United States on or after July 1, 1940.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, ..., of the ... of the ..., do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 21 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

..., Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this ... day of ..., 19...

..., Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port to which she arrives. The list of changes of alien members of crew (Form I–418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. It other to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of native American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board the vessel to which he belongs at the port of arrival may be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or injury requiring such treatment, certified by the medical officer in charge at the port of arrival, unless such alien seaman is a member of a class found by the Secretary of Labor to be not unacceptable because of the character of their employment, and the admission of any such class or classes of aliens shall be subject to such limitations and exceptions as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. (43 Stat. 161; 8 U. S. C. 151.)

SEC. 16. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the foreign contiguous territory of the United States, except upon the conditions hereinafter provided, shall be jointly and severally liable for the cost of maintenance, including hospital, medical treatment, or burial, and return transportation of each alien (which term when used in this section includes any person who does not appear to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival to be a citizen of the United States) who may be found to be suffering from any of the medically certifiable diseases or mental defects which may render such alien inadmissible under the immigration laws, or who may be found to be a member of any of the classes excluded by section 3 of this Act, and who shall come in search of employment, or who may become a public charge within five years after the date of his arrival in the United States from causes not affirmatively shown to have arisen subsequent to his entry thereto, and who shall be certified to the Secretary of Labor within one year after the date of such entry. Such certification shall be made after such investigation as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and shall be final as to the facts certified, except that the decision may be reopened or reviewed at any time before deportation is effected if new evidence is presented or found which, in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor, may affect the propriety of the certification. Such cost of maintenance, including burial, and return transportation shall be a lien in favor of the United States upon any vessel owned in whole or in part by the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master thereof, which lien shall attach to the vessel when she arrives within the limits of any port of the United States, and shall continue against the vessel and her owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master, and may be enforced by libel filed by the Attorney General in the district court of the United States for the district in which the vessel may be found. Clearance shall not be granted to any vessel upon which such lien has attached, or which has left any such alien on shore without the payment of such cost and the filing of such bond or undertaking as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, or the certification of such alien as provided for in this section. Nothing in this section shall be construed as affecting the liability of any railroad or transportation company, which shall bring to any port of the United States any alien seaman who has been refused a visa by the United States consular officer, to return such alien seaman to the country from which he came, or to pay the cost of his maintenance pending such return, or to affect the liability of any person under any bond theretofore or hereafter executed and conditioned to indemnify against the landing of any alien seaman who shall become a public charge.

(b) The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper, the payment thereof may be secured by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than one half of the amount of the bond or undertaking given to cover such alien, or to a sum sufficient merely to cover the cost of maintenance, burial, and return transportation of such alien, or wholly remit the same, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to the payment of such penalty upon the deposit of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a duly report at such time as such alien may be treated: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (43 Stat. 162–163; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.13. Lists of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the immigration Act of 1917 (43 Stat. 166; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to final prescribed by section 32 of said Act (43 Stat. 166; 8 U. S. C. 131) prevails been served, the deposit specified in 8 CFR 150.13–150.21, and has been made.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Eric Thorsen Wiberg, of the Royal Yacht Club of Finland, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place outside the United States.

I have noted the copy of section 30 of the Act of February 3, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

E. Thorsen
Master, Mate or Steering Officer.

Sworn to before me this 14 day of June, 1940

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector, pursuant the vessel at the port of arrival. Sufficient time should be allowed for the preparation of the list. No changes or additions may be made in the list after it has been delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival (Title 8, sec. 1—138).

Any alien who fails to present himself for examination at the time and place designated by the immigration officer, or who departs from the vessel or from the limits of the port without permission, may be arrested and taken before the United States commissioner for the district in which the port is located, and may be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both.

Any alien who fails to report the address at which he will reside in the United States to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, Washington, D. C., within five days after his arrival, may be arrested and taken before the United States commissioner for the district in which he is found, and may be fined not more than $100 or imprisoned not more than 30 days, or both.

Any alien who fails to report his departure from the United States prior to sailing and whether he has been guilty of any crime or misdemeanor, and if so, what crime or misdemeanor, and whether he has been arrested, and if so, when and where, and for what cause, and whether he has been pardoned, and if so, by what authority for each offense, and whether he has been engaged in the importation of any alien into the United States under the provisions of the act of February 26, 1885, entitled "An act to prohibit the importation and migration of foreigners and aliens under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, and the District of Columbia," and amendments thereto, or in the importation of any alien who has been induced to emigrate from any foreign country by reason of any offer or promise made in this country or elsewhere to perform labor or service of any kind in the United States, its Territories, and the District of Columbia, and whether he has been engaged in the importation of any alien into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, under such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the aliens' detention on board or at quarantine, or removal to a hospital for treatment, or to such other place as the Secretary of Labor may designate, and to such aliens from vessels lying in the waters of the United States as may be specially certified by the Secretary of Labor to the Attorney General as necessary to be taken ashore for medical treatment. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 136.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from a place outside (which includes foreign ports and ports in the United States to which the vessel is proceeding, and may not touch at any port or place in the United States before arriving at the port of destination) or any vessel having on board any alien coming to the United States in transit through the United States to a foreign country, or any vessel having on board any alien who has been refused admission to the United States, shall, in addition to any penalty prescribed by this or any other law, be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien who arrives in the United States on such vessel, or who is brought to the United States on such vessel from a place outside thereof, or who is refused admission to the United States, unless the master establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he had no reasonable cause to believe that any such alien was unlawfully in the United States or would be refused admission to the United States, or that such alien had been in the United States for such time as to remove reasonable cause to believe that he had been brought into the United States in violation of law, or that such alien had been allowed to enter the United States by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival after such alien had been specially inspected in accordance with the provisions of this Act and the rules and regulations prescribed thereunder. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel arriving in the United States pending the final determination of the question whether the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer is liable to the payment of such penalty or penalties, but clearance shall not be withheld nor the vessel detained because of the inability or refusal of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer to pay a penalty in excess of the sum of $300 for each alien who arrives in the United States on such vessel, or who is brought to the United States on such vessel from a place outside thereof, or who is refused admission to the United States, unless such vessel shall have been libeled therefor in a district court of the United States within two years from the date when the alien arrived in the United States or was brought to the United States on such vessel from a place outside thereof, or who is refused admission to the United States, and a copy of the libel served on the master within ten days after the date when such vessel shall have been reported and entered at the port of first arrival: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 880–882; 8 U. S. C. 141.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws may be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, under such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the aliens' detention on board or at quarantine, or removal to a hospital for treatment, or to such other place as the Secretary of Labor may designate, and to such aliens from vessels lying in the waters of the United States as may be specially certified by the Secretary of Labor to the Attorney General as necessary to be taken ashore for medical treatment. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 136.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from a place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, under such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the aliens' detention on board or at quarantine, or removal to a hospital for treatment, or to such other place as the Secretary of Labor may designate, and to such aliens from vessels lying in the waters of the United States as may be specially certified by the Secretary of Labor to the Attorney General as necessary to be taken ashore for medical treatment. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 136.)

(b) Any alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any alien who has been refused admission to the United States, shall be deported to the country whence he came, or to the country of which he is a subject, citizen, or subject, as the case may be, in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States unlawfully. The cost of maintenance of any alien seaman pending the final determination of the question of his deportation, and the cost of his deportation, shall be paid from the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. Any alien seaman who shall have been ordered deported shall be deported on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, unless the master of such vessel shall establish to the satisfaction of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival that such alien has been lawfully admitted to the United States, or that such vessel has left the United States without such alien, or that such alien is a stowaway, or that such alien is destitute and the master refuses to pay the cost of his maintenance pending deportation, or that such alien is a member of the crew of a vessel which intends to depart from the United States within thirty days from the date of the arrival of such vessel at a port of the United States and which requires the services of such alien as a member of the crew thereof, and that such alien intends to depart from the United States on such vessel, and that such vessel actually departs from the United States within such period of thirty days, or that such alien is a native of the adjacent islands, Mexico, Newfoundland, Canada, or Panama or the Canal Zone, and is a bona fide resident thereof, and intends to return to such country within a reasonable time and to reside therein, and is not a member of the crew of such vessel, or that such alien is under sixteen years of age and is a member of the crew of such vessel and intends to proceed with such vessel to some port in the country of which he is a native or subject, citizen, or subject, as the case may be, and to reside therein. Pending the final determination of the question of the deportation of any such alien, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States shall be required to furnish a bond or undertaking approved by the Secretary of Labor in such amount, not exceeding $500, and with such sureties as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned for the production of such alien when required for hearing and for the payment of the cost of his maintenance and deportation in case he is ordered deported. Upon the giving of such bond or undertaking, the alien may be released from custody. Any such bond or undertaking may be sued upon in the name of the United States for the recovery of the cost of maintenance and deportation of any such alien in case he is ordered deported and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States fails to pay the cost of his maintenance and deportation within ten days after he has been notified of the amount due. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien who arrives in the United States on such vessel, or who is brought to the United States on such vessel from a place outside thereof, or who is refused admission to the United States, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover each fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $1,000 for each alien who arrives in the United States subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman has not been paid wages due him on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States may be required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of such arrival before such alien is permitted to land, and such proof may be required by the inspector at the border before such alien is permitted to enter the United States from any place outside thereof, or that any seaman has been paid such wages, shall be prima facie evidence to a similar effect.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the time which may elapse before such vessel returns to the port of arrival, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be charged elsewhere than against the vessel on which the alien seaman arrived, unless the master establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that such expense has been paid or refunded.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nominally one hour before the vessel is due to sail from the port of arrival, and in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list is made in triplicate, one copy to be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, one copy to be delivered to the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien arrives aboard a vessel at the port of arrival and not destined to the United States, the master is required to report the name of such alien, together with the information likely to lead to his identification; and if such alien shall be found to have been concealed aboard such vessel, the master will be subject to the penalties prescribed by the immigration laws. (Form I–418, sec. 23, act of 1924.)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily and solely for the purpose of medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to report, or who makes any failure or false report in respect to any matter or thing concerning any alien seaman on board such vessel, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such liability upon the deposit of such sum as a bond fully sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect to whom such failure occurs. Upon such refund as to the Attorney General in his discretion shall fairly appear to be proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties which accrue subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(b) Every alien seaman who has been admitted into the United States under the provisions of this section and who remains temporarily from vessel upon which he arrived beyond the period of such temporary permission, or who shall go from one vessel to another without the consent of the immigration officer in charge at the port, or who shall go from the United States to foreign contiguous territory, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this act. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 32. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to report, or who makes any false report in respect to any matter or thing concerning any alien seaman on board such vessel, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such liability upon the deposit of such sum as a bond fully sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect to whom such failure occurs. Upon such refund as to the Attorney General in his discretion shall fairly appear to be proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties which accrue subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of mental disability, he may permit such alien seaman to remain in the United States for such period as he may prescribe, subject to such conditions as to maintenance and support as may be required by the Attorney General, and such alien seaman shall not be deported without the consent of the Attorney General. Such consent shall not be granted to any alien who is a member of the anarchistic and other classes excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws. Such seaman may be required at any time to depart to any country which he may select and which will accept him, and shall be deported in pursuance of the provisions of section 19 of this act if he fails to depart within such time as may be specified by the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–166, 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), 161 (c).)

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the grade compared, when the wages they were respectively applied to and received, the capacity in which each of those is employed, and the intended final destination of each alien, so far as the master of any such vessel is able to ascertain the same, and also the names of all aliens employed on such vessel who have been left behind at any foreign port or place, and the cause for leaving them behind, as far as can be ascertained by the master. Such lists shall be prepared on blank forms furnished by the Commissioner General of Immigration, which shall require a description of such alien, so far as the master of any such vessel is able to ascertain: the name in full; age; sex; whether married or single; calling or occupation; whether able to read or write; nationality; race; last country of which he was a subject; the country to which he belongs; his final destination, if known; whether he has a ticket through to such destination; whether his passage is paid or in part by himself or by other persons or by the government or by a steamship company; whether in possession of money, and if so how much, and whether he has been in the United States before, and if so when and how long he resided there; whether he has any friends or relatives in the United States, and if so what relation, and their names and complete addresses; whether he has been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, and if so which; whether he is a polygamist; whether he is an anarchist; whether he believes in or is opposed to organized government; whether he is a member of any organization which believes in or teaches the overthrow by force or violence of the government of the United States or of all forms of law, or which believes in or teaches the assassination of public officials, or which disbelieves in or is opposed to all organized government, or which advocates or teaches the unlawful destruction of property; whether he is coming in pursuance of a previously arranged contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, and if so what is the nature of such contract or agreement; whether he has ever been in any penal institution or reformatory, prison, or jail, and if so which and why; whether he is coming with the intention of returning to his native country after temporarily engaging in labor in the United States; whether he is a skilled laborer, and if so what his occupation is; whether he has a contract or ticket or passage paid by others in whole or in part, and if so by whom; whether he has paid his own passage, and if so how much; whether he is in possession of a return ticket; whether he has been deported, and if so when and why; whether he has ever been refused admission to the United States, and if so when and why; whether he has ever been engaged in the practice of polygamy; whether he intends to practice polygamy in the United States; whether he has ever been a beggar or supported by charity; whether he is coming to the United States for the purpose of performing any act which would make his entry unlawful; whether he is coming for the purpose of engaging in any unlawful business; whether he is coming for any purpose or object which may make his entry into the United States unlawful or undesirable; whether he is under contract or agreement, parol or special, express or implied, to perform labor in the United States; the condition of health, mental, physical, and personal; whether deformed or crippled, and if so how; height; complexion; color of hair and eyes; and such other items of information as may be required from time to time by the Commissioner General of Immigration. Such lists shall be verified by the master or commanding officer or the first or second officer of such vessel, who shall certify to the correctness of the information contained therein, and shall be sworn to before the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival. The list of aliens so prepared shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival, and in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens so prepared shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. When no alien arrives aboard a vessel at the port of arrival and not destined to the United States, a report to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection, the master will please number consecutively the aliens listed on each manifest, beginning each list with number 1. Attention is directed to the penalties prescribed by section 32 of the act of February 5, 1917, for failure to deliver lists or for making incorrect statements therein.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who are destined to the United States, and those who are in transit through the country to some foreign port, and the intended length of stay in the United States of those who are destined hither, and the final port of destination of those in transit, and such information in addition thereto as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, under penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct list are not delivered to a true report as made as above provided, and in the event such vessel has arrived without having such list on board the master shall be examined on oath touching the circumstances of the omission, and if the examination shall disclose that the omission was occasioned by fraud or culpable negligence on the part of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, he shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such failure occurs. Such fine shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by the collector of customs in the customs district in which the port of arrival is located; and such vessel shall not be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty in not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper.

The section as amended shall apply to all penalties which accrued subsequent to June 5, 1940.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he may be reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart after treatment by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel in the service of the vessel on which he arrived, but such seaman shall not be charged charges shall such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. Use of the forms (S.B. 1-[illegible]) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal officer at the port. "Alien in transit" means an alien who, in immediately continuous passage through the United States, stops only for the purpose of changing vessels or trains or for a period not exceeding twenty-four hours. "Crewman" means an alien employed on the vessel on which he arrives in the capacity of a member of the crew. Enter [illegible] shall not be required to list aliens who are citizens of the Philippines.

In order to facilitate inspection it is desired that the list be typewritten. Entries should be made in the order indicated by the headings. Number the aliens consecutively, beginning with 1 on each sheet. Where any item is unknown or not applicable to the alien listed, write "None" or "Unknown" in the appropriate column. Do not use ditto marks. Where the alien has been in the United States before, the last visit should be described in the column headed "Last visit to U. S." Where the alien has been in Canada or Mexico for 6 months or more, the name of the country should be entered in the column headed "Last foreign residence." Where the alien has been in Canada or Mexico for less than 6 months, the last country of permanent residence should be entered. Where the alien has been in Canada or Mexico for less than 6 months, the last country of permanent residence should be entered. Where the alien has been in Canada or Mexico for less than 6 months, the last country of permanent residence should be entered.

I, Clifford A. Nelson, of the S/V Nicholas, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in and taken from any port or place during the foreign voyage. I have noted the copy of section 30 of the Act of February 7, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 17 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, supra which appear below.

Clifford A. Nelson
Master [illegible]

Sworn to before me this 10th day of March 1923

W. F. Kelly
Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms supplied by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of persons of alien members, including names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

Port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, the master or commanding officer, or first or second officer, will be required to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival their countersigned certificates of discharge, or such other papers as may be issued to alien seamen in lieu thereof, showing the positions they respectively held in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped, and the names of all persons employed on such vessel, arriving the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped, and the names of all persons employed on such vessel, arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the master, agent, owner, or consignee, or master thereof, to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival their countersigned certificates of discharge, or such other papers as may be issued to alien seamen employed on such vessel, arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, if shall be the duty of the master, agent, owner, or consignee, or master of such vessel, to report to such immigration officer, at arrival, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien seaman deserted from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, owner, or consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, at arrival, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien seaman has been left behind on account of illness or injury, the name of such seaman, the name of the vessel from which left behind, the cause for which left behind, and the intended destination of such seaman when discharged from the hospital; and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, owner, or consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver to such immigration officer, before the departure of any such vessel, a complete list of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who subsequently shipped from the vessel, stating the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who shall have been employed thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been discharged, and the cause, if any, why each alien seaman was discharged, the destination of those, if any, who have been signed on, the name of the vessel on which each alien seaman will sail, and the destination of such vessel; and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, owner, or consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver either to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival or to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure, before such vessel shall depart from such port, a list containing the names of all alien seamen employed on such vessel, and their duties, and the names of those, if any, who have been discharged, and the cause for which discharged, and the destination of such seamen, and the vessel on which they intend to sail, and the port of destination of such vessel, which list shall be prepared in such form and contain such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who refuses or fails to comply with the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 201.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof with alien to depart on board such vessel shall deposit with the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a sum sufficient to pay the cost of the return passage of each such alien, as determined by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor, or, in his discretion, to furnish a bond in such sum and with such surety as may be required by such officer conditioned upon the return passage of each such alien within such period as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Such vessel shall not be granted clearance papers until the requirements of this section have been complied with. Any such master, agent, owner, or consignee who shall refuse to comply with the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien as to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers during the detention of the immigrant in connection with the boarding of such vessel, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question of the admissibility of any such alien upon the deposit of such sum, or while the immigrant is being detained for examination by the Board of Special Inquiry, or pending an appeal from the decision of such Board of Special Inquiry, or while any suit or proceeding brought to review the decision of such Board of Special Inquiry is pending, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit or cancel such bond in such amount as he may deem sufficient. Such deposit shall be returned only upon the production of the certificate of the Secretary of Labor that such alien has been granted a hearing by a Board of Special Inquiry, or by the Secretary of Labor, and that such Board or the Secretary of Labor has rendered a decision in favor of such alien, or upon the certificate of the Attorney General that such alien has been granted permission to enter the United States, or upon the certificate of the Secretary of Labor that such alien has departed from the United States in pursuance of the decision of the Secretary of Labor or of a Board of Special Inquiry, or upon the certificate of the Attorney General that such alien has been granted a stay of deportation by the Secretary of Labor, or upon the certificate of the Secretary of Labor that such alien has been granted an extension of time within which to depart from the United States, or upon the certificate of the Secretary of Labor that such alien has been granted an adjustment of status under section 4 (c) or section 4 (d) of the Act of March 2, 1929, as amended, or section 4 (a) of the Act of June 29, 1932, as amended, or section 4 (a) of the Act of June 28, 1934, as amended, or section 4 (a) of the Act of June 15, 1936, as amended, or section 4 (a) of the Act of August 9, 1939, as amended, or section 4 (a) of the Act of June 28, 1940, as amended, or section 4 (a) of the Act of December 29, 1941, as amended, or section 4 (a) of the Act of December 17, 1942, as amended, or section 4 (a) of the Act of December 28, 1945, as amended, or section 4 (a) of the Act of August 7, 1946, as amended, or section 4 (a) of the Act of August 8, 1946, as amended, or section 4 (a) of the Act of August 1, 1947, as amended, or section 4 (a) of the Act of June 25, 1948, as amended, or section 4 (a) of the Act of June 16, 1950, as amended, or section 4 (a) of the Act of September 11, 1957, as amended, or section 4 (a) of the Act of September 26, 1961, as amended, or section 4 (a) of the Act of October 3, 1965, as amended, or section 4 (a) of the Act of October 20, 1976, as amended, or section 4 (a) of the Act of October 5, 1978, as amended, or section 4 (a) of the Act of October 30, 1978, as amended, or section 4 (a) of the Act of October 30, 1978, as amended, or section 4 (a) of the Act of October 30

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens or alien members of crews (from whom shall not be required or issued but shall be obtained by the master to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival) will be prepared in duplicate, typewritten or printed, and shall be in the following numerical order, to wit: Written on arrival aliens is a .. workaway .. a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5TH, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspectors duplicate manifests signed in person by the master of the vessel, or his chief assistant, containing the names of all aliens composing the crew and specifying the nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien who has been admitted to the United States, and such other information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe. And upon the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to any immigrant officer in charge at each port of arrival in the United States all changes in the crew, additions thereto, and departures therefrom which may have occurred subsequent to the sailing of the vessel from the last foreign port, and to deliver to such immigrant officer a duplicate list containing the names of all alien members of the crew so discharged. And it shall be the duty of the master of any such vessel, before granting clearance papers to any vessel bound for a foreign port, to deliver to the customs officer in charge a list containing the names of all alien members of the crew who have been discharged from the vessel since the last previous report was rendered, and the cause of such discharge, and the names of all alien members of the crew who have been shipped since the last previous report was rendered, and the cause for and the time and place of such shipping. Such list shall be verified by the oath of the master, and a like list shall be delivered to the immigrant officer in charge at the port of departure of such vessel from the United States. Any master who knowingly fails to deliver any list required of him by this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each offense.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the data required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished and, if required, verified. Any master who refuses to furnish such data or who knowingly makes a false statement in connection therewith, or who fails to report and deliver any such list of changes in the crew, or who fails to deliver a list of persons employed on board such vessel, shall be liable to the penalties prescribed by said section or to the penalties prescribed by section 32 of said act, as the case may be, and the clearance shall be withheld pending the determination of the question of the liability of the master. Attention is directed to the fact that the penalties prescribed by said sections 32 and 36 are not applicable to masters of vessels who have been granted permits to discharge alien seamen in accordance with the provisions of section 33 of said act, unless the seaman fails to depart on the vessel specified in the permit or on some other vessel within the time limit specified in the permit, or unless the master fails to report the illness or injury of the seaman or his departure from the United States, as required by said section 33. Masters should therefore exercise the utmost care to see that the provisions of said section 33 have been complied with before the clearance of their vessels is granted.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26TH, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman employed from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or temporarily to ship as a member of the crew of a vessel departing from the United States, or unless specifically authorized by the Secretary of Labor under such conditions as the Secretary may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States or from any insular possession of the United States shall indemnify a person hereby authorized to make such examination for the medical examination of each alien seaman employed on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner) or who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on board such vessel if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who does not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a foreign contiguous territory, or from any insular possession of the United States, or who departs from the United States on a vessel other than the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act, unless the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States pays the cost of his deportation, or unless the Secretary of Labor determines that deportation should be suspended for the convenience of the United States or for such other reasons as he may deem sufficient, but no such determination shall prevent subsequent deportation. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this Act shall be deported at any time upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be detained at the port of arrival for more than forty-eight hours after the completion of the examination of the alien seaman by the immigrant inspector.

(d) Every alien seaman who does not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a foreign contiguous territory, or from any insular possession of the United States, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart with sufficient promptness to comply with the conditions of his landing permit, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list shown hereon must be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. Time for delivery of such list may be extended by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival at his discretion in cases where the vessel is scheduled to call at more than one port in the United States before proceeding to a foreign port. When an alternate address is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That from and after the 1st day of July, 1917, it shall be unlawful for any foreign born person or persons to depart from the United States unless he or they shall have in his or their possession a valid passport viséed by the consular officer of the country to which he or they are going, or a certificate of identity issued by the Secretary of Labor, or such other document as may be prescribed by the President: Provided, That the provisions of this section shall not apply to citizens of the United States or to aliens lawfully admitted for permanent residence who were not employed between the time of the arrival of the alien on the vessel and the departure of the vessel on which he is to depart from the United States, unless specifically required by the Secretary of Labor: Provided further, That the provisions of this section shall not apply to aliens employed on vessels plying between ports of the United States and ports of foreign countries contiguous thereto or adjacent islands, or to aliens employed on vessels engaged in trade between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States via the Panama Canal, or to aliens employed on vessels engaged in trade between ports of the United States and ports of Cuba, Mexico, Central America, Santo Domingo, Haiti, Canada, Newfoundland, Miquelon, the Panama Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, or the islands adjacent to any of the foregoing countries: Provided further, That the President may, in his discretion, order that the provisions of this section shall not apply to aliens employed on vessels touching at ports of the United States from foreign ports in the course of voyages between ports of countries adjacent to the United States: Provided further, That

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, C. H. SMITH, Master of the S. S. TOTAH TOTAH, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew, promptly in said vessel from and port to hence during the present voyage.
I have noted the copy of section 30 of the Act of February 2, 1161, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 14 and 30, Act of May 30, 1854, which appear below.

Master, Purser-Steward Officer

Sworn to before me this 4th day of March, 1963

U. S. Immigration Inspector

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of entry, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens must be delivered on entry to the immigration officer at the port of first arrival. Failure to comply with this regulation will subject the master to the penalty prescribed by section 38 of the Act of February 2, 1161 (8 U. S. C. 1188). Attention is directed to the penalty for bringing an alien to the United States who is not in possession of a valid unexpired passport and visa, if such are required by the regulations of the Department of State (22 CFR, Part 53). Attention is also directed to the penalty for bringing an alien to the United States who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigrant visa, if such is required by the immigration laws in effect at the time of application for admission (section 13, Act of May 26, 1924, as amended; 8 U. S. C. 213). Attention is also directed to the penalty for bringing an alien to the United States who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigrant visa, if such is required by the immigration laws in effect at the time of application for admission (section 13, Act of May 26, 1924, as amended; 8 U. S. C. 213). Attention is also directed to the penalty for bringing an alien to the United States who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigrant visa, if such is required by the immigration laws in effect at the time of application for admission (section 13, Act of May 26, 1924, as amended; 8 U. S. C. 213).

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, ALFREDO SOTTOCASA, Master of the Italian S/S "ITALIA", do declare that the foregoing is a list and true list of all the crew promptly on each vessel from any port or place during the present voyage. I have noted the cook of section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 21 and 30, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

ALFREDO SOTTOCASA

Sworn to before me this 30 day of March, 1951

Immigration Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared in plain ink by the Department and be kept for delivery to the immigration inspector (Form I-418) shall not be detained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. New or returning (Form I-418) shall not be detained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. New or returning aliens, if any, are to be noted on the list, and the list shall be delivered by the master to the immigration inspector at the port of arrival. Failure to deliver the list as above provided may result in the imposition of a penalty of $300 for each alien not listed.

SEC. 26. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port to which it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all aliens who have been taken on board the vessel at any foreign port or place, the name in full, age, sex, calling or occupation, and nationality of each alien who may be on board such vessel, whether such alien be a passenger, or an officer or member of the crew, and whether such alien intends to land in the United States or to pass in transit through the United States to some foreign country, and such other information in regard to each such alien as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, which list or manifest shall be prepared at the time of the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place in which it may have touched: Provided, That the master of any vessel may, in lieu of including in the list or manifest the name or other required information concerning any alien who has been regularly admitted to the United States and who intends to return to the United States after a temporary absence, include in such list or manifest in lieu of the name of such alien the word "returning" and the number of pages in such alien's immigrant passport. The master of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list or manifest, or to include therein the name of any alien on board, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truly any question concerning any alien on board asked by any officer of the United States charged with the administration of the immigration laws touching any such alien, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such refusal or neglect occurs, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of the necessity for his presence as a witness in connection with the trial of any alien for any crime, or because of the necessity for his testimony in connection therewith, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the prosecution of any person charged with employing or harboring such alien in violation of the immigration laws, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the deportation of such alien, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the prosecution of the master of the vessel on which such alien arrived for a violation of the immigration laws, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the deportation of such master, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the prosecution of the owner of the vessel on which such alien arrived for a violation of the immigration laws, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the deportation of such owner, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the prosecution of the agent of the vessel on which such alien arrived for a violation of the immigration laws, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the deportation of such agent, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the prosecution of the consignee of the vessel on which such alien arrived for a violation of the immigration laws, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the deportation of such consignee, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the prosecution of the charterer of the vessel on which such alien arrived for a violation of the immigration laws, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the deportation of such charterer, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the prosecution of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel which has been allowed to depart from the United States to a foreign country without the payment of the head tax provided for by section 2 of the Act of March 3, 1903, as amended, or the payment of the tax provided for by section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended, or the payment of the tax provided for by section 1 of the Act of May 26, 1924, as amended, or the deportation of such alien, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the prosecution of the master of the vessel on which such alien arrived for a violation of the provisions of section 8 of the Act of March 3, 1903, as amended, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the deportation of such master, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the prosecution of the owner of the vessel on which such alien arrived for a violation of the provisions of section 8 of the Act of March 3, 1903, as amended, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the deportation of such owner, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the prosecution of the agent of the vessel on which such alien arrived for a violation of the provisions of section 8 of the Act of March 3, 1903, as amended, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the deportation of such agent, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the prosecution of the consignee of the vessel on which such alien arrived for a violation of the provisions of section 8 of the Act of March 3, 1903, as amended, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the deportation of such consignee, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the prosecution of the charterer of the vessel on which such alien arrived for a violation of the provisions of section 8 of the Act of March 3, 1903, as amended, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the deportation of such charterer, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the prosecution of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel which has been allowed to depart from the United States to a foreign country without the payment of the tax provided for by section 1 of the Act of May 26, 1924, as amended, or the deportation of such alien, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the prosecution of the master of the vessel on which such alien arrived for a violation of the provisions of section 1 of the Act of May 26, 1924, as amended, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the deportation of such master, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the prosecution of the owner of the vessel on which such alien arrived for a violation of the provisions of section 1 of the Act of May 26, 1924, as amended, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the deportation of such owner, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the prosecution of the agent of the vessel on which such alien arrived for a violation of the provisions of section 1 of the Act of May 26, 1924, as amended, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the deportation of such agent, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the prosecution of the consignee of the vessel on which such alien arrived for a violation of the provisions of section 1 of the Act of May 26, 1924, as amended, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the deportation of such consignee, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the prosecution of the charterer of the vessel on which such alien arrived for a violation of the provisions of section 1 of the Act of May 26, 1924, as amended, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the deportation of such charterer, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the prosecution of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel which has been allowed to depart from the United States to a foreign country without the payment of the tax provided for by section 2 of the Act of March 4, 1907, as amended, or the deportation of such alien, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the prosecution of the master of the vessel on which such alien arrived for a violation of the provisions of section 2 of the Act of March 4, 1907, as amended, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the deportation of such master, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the prosecution of the owner of the vessel on which such alien arrived for a violation of the provisions of section 2 of the Act of March 4, 1907, as amended, or because of the necessity for his ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospital to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deport on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical officer), or who fails to deport any such seaman if ordered by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than

The section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising independent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the immigration officer of the Attorney General.

From any force outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after treatment by the immigration officer of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164-165; 24 Stat. 418; 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), 161 (c).)

SEC. 21. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be required to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States, every alien seaman employed on such vessel duly vised immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), unless such seaman is in possession of and presents a valid passport and such immigration officer is satisfied that such alien is not inadmissible to the United States under any of the provisions of this Act, or unless the Attorney General is satisfied that such alien is not inadmissible to the United States under any of the provisions of this Act, or unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall deposit with the Attorney General, before the departure of such vessel from the port of arrival, a bond approved by the Attorney General in such amount, not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, as the Attorney General may require, conditioned for the payment of a sum not to exceed the maximum amount of the head tax and the expenses which may be incurred in the maintenance and safekeeping of such alien seaman during a period not exceeding five days, and conditioned for the payment of the cost of the return of such alien seaman to the country whence he came or to the country in which he shipped: Provided, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, refund any such bond or portion thereof upon the deposit in lieu thereof of such other security or upon the cancelation of such bond or portion thereof, as he may deem proper, if such alien seaman shall have been granted a visa by an American consular officer and has been admitted to the United States, or shall have been regularly discharged from such vessel in a foreign port, or shall have remained in the United States for a period in excess of that for which the bond was required, or shall have been required by competent authority to depart from the United States, or shall have died, or upon the production of such other evidence as may be satisfactory to the Attorney General that the bond should be cancelled or reduced: Provided further, That clearance may be granted to any vessel notwithstanding the refusal of any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof to pay any fine imposed upon him under this section, if a sufficient sum of money is deposited to pay such fine, and such vessel may depart notwithstanding the detention of any alien seaman pending the decision upon the question of remission of such fine: Provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the expiration of the period of detention hereinbefore required in the case of any vessel which shall depart from a foreign port for the United States if the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof shall have given a bond with sufficient surety, approved by the collector of customs, conditioned for the production of such alien seaman for medical examination at the port of arrival within such period of detention: And provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the payment of the head tax or the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, or of a bond with sufficient surety approved by the collector of customs. I have noted the copy of section 30 of the Act of February 3, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this TWENTY FOURTH day of MARCH, 19 52

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below must be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I-418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 30. That upon arrival in the United States from any foreign port or place if alien of the crew, except conscripts, or seamen rightly entitled to shore leave as the bona fide members of the crew of a vessel regularly and duly engaged in the business of a common carrier, who have been duly admitted to the United States by an immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival after such examination and physical inspection as the immigration officers may deem sufficient to determine admissibility to the United States under the provisions of this Act, and who have been certified by such officers to the master or commanding officer of the vessel as not coming within the classes excluded by law, and who have been granted shore leave by the master or commanding officer of the vessel, such alien seamen may be permitted to enter the United States solely for the purpose of performing their duties as members of the crew of said vessel and may be required to depart with the vessel upon which they arrived or upon any other vessel on which they may be transferred, or upon the vessel on which they may next depart from the United States, and the cost of their maintenance while in the United States may be required by the master or commanding officer of the vessel upon which they arrived: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the application of this section to seamen employed on vessels touching only at ports in the Canal Zone, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands, or at ports on the Great Lakes: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the application of this section to seamen employed on vessels touching at ports on the borders of the United States and foreign contiguous ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 183.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, and bringing any alien seaman (whether employed in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical officers.), or to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival [here insert such seaman] shall report such seaman if required by such immigration officer to the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens unspecified to June 2, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign port or place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

DELIVERY BY THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, ... of the ....., do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 3, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 21 and 35, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this ..... day of ....., 19..

.....
Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below must be prepared on blank forms supplied by the Department and be ready for delivery at the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and all in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens mentioned in section 36 of the Act of February 3, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 21 and 35, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

"Whoever, in violation of any provision of this Act or of any rule or regulation made in pursuance thereof, shall knowingly bring into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigrant inspector or not lawfully entitled to enter or land in the United States, or shall knowingly aid or abet any alien to enter or land in the United States in violation of law, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, for each and every such alien so brought in, or aided or abetted in coming in, and the vessel on board of which such alien shall have been brought to the United States by the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee thereof shall be liable to a like penalty: Provided, That no vessel shall be cleared while any such fine is unpaid or while any such alien is detained for the payment thereof, or for the hospital dues, if any, or for the expenses of such alien, or for the return of such alien, as provided in this Act, unless a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, to the satisfaction of the collector of customs, shall be given by the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel, in a penal sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien so detained, conditioned for the payment of such fine, hospital dues, and expenses, or for the return of such alien: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, in which shall be stated the facts in the case, remit such fine, or any part thereof, upon the payment of the costs and such sum as he may deem reasonable for the detention, maintenance, and return of such alien, or any part thereof, and may, upon the payment of such costs and such sum as he may deem reasonable for the detention, maintenance, and return of such alien, or any part thereof, cancel any such bond, or any part thereof, and may direct the prosecution thereof to be discontinued, upon such terms as he may deem just: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, upon like application in writing therefor, in which shall be stated the facts in the case, remit such fine, or any part thereof, and may cancel any such bond, or any part thereof, and may direct the prosecution thereof to be discontinued, upon such terms as he may deem just, if he shall be satisfied that such fine, or any part thereof, was imposed without willful negligence on the part of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel, and that such vessel was not concerned in any violation of this Act intentionally or with knowledge thereof, and that the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel has used due diligence to prevent the violation of this Act: Provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–892; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.13. Duty of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master has delivered to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure a list or manifest of all aliens employed on board the vessel, showing the name, nationality, last permanent residence, calling, and intended final destination of each alien employed, and the date, place, and manner of his last entry into the United States, if known, and whether he has been in the United States before, and if so, when and where he has resided and what occupation he has followed while in the United States, and whether he has been in the United States as a member of the crew of a vessel or otherwise, and whether he intends to return to the United States, and whether he has been in prison or in almshouse or supported by charity, and whether he is a polygamist, and whether he has a ticket or money with which to pay his passage to his ultimate destination, and whether he has been assisted by any society or person in obtaining employment, and whether he has been employed by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel, and whether he has been employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States during the past year, and if so, what vessel, and the position he occupied thereon, and whether he has been employed on board any vessel which has been libeled for wages during the past year, and if so, what vessel, and the result of such libel proceedings, and whether he has been employed on board any vessel which has been proceeded against by the United States for violation of the immigration laws during the past year, and if so, what vessel, and the result of such proceedings. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the immigration act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 898; U. S. C., Title 8, § 171), and such other lists or manifests as may be required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure, have been delivered to the master, and the master has certified to the truth of the lists or manifests by his oath administered by the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure, and the master has delivered to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure a certificate from the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival showing the number of aliens employed on board the vessel at the time of her departure from the United States, and the name of each alien so employed who has been left behind, and the reason for each alien being left behind, and the number of aliens, if any, who have been shipped or engaged to be employed on board the vessel at the time of her departure, and also the names of those. If true, duly sworn proof must be filed with the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure that each alien employed on board the vessel at the time of her departure from the United States, and not reported by the master as left behind, has actually departed from the United States on board the vessel on which he was employed at the time of her departure, or on some other vessel, or has died, or has been taken into custody by the United States authorities, or has been otherwise lawfully removed from the vessel, or has been granted permission to land temporarily or permanently by the Secretary of Labor, or has been granted by the Secretary of Labor permission to depart to Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, or adjacent islands, and has actually departed to one of such countries, and has not returned to the United States. (39 Stat. 898–902; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 21. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws of 1917 by reason of his physical condition, except those suffering with tuberculosis in any form or with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, and no alien seaman who is certified by the examining surgeon at the port of arrival as likely to become a public charge, except those coming to the United States from countries in the Western Hemisphere, shall be permitted to land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, but may be required to remain on board or be detained at quarantine or other station designated by the immigration officials pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor in his case. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 35. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing in the United States from any place outside thereof (other than one which plies regularly between ports in the United States and ports in contiguous territory) any alien seaman who has been refused a landing certificate or permit by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who fails to depart on board the vessel or other vessel owned by the same interests, or to secure the issuance of a landing certificate or permit within the time allowed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who secures the issuance of a landing certificate or permit by fraud, misrepresentation, or the concealment of a material fact, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be cleared pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, in which shall be stated the facts in the case, remit such fine, or any part thereof, and may cancel any such bond, or any part thereof, and may direct the prosecution thereof to be discontinued, upon such terms as he may deem just, if he shall be satisfied that such fine, or any part thereof, was imposed without willful negligence on the part of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel, and that such vessel was not concerned in any violation of this Act intentionally or with knowledge thereof, and that the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel has used due diligence to prevent the violation of this Act. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(b) Every alien seaman, including masters of vessels, employed on any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be examined by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and no such alien seaman shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (other than one which plies regularly between ports in the United States and ports in contiguous territory) shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(b) Every alien seaman, including masters of vessels, employed on any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be examined by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and no such alien seaman shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any person in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of entry of such vessel and manifest any alien on board who is seeking admission to the United States, and it shall be the duty of the master or commanding officer, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to detain such alien on board the vessel at such port of entry until a physical and mental examination of such alien has been made by the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service, unless such alien shall be certified by the examining surgeon at the place of embarkation or at the port of entry as a member of the crew or a cabin passenger who is not seeking admission to the United States, and it shall be unlawful for the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to bring to the United States any alien who is not certified by the examining surgeon at the place of embarkation or at the port of entry as a member of the crew or a cabin passenger who is not seeking admission to the United States, except upon the written permit of the Secretary of Labor, under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, and it shall be unlawful for any such master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to refuse to receive any such alien back on board such vessel or to transfer him to any other vessel or place, except in pursuance of the written permit of the Secretary of Labor, or to detain him on board or elsewhere after notice that the Secretary of Labor has given permission for his landing, under a penalty of $300 for each violation: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the application of this section to masters of vessels who have been in the service of bringing aliens to the United States for a period of one year or more and who have on previous occasions been granted such waivers: Provided further, That nothing contained in this section shall be construed to require the detention of aliens entitled to enter the United States solely because of a physical examination at the port of entry, but such aliens may be detained for further examination and certification in accordance with any rules and regulations made by the Secretary of Labor: Provided further, That the decision of the boards of special inquiry shall be subject to appeal to the Secretary of Labor, whose action shall be final as to the admissibility of any alien: Provided further, That pending such appeal, the alien shall be detained in the custody of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on board the vessel or at such other place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge of the port, and shall not be landed in the United States except temporarily as a matter of necessity under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the application of this section to masters of vessels who have been in the service of bringing aliens to the United States for a period of one year or more and who have on previous occasions been granted such waivers: Provided further, That any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse to obey the orders or instructions of the immigration officer in charge of the port of entry of such vessel with respect to the detention and removal of any alien who shall have been certified by the examining surgeon at the place of embarkation or at the port of entry as a member of the crew or a cabin passenger who is not seeking admission to the United States, or who shall fail to detain any such alien on board the vessel or at such other place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge of the port of entry, or who shall fail to report and deliver on demand to any such immigration officer any such alien who may have been temporarily landed from such vessel, shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien in respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof to an amount not less than $300 for each alien in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The action, as amended, shall apply to all pending matters arising subsequent to June 2, 1910.

(d) Every alien or alleged alien arriving at a seaport who may not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or who may be reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a similar effect to detain or deport alien temporarily by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien arriving on the vessel on which he arrived below would cause undue hardship to the master of such vessel, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be detained at such port for more than ten days after the master thereof has been notified that the alien will be deported, unless such alien shall in the meantime be admitted to the United States or otherwise legally disposed of to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or duplicate of the list shall be delivered by the master or agent to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival in person, if practicable, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port, who is hereby authorized to administer oaths for the purpose of this section. Any master or agent who refuses to deliver the list required by this section, or who fails to deliver it before the vessel departs from the port of arrival, shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each offense. (Form I–418) Any master or agent who knowingly and willfully delivers a false list or manifest, or who knowingly and willfully refuses to answer truthfully questions propounded to him by the immigrant inspector, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each offense. (8 U. S. C. 180.)

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens embarked on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who are in the United States at the time of arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival; of alien members of the crew who have been discovered, all cases in which such information likely to lead to its misrepresentation; and all aliens landed from the vessel, giving a description of each alien, together with such information likely to lead to its misrepresentation; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, as above specified, all cases in which such information was not previously reported; and no such vessel shall depart from any port of the United States for any foreign port without the permission of such immigration officer, or his authorized representative, first obtained. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the requirements of this section, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully questions propounded to him by the immigrant inspector, shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above provided, and in the event such fine is imposed, shall be remitted: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (8 Stat. 808–808; 8 U. S. C. 179.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine requirements, or unless specifically certified by the Attorney General to the Secretary of Labor as entitled to be admitted to the United States for permanent residence, or to be readmitted to the United States after a temporary absence, or as a bona fide visitor for pleasure, or as a bona fide student, or as a temporary worker of distinguished merit and ability coming to perform temporary services of an exceptional character, or as a member of the crew of a vessel arriving at a port of the United States, or unless he is in possession of a valid immigration visa and is otherwise admissible under the immigration laws. Any alien seaman who lands in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported to the country whence he came to the United States, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws, unless the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which he arrived shall deposit with the Secretary of Labor a sum sufficient to pay the cost of his maintenance and deportation, which sum shall be refunded upon the departure of the alien seaman

Required under Act of Congress of February 5, 1917, to be delivered to the United States immigration officer by the representative of the vessel before leaving each alien on board upon arrival in a port of the United States

(Include names of wives and children of aliens in order to facilitate inspection of aliens)

Vessel S.S. ELLE sailing from port of ANACONDA, MONT. arriving at GREAT FALLS, MONT. MARCH 25, 1923

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below was prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of charges of alien members of the crew may be delivered to the master of the vessel at the principal immigration office in charge of the port of arrival instead of to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel, but shall be delivered by the master to the inspector before the vessel leaves the port. When an alien crewman is to be allowed to land temporarily by the master of the vessel, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alien members of crew as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens comprising the entire complement of the crew, and of all persons, other than bona fide members of the crew, who may be coming to the United States from any foreign port or place, which lists shall be prepared on the prescribed forms, and shall be subscribed and sworn to before the immigration officer at the port of arrival by the master of the vessel, or by the first officer, surgeon, or purser thereof, if the master be incapacitated from performing the duty, and shall contain such information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, under the direction of the Secretary of Labor, as to each alien listed therein, and such other information as may be required by the said Commissioner General of Immigration, under the direction of the Secretary of Labor, as to the right of any alien to enter the United States, and such further information as may be required by the said Commissioner General of Immigration, under the direction of the Secretary of Labor, as to the health, nationality, and identity of any alien seeking admission to the United States: Provided, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel failing to deliver such lists, or to deliver the same within the time prescribed by this section, or refusing to subscribe to the oath required by this section, or knowingly or willfully making false statements in such lists as to the right of any alien to enter the United States, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court: Provided further, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing an alien who is afflicted with any contagious disease, or who has been detained on account of such disease in the country from which the vessel sailed, shall report the fact and the name of such alien to the United States immigration officer at the port of arrival before the passengers are landed, and in default thereof shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court: Provided further, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien who has been refused a visa by the consular officer because such alien is afflicted with any contagious disease, or who has been detained on account of such disease in the country from which the vessel sailed, shall report the fact and the name of such alien to the United States immigration officer at the port of arrival before the passengers are landed, and in default thereof shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court: Provided further, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien who has been refused a visa by the consular officer because such alien is afflicted with any contagious disease, or who has been detained on account of such disease in the country from which the vessel sailed, shall report the fact and the name of such alien to the United States immigration officer at the port of arrival before the passengers are landed, and in default thereof shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court: Provided further, That it shall be the duty of the master of any vessel bringing aliens who are required to be detained for special inquiry at the port of arrival to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port a list containing the names of all aliens on board the vessel, and the immigration officer shall have the right to go on board the vessel and to detain such aliens on board or at quarantine pending the completion of the special inquiry: Provided further, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing aliens who are required to be detained for special inquiry at the port of arrival shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port a list containing the names of all aliens on board the vessel, and the immigration officer shall have the right to go on board the vessel and to detain such aliens on board or at quarantine pending the completion of the special inquiry: Provided further, That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port a list containing the names of all aliens on board the vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, where born, where they were respectively examined, by whom examined, and such other facts concerning them as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, under the direction of the Secretary of Labor, as to the right of any alien to enter the United States, and such further information as may be required by the said Commissioner General of Immigration, under the direction of the Secretary of Labor, as to the health, nationality, and identity of any alien seeking admission to the United States: Provided further, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel failing to deliver such lists, or to deliver the same within the time prescribed by this section, or refusing to subscribe to the oath required by this section, or knowingly or willfully making false statements in such lists as to the right of any alien to enter the United States, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector (Form I–418) shall not be detached on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien member of the crew is discharged, the master is required to report to the immigration officer at the port of arrival the name of the vessel on which the alien arrived, the name of the alien, the date of the vessel's departure, and the destination of the alien. In case of the desertion of an alien member, the master is required to report to the immigration officer, in addition to the above information, the last vessel on which the alien was employed, and the date of desertion. Failure to report the desertion of an alien member will subject the master to the penalty provided by section 8 of the Act of February 18, 1903, as amended by section 1 of the Act of February 5, 1917 (U. S. C., Supp. VII, title 8, sec. 144).

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port to which it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, master, or person in charge of the port of arrival [who] shall be required to deliver to the immigration officer at such port a complete list of all aliens employed on board such vessel, showing the full name, age, calling or occupation, last permanent residence, final destination, whether married or single, whether in possession of a ticket through to destination, whether the passage is paid by himself or by other persons or by the government, whether in possession of money, and if so how much, whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends, whether ever before in the United States, if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, the condition of health, mental and physical, of each alien, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, touching the right of any alien to enter the United States, which list shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer of such vessel, administered by any immigrant inspector, or by any consular officer of the United States, which oath such officers are hereby authorized to administer. Any master who shall refuse to deliver such list, or who shall deliver a list which is incorrect or incomplete in the opinion of the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master who shall refuse to deliver such list, or who shall deliver a list which is incorrect or incomplete in the opinion of the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, shall pay to the collector of customs the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or to the use of the United States from any moneys due such master, and no clearance shall be granted such vessel from any port of the United States while such master remains in default in the payment of such sum. Such sum shall be a lien upon such vessel, and may be recovered by proceedings in rem in the district court of the United States for the district in which such vessel may arrive. Such clearance when granted shall be conclusive evidence that the provisions of this section have been complied with as to the vessel granted clearance, but the failure to obtain clearance shall not affect the liability of the master to pay the sum herein imposed: Provided, That clearance may be granted to vessels without the payment of the sum herein imposed, while it remains pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor as to the question of the liability of the master to pay the same, and in the event such sum is finally remitted or refunded it shall be paid out of appropriations for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

SEC. 37. (a) That the master, commander, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of any vessel arriving at any port of the United States from any foreign port shall, before any alien, other than a seaman, employed on board such vessel shall land at such port, deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at such port a list containing the name of every such alien, his age, sex, calling, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination, whether he has a ticket through to such destination, whether he has been assisted in coming, whether he has the price of his passage in money, and how much, whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends, and their names and complete addresses, whether in the United States or not, whether he has been in the United States before, and if so when, where, and how long ago, whether he is coming in pursuance of a previous promise or agreement to labor for any person or firm in the United States, his occupation, whether skilled or unskilled, and whether able to read or write, his height and complexion, the color of his hair and eyes, the name and complete address of the nearest relative or friend he is leaving behind him in the country whence he comes, whether he has ever been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether under a contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, his ultimate destination, whether he has been deported, and if so how many times and the cause thereof, whether he has a passport, and if so by what country, when, and where issued, and such other information relative to each alien as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the purpose of properly enforcing the provisions of this Act relating to the exclusion and deportation of aliens. The master, commander, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of any vessel bringing any alien to the United States who refuses or neglects to furnish the information required by this section, or who furnishes information which is false, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master who shall refuse to deliver such list, or who shall deliver a list which is incorrect or incomplete in the opinion of the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, shall pay to the collector of customs the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or to the use of the United States from any moneys due such master, and no clearance shall be granted such vessel from any port of the United States while such master remains in default in the payment of such sum. Such sum shall be a lien upon such vessel, and may be recovered by proceedings in rem in the district court of the United States for the district in which such vessel may arrive. Such clearance when granted shall be conclusive evidence that the provisions of this section have been complied with as to the vessel granted clearance, but the failure to obtain clearance shall not affect the liability of the master to pay the sum herein imposed, while it remains pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor as to the question of the liability of the master to pay the same, and in the event such sum is finally remitted or refunded it shall be paid out of appropriations for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

(b) That the master, commander, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of any vessel bringing any alien to the United States from any foreign port shall, before any alien, other than a seaman, employed on board such vessel shall land at such port, deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at such port a list containing the name of every such alien, his age, sex, calling, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination, whether he has a ticket through to such destination, whether he has been assisted in coming, whether he has the price of his passage in money, and how much, whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends, and their names and complete addresses, whether in the United States or not, whether he has been in the United States before, and if so when, where, and how long ago, whether he is coming in pursuance of a previous promise or agreement to labor for any person or firm in the United States, his occupation, whether skilled or unskilled, and whether able to read or write, his height and complexion, the color of his hair and eyes, the name and complete address of the nearest relative or friend he is leaving behind him in the country whence he comes, whether he has ever been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, his ultimate destination, whether he has been deported, and if so how many times and the cause thereof, whether he has a passport, and if so by what country, when, and where issued, and such other information relative to each alien as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the purpose of properly enforcing the provisions of this Act relating to the exclusion and deportation of aliens. The master, commander, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of any vessel bringing any alien to the United States who refuses or neglects to furnish the information required by this section, or who furnishes information which is false, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master who shall refuse to deliver such list, or who shall deliver a list which is incorrect or incomplete in the opinion of the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, shall pay to the collector of customs the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or to the use of the United States from any moneys due such master, and no clearance shall be granted such vessel from any port of the United States while such master remains in default in the payment of such sum. Such sum shall be a lien upon such vessel, and may be recovered by proceedings in rem in the district court of the United States for the district in which such vessel may arrive. Such clearance when granted shall be conclusive evidence that the provisions of this section have been complied with as to the vessel granted clearance, but the failure to obtain clearance shall not affect the liability of the master to pay the sum herein imposed, while it remains pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor as to the question of the liability of the master to pay the same, and in the event such sum is finally remitted or refunded it shall be paid out of appropriations for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

SEC. 38. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel duly signed articles of employment, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat., 164, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 39. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel duly signed articles of employment, or deportation of such alien seaman (after inspection by all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical officer), or who fails to deliver such seaman on board such vessel upon inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the United States Commissioner of Immigration, or any person in charge of any such vessel who refuses to receive such seaman on board such vessel, unless such seaman has deserted, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such default occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such [alien occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising subsequent to June 5, 1920.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from the port where such vessel cleared, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver to deport such alien seaman.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be cleared clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (a) That the master, commander, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of any vessel bringing any alien to the United States from any foreign port shall, before any alien, other than a seaman, employed on board such vessel shall land at such port, deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at such port a list containing the name of every such alien, his age, sex, calling, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination, whether he has a ticket through to such destination, whether he has been assisted in coming, whether he has the price of his passage in money, and how much, whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends, and their names and complete addresses, whether in the United States or not, whether he has been in the United States before, and if so when, where, and how long ago, whether he is coming in pursuance of a previous promise or agreement to labor for any person or firm in the United States, his occupation, whether skilled or unskilled, and whether able to read or write, his height and complexion, the color of his hair and eyes, the name and complete address of the nearest relative or friend he is leaving behind him in the country whence he comes, whether he has ever been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, his ultimate destination, whether he has been deported, and if so how many times and the cause thereof, whether he has a passport, and if so by what country, when, and where issued, and such other information relative to each alien as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the purpose of properly enforcing the provisions of this Act relating to the exclusion and deportation of aliens. The master, commander, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of any vessel bringing any alien to the United States who refuses or neglects to furnish the information required by this section, or who furnishes information which is false, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master who shall refuse to deliver such list, or who shall deliver a list which is incorrect or incomplete in the opinion of the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, shall pay to the collector of customs the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or to the use of the United States from any moneys due such master, and no clearance shall be granted such vessel from any port of the United States while such master remains in default in the payment of such sum. Such sum shall be a lien upon such vessel, and may be recovered by proceedings in rem in the district court of the United States for the district in which such vessel may arrive. Such clearance when granted shall be conclusive evidence that the provisions of this section have been complied with as to the vessel granted clearance, but the failure to obtain clearance shall not affect the liability of the master to pay the sum herein imposed, while it remains pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor as to the question of the liability of the master to pay the same, and in the event such sum is finally remitted or refunded it shall be paid out of appropriations for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

(b) That the master, commander, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of any vessel bringing any alien to the United States from any foreign port shall, before any alien, other than a seaman, employed on board such vessel shall land at such port, deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at such port a list containing the name of every such alien, his age, sex, calling, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination, whether he has a ticket through to such destination, whether he has been assisted in coming, whether he has the price of his passage in money, and how much, whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends, and their names and complete addresses, whether in the United States or not, whether he has been in the United States before, and if so when, where, and how long ago, whether he is coming in pursuance of a previous promise or agreement to labor for any person or firm in the United States, his occupation, whether skilled or unskilled, and whether able to read or write, his height and complexion, the color of his hair and eyes, the name and complete address of the nearest relative or friend he is leaving behind him in the country whence he comes, whether he has ever been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, his ultimate destination, whether he has been deported, and if so how many times and the cause thereof, whether he has a passport, and if so by what country, when, and where issued, and such other information relative to each alien as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the purpose of properly enforcing the provisions of this Act relating to the exclusion and deportation of aliens. The master, commander, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of any vessel bringing any alien to the United States who refuses or neglects to furnish the information required by this section, or who furnishes information which is false, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master who shall refuse to deliver such list, or who shall deliver a list which is incorrect or incomplete in the opinion of the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, shall pay to the collector of customs the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or to the use of the United States from any moneys due such master, and no clearance shall be granted such vessel from any port of the United States while such master remains in default in the payment of such sum. Such sum shall be a lien upon such vessel, and may be recovered by proceedings in rem in the district court of the United States for the district in which such vessel may arrive. Such clearance when granted shall be conclusive evidence that the provisions of this section have been complied with as to the vessel granted clearance, but the failure to obtain clearance shall not affect the liability of the master to pay the sum herein imposed, while it remains pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor as to the question of the liability of the master to pay the same, and in the event such sum is finally remitted or refunded it shall be paid out of appropriations for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

SEC. 38. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board any alien seaman employed on board such vessel duly signed articles of employment, or deportation of such alien seaman (after inspection by all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical officer), or who fails to deliver such seaman on board such vessel upon inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the United States Commissioner of Immigration, or any person in charge of any such vessel who refuses to receive such seaman on board such vessel, unless such seaman has deserted, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such default occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such [alien occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising subsequent to June 5, 1920.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from the port where such vessel cleared, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver to deport such alien seaman.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be cleared clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel as the boat is arriving, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I–418) shall not be inspected on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the birthday immigration officer at the port. When an arriving vessel is arriving at a foreign port for the purpose of taking on board additional alien members of the crew, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, another duly authorized immigration officer at the port of arrival, immediately upon the arrival of such vessel, to report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the name of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the ports at which they respectively expect to be discharged; and it shall be the duty of such master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the name of each alien employee who may desire to leave the vessel at such port, and to report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure the name of each alien employee who may desire to leave the vessel at any port during the time such vessel may remain in the United States, and to report the name of each alien employee who may be discharged or who may desert or die during such time, and the cause of such discharge, desertion, or death: and before the departure of any such vessel from any port the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall report to the immigration officer in charge at such port the name of each alien employee who may then be on board such vessel, and shall furnish such information as may be required by such immigration officer with respect to such alien employee who may desire to leave the vessel at such port, or who may be discharged, deserted, left behind, or died since the last report was rendered. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to furnish such information or to make such reports, or who shall refuse to permit any immigration officer to board such vessel for the purpose of obtaining such information, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each and every such refusal or neglect, and shall be imprisoned for a term not exceeding one year. For the purpose of obtaining the information required in this section, immigration officers shall have power to go on board any vessel at any time while in port, and to remain on board while such vessel remains in port, and shall have access to all parts of such vessel and to the passengers and crew thereof.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or departing from the United States (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board such vessel, at the time of departure from the United States, a sufficient number of certificates in the form and manner prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, pursuant to section 23 of the immigration act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), or who fails to deliver on board such vessel at the port of arrival the certificates issued in all cases where such vessel is required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be cleared clearance bearing the endorsement of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof, or remit the same upon such terms as he may deem just. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 168.)

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States (now via Attorney General in the detention shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens irrespective of the date of their entry into the United States.

(c) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any seaman who establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he was prevented from leaving the United States by reason of illness, quarantine, or other cause beyond his control, or that he was temporarily detained in the United States for the purpose of giving testimony in any case arising under the immigration laws, or that he was otherwise compelled to land in the United States in order to secure the safety of himself or the vessel upon which he arrived, and that such vessel has not yet departed from the United States without the payment of the fine or penalty imposed on account of the failure of such seaman to depart. (43 Stat. 164–165, 53 Stat. 1187; 8 U. S. C. 168 (a), 168 (c).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew (Form I—418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. Where an alternate address is a "motorway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate aliens seamen as well as others.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members of the crew employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, their nationality, the country to which they severally belong, and the port in the United States at which they severally intend to land, and the intended address in the United States of each alien member of the crew who intends to land, which lists shall be verified by the oath of the master and commanding officer thereof, taken before the officer delivering the same, in such form as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and such additional information relative to such alien members of the crew as the Commissioner General of Immigration shall from time to time require. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or to make due oath thereto, or to furnish such additional information, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port is situated where such vessel shall first arrive the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or to which such additional information is not furnished, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the production of the certificate of the collector of customs that the provisions of this section have been complied with, and such certificate shall be delivered to the master of such vessel upon the payment of the said sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or to which such additional information is not furnished: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 886–888; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for the medical treatment, or humane or burial purposes as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alcoholic quarantine, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (except from any place in the British possessions in North America and Mexico) who knowingly and willfully shall bring to the United States on such vessel, and cause to be landed at any port, any alien seaman not lawfully entitled to be admitted and landed under the provisions of this Act, or any rule or regulation made pursuant thereto, shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman so landed, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or in the case of a mitigation of such sum, in such amount as may be approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such payment to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The decision as rendered, shall be subject to all penalties stated independent of June 2, 1924.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the vessel on which he arrived or upon some other vessel within such time as the Attorney General may by regulations prescribe, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart upon such vessel as a passenger, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman upon the vessel on which he arrived or upon the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of a change in the nature of the vessel or its employment subsequent to the date of arrival of the Attorney General, and upon such terms as he may prescribe, clearance may be granted such vessel prior to the deportation of such alien seaman. (43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 188 (a), 188 (c).)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, assistant master, engineer, or person in charge of the part of the vessel in which the immigrants are quartered, and of the physician who has been assigned to the vessel by the United States Public Health Service, to report to the proper immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival the number of all aliens on board, and such information as to the sanitary condition of the vessel as the Secretary of Labor may require; and it shall be the duty of the master, assistant master, engineer, or person in charge of the part of the vessel in which the immigrants are quartered, and of the physician who has been assigned to the vessel by the United States Public Health Service, to report to the proper immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival the name of each alien on board, the last permanent residence, the nationality, and the final destination of each such alien, and such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor concerning the same, before the debarkation of any such alien; and it shall be the duty of the master, assistant master, engineer, or person in charge of the vessel to deliver to the immigration officer at the time of the arrival the certificate of the number of aliens employed on board the vessel, and to report the name of each alien employed who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure of the vessel, and also the names of those if any, who have been employed for the vessel, giving a description of each alien, following such information likely to lead to the identification; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of the master, assistant master, engineer, or person in charge of the vessel to deliver to the immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those if any, who have been employed for the vessel, giving a description of each such alien, following such information likely to lead to the identification; and those if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such master, assistant master, engineer, or person in charge of the vessel to deliver either of the said lists of aliens such master, assistant master, engineer, or person in charge of the vessel shall be punished by a fine of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a true report is not made as above required, and in the event such alien is not thereafter produced, a further sum of $10 for each such alien, unless it be proved by the master, assistant master, engineer, or person in charge of the vessel that such alien was specially inspected by the officers of the United States Government before the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port at which she touched, and that such alien was duly certified by such officers to be in all respects entitled to admission to the United States, or that such alien was a member of the crew employed on such vessel, and intends to depart from the United States in the vessel on which he arrived, or in some other vessel which at the time of the departure of such alien is about to depart from the United States, and that such alien intends to depart in such vessel or other vessel, and has been allowed by the immigration officer in charge of the port to land temporarily for the purpose of obtaining supplies for such vessel, and will be detained by the master or owner of such vessel while on shore and will depart in such vessel: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may prescribe rules and regulations governing the admission of aliens employed on such vessel, and providing for the payment of reasonable fees for services rendered by officers in connection therewith, and for the cancelation of any certificates issued under the provisions of this section: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section requiring the physical examination of aliens employed on such vessel, whether the services of such aliens are connected with the operation of the vessel or with the safety or comfort of her passengers, or any of them, when in his judgment the services of such aliens can be dispensed with without danger to the vessel or to the passengers or crew thereof: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section requiring the physical examination of aliens employed on such vessel, whether the services of such aliens are connected with the operation of the vessel or with the safety or comfort of her passengers, or any of them, when in his judgment the services of such aliens can be dispensed with without danger to the vessel or to the passengers or crew thereof, and may substitute therefor a certificate from the master of the vessel that such aliens have been personally examined by him and found to be free from mental and physical defects of the character which would be ground for their exclusion from admission to the United States under the provisions of this Act: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may prescribe rules governing the admission of aliens employed on such vessel, whether or not

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from a foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the territory now or formerly under the jurisdiction of the United States, other than a vessel duly documented under the laws of the United States, shall employ on board such vessel during the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (hereinafter in this section called the "immigration officer") a sufficient number of persons (which immigration officer may require to be) skilled in the medical examination of aliens, as determined by the medical officer of the United States Public Health Service at the port of arrival, to assist the immigration officer in the examination of such aliens. Such persons shall be employed for such time as the immigration officer may require, not exceeding forty-eight hours, unless the Attorney General, in his discretion, authorizes a longer period. Such persons shall be subject to the approval of the immigration officer and the medical officer of the United States Public Health Service at the port of arrival, and may be removed for cause by either of such officers. Such persons shall perform such duties relating to the boarding and examination of such vessel and the aliens thereon as the immigration officer may require. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing from the master or agent of any vessel, detail an additional number of such persons as may be requested in such application, if in his judgment such additional number is necessary to avoid undue delay. Such persons shall be detailed for duty in such manner as the immigration officer may direct. Every master, agent, consignee, owner, or charterer of any vessel who shall fail to employ sufficient persons as required by this section, or who shall refuse to detail any person so employed for such duty, or who shall refuse to pay any person so employed the compensation due him for such employment, shall pay to the United States the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom there occurs any omission relating to which there is any such failure or refusal, and such sum shall be a lien upon the vessel, to be recovered by suit or proceeding against the master, agent, consignee, owner, or charterer of such vessel. Until the payment of such sum, with interest and costs, the vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for any district within which the vessel may be found. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel failing to comply with the requirements of this section.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on some other vessel in possession of the same owners, within the period for which he was permitted to land temporarily in the United States, or who shall depart from the United States without the consent of the Attorney General, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act. Any such alien seaman who shall not be deported shall be required to depart from such port or place as the Attorney General may direct and to report to the immigration officer at such port or place from time to time until he shall have departed from the United States. Compliance with such requirements may be enforced by withholding clearance papers from the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived or on which he may be required to depart, or on any vessel in possession of the same owners, or by such other means as may be deemed advisable by the Attorney General. Any such alien seaman who fails to depart from the United States or to report as required by the immigration officer or the Attorney General shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that a master has failed to comply with any of the requirements of this section, such master, unless excused or pardoned therefor by the Attorney General, shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such refusal as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper, the vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port of arrival is located and the sum so withheld by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than the penalty provided for the violation of the provisions of this section, as he may deem proper.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States in the direction shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all seamen, shall not be construed to repeal, alter, or affect the provisions of section 2 of the Act of June 5, 1920.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that adequate guaranties have been given that any alien seaman on which he arrived will depart from the United States in accordance with the provisions of this section, he may issue a certificate to that effect, and such alien seaman may be permitted to land temporarily in the United States without the payment of the tax imposed by section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and without being subject to the provisions of section 3 of the Act of May 26, 1924, relating to the immigration of aliens temporarily admitted to the United States.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members of the crew, stating the positions they respectively hold in the alien's company, when and where they were respectively naturalized or admitted to citizenship, and the names of all alien members of the crew who have been left behind on account of illness or injury or for any other reason, at the last foreign port or place from which the vessel sailed, and the intended future port or ports of such alien members of the crew, so far as known. Such lists shall be prepared at such time before the departure of the vessel from such foreign port or place as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and a true copy thereof shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival at the time of the arrival of the vessel at such port. Any master who shall refuse or fail to deliver such lists, or who shall refuse to subscribe and verify the same by his oath, or who shall refuse to deliver to the immigration officer such additional information relative to such alien members of the crew as may be required by such officer, or who shall refuse to detain any alien member of the crew when ordered to do so by such officer, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom any such omission or refusal occurs, which sum shall be a lien upon the vessel, to be recovered by suit or proceeding against the master, agent, consignee, owner, or charterer of such vessel. Until the payment of such sum, with interest and costs, the vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for any district within which the vessel may be found. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel failing to comply with the requirements of this section. (39 Stat. 888, 889; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.15. Limit of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be refused from vessel lying in the limits fixed by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been transferred, but not then nullify application to the administrative time prescribed by rule section or to time prescribed by section 38 of this Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 181) pursuant to 8 CFR 150.15–150.17, have been made.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival, before the vessel is granted clearance. Attention is directed to the penalty provided by law for failure to comply with the requirements of section 38 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), which penalty applies to the failure to list any alien member of the crew, or to the failure to detain any alien member of the crew when ordered to do so by the immigration officer, or to the failure to deliver to the immigration officer any information required by him concerning any alien member of the crew. Any master who refuses to detain any alien member of the crew when ordered to do so by the immigration officer is also liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or of the amount thereof, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such refusal as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all seamen, shall not be construed to repeal, alter, or affect the provisions of section 2 of the Act of June 5, 1920.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on some other vessel in possession of the same owners, within the period for which he was permitted to land temporarily in the United States, or who shall depart from the United States without the consent of the Attorney General, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act. Any such alien seaman who shall not be deported shall be required to depart from such port or place as the Attorney General may direct and to report to the immigration officer at such port or place from time to time until he shall have departed from the United States. Compliance with such requirements may be enforced by withholding clearance papers from the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived or on which he may be required to depart, or on any vessel in possession of the same owners, or by such other means as may be deemed advisable by the Attorney General. Any such alien seaman who fails to depart from the United States or to report as required by the immigration officer or the Attorney General shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that a master has failed to comply with any of the requirements of this section, such master, unless excused or pardoned therefor by the Attorney General, shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such refusal as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper, the vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port of arrival is located and the sum so withheld by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, master, or commanding officer in charge of the port of arrival (or, in case customs inspection has been completed at a customs station other than the port of arrival, then at the port where such customs inspection was completed), and it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel, aircraft, or vehicle arriving from a foreign port or place, before the inspection of the persons on board, to report the name of the vessel, aircraft, or vehicle, the nationality of the master, the last port or place from which the vessel, aircraft, or vehicle arrived, the number of passengers carried, and the ports or places in the United States at which they intend to land passengers or discharge cargo, and to present the vessel's manifest, the aircraft's manifest, or the vehicle's manifest to the customs officer in charge of the port of arrival; to produce and exhibit the bills of sight, if any are demanded; to answer truly all questions which may be asked by any customs officer touching the cargo, baggage, passengers, crew, stores, and voyage of the vessel, aircraft, or vehicle, and the boarding officer's authority; to report the number of packages of merchandise, baggage, mail, and express carried on the vessel, aircraft, or vehicle, and the number of passengers who have landed from the vessel, aircraft, or vehicle at each port at which it has touched since departing from the last foreign port or place; and to report the sickness or death of any person on board during the vessel's passage, and make a full explanation in connection therewith; but customs officers may go on board vessels at any time or times before the entry of the vessel, aircraft, or vehicle, and may remain thereon until the vessel, aircraft, or vehicle is granted entry or is abandoned to the customs service, and may search the vessel, aircraft, or vehicle and every part thereof and may search any of the persons on board thereof, and may search any trunk, valise, package, or container on board, under the immediate control of any person arriving in the United States in possession thereof, and may open any such trunk, valise, package, or container for examination upon demand being made therefor, and if the person in charge thereof shall fail or refuse to open the same, or to assist in opening the same, or after opening the same shall refuse to allow the inspection thereof, the said officer may forcibly break open and search the same without liability for damage; and may hold, search, detain, or seize any such vessel, aircraft, or vehicle, or any trunk, valise, package, container, or person on board, in the same manner and to the same extent as provided with respect to inspection, search, detention, or seizure by the Secretary of the Treasury or any officer of customs or internal revenue or any agent of any department of the Treasury Department or any officer of the Coast Guard or any officer of the Border Patrol in the Immigration and Naturalization Service or any agent or officer of the Federal Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice or any officer of the Department of Defense or any agent or officer of the Central Intelligence Agency or any police officer of any State or political subdivision thereof, or any officer or employee of any corporation operating an airport or airway station in the United States, or any person authorized by any of the foregoing officers or employees; and every master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel, aircraft, or vehicle, and every officer or employee thereof, who refuses to submit to such search, detention, or seizure, or to any part thereof, or to the use of any of the facilities of such vessel, aircraft, or vehicle in connection therewith, or who obstructs or hinders such search, detention, or seizure, or who refuses to assist in such search, detention, or seizure when required, or who conceals or destroys any of the articles mentioned in this section, or who refuses to answer any question put to him by any officer or person authorized to question him under this section, or who answers falsely any such question, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $5,000 or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court, and in addition shall forfeit to the United States the sum of $10,000, to be recovered by an action of debt in the name of the United States, and in addition shall forfeit to the United States the vessel, aircraft, or vehicle in connection with which such violation occurred, and her tackle, apparel, boats, furniture, stores, and cargo, or the aircraft or vehicle, and her parts, equipment, appurtenances, stores, and cargo, or the vehicle, and her parts, equipment, appurtenances, stores, and cargo, or any part or interest therein, which forfeiture shall be enforced by process in admiralty; but the vessel, aircraft, or vehicle shall be delivered to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge upon the execution and delivery to the collector of customs of a bond with sufficient sureties, in such amount as the collector of customs may require, not exceeding double the appraised value of the vessel, aircraft, or vehicle and her tackle, apparel, boats, furniture, stores, and cargo, or the aircraft or vehicle and her parts, equipment, appurtenances, stores, and cargo, or any part or interest therein, conditioned for the payment of the sum for which the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge may be liable under the provisions of this section, and for the faithful performance of the duties required by the Attorney General under the provisions of this section. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to accord with the circumstances of each case, and may prescribe the terms and conditions upon which such mitigation may be granted.

(b) Proof shall be taken as often as may be necessary to establish the nationality of the vessel or aircraft, and the production of such vessel or aircraft from any place outside thereof, or that no such report has been made by the master of such vessel as aforesaid, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or report such information, or to make such report, as required by the provisions of this section.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any person has failed to comply with the provisions of this section, or any rule or regulation issued thereunder, such person shall be liable to a penalty of $500 for each such failure. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to accord with the circumstances of each case, and may prescribe the terms and conditions upon which such mitigation may be granted. Such penalty shall be in addition to all penalties otherwise imposed by this section.

(d) Proof shall be taken as often as may be necessary to establish the nationality of the vessel or aircraft, and the production of such vessel or aircraft from any place outside thereof, or that no such report has been made by the master of such vessel as aforesaid, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or report such information, or to make such report, as required by the provisions of this section.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that any person has failed to comply with the provisions of this section, or any rule or regulation issued thereunder, such person shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each such failure. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to accord with the circumstances of each case, and may prescribe the terms and conditions upon which such mitigation may be granted. Such penalty shall be in addition to all penalties otherwise imposed by this section.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, except temporarily to the extent necessary to obtain his discharge from the vessel, or pending the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, or, in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, pending his transfer to any vessel in which he is entitled to be employed, or pending his medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien. (39 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 201.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone (which inspection in all cases shall include an examination of the physical condition of the alien, and may include a mental examination) shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the collector of customs in the customs district in which the port of arrival is located has been notified by the immigration officer in charge of the port that the payment required by this section has been made, or that the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel has given a bond to the satisfaction of the collector of customs in a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a sum sufficient to cover such fines as may be imposed by the immigration officer in charge of the port, conditioned upon the payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while the case is pending on appeal, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond for such sum with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, authorize such bond, or such deposit to be withdrawn, in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section as amended shall apply to all vessels arriving subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the outgoing vessel of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be known to the master, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a similar effect how any

I, the undersigned, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from and port or place during her present voyage.
I have noted the cost of section 36 of the Act of February 3, 1911, entract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 21 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

Master, Purser or Commanding Officer

Sworn to before me this MAR 5 1953 day of ..... 19..

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members or crews (Form I-418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the Principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "witness" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons employed on such vessel, arranged the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the ports at which they respectively left the vessel at last and next preceding ports; and such officer shall have the right to examine and question all such persons touching any matter relating to their right to enter the United States, and for the purpose of obtaining information in regard to the execution of the provisions of this Act and the Act entitled "An Act to regulate the immigration of aliens into the United States," approved February 5, 1917, and Acts amendatory thereof, and rules and regulations made in pursuance thereof, the master, agent, consignee, owner, or other person in charge of such vessel shall furnish such information in his possession as may be required by such officer. Any master, agent, consignee, owner, or other person in charge of such vessel who refuses to deliver such lists, or refuses to answer questions, or gives false information in relation thereto, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each and every such refusal, or by imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Such vessel shall not be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty, or may remit the same in whole or in part, under such terms and conditions as he may deem just, or may refer the matter to the Court of Claims for its findings of fact and opinion as to whether there are circumstances which, in his judgment, warrant the remission or mitigation of such penalty, and such findings of fact and opinion shall be considered by the Court of Claims and proceedings had in relation thereto as provided in the Act entitled "An Act to provide for the bringing of suits against the Government of the United States," approved March 3, 1887, as amended, and the Attorney General may, upon the payment into the Treasury of the amount of the penalty imposed by the judgment of the Court of Claims, remit the remainder thereof. The provisions of this section shall apply to all penalties which have accrued prior to June 2, 1924.

(a) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from the place outside thereof, to that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman upon the outbound manifest of such vessel.

(b) It shall be the duty of the master of any vessel on which any alien seaman is employed upon the articles of agreement by which he was shipped or signed on to report in writing within forty-eight hours after the vessel's departure from each port the name of each alien seaman who has deserted such vessel during her stay in such port, and to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of departure a list containing the name of each alien seaman employed on board such vessel at the time of her departure from such port. Such list shall contain as to each such alien seaman the information required by section 12 of the Act of May 26, 1924, as to the manifesting of aliens departing from the United States.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, ALEXANDRU MARIN, of the S.S. ANNA MARIA, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew presently in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 19 and 20, Act of May 26, 1924, as in force at present below.

Master, [redacted]

Sworn to before me this ..... day of ....., 19..

.....
Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below must be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes to alien members of crews (Form I–95) shall not be destroyed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "motorman," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver at the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the vessel's crew, and where they were respectively naturalized or established, and such other particulars concerning them as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed to carry into effect the provisions of this section as the United States Commissioner General of Immigration may from time to time determine; and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and any officer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel who knowingly fails to perform the duties required of him by this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof in the United States District Court for the district in which the port of arrival is located shall pay a penalty of not more than $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a fine thereof is not made as above provided: and on such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty: and it shall be the duty of the collector of customs to withhold clearance of the vessel in all cases where such penalty has been incurred until the same is paid or until a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens irrespective of date of entry.

(a) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deliver such landing certificate by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(b) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 150.13. Limit of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171) shall have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative and prescribed by this section or to that prescribed by section 36 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 191) thereof been served, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, and paid made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury to such seaman, certified by the medical officer in charge at the port of arrival (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), until such alien seaman shall have been inspected and examined by an immigrant inspector, and a certificate issued by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such landing occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of such sum with the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therein, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens irrespective of date of entry. (43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 101 (a), 101 (c).)

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR
IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE
Form I-418
(Rev. 2-15-23)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 28. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like manifests of all persons on board of such vessel, whether destined to some other port or place in the United States or not, and such manifests shall be prepared and endorsed, and subscribed under oath by the master thereof, in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall contain such information as to each and every person who may be brought into the United States on such vessel, whether such person is a citizen of the United States or not, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such information shall be set down at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place touched by her, or in the case of persons who may join the vessel at a subsequent port or place, at the time of departure from such port or place, and shall be verified by the oath of the master and the surgeon, if there be one, taken before the proper officer. Such manifests shall be produced by the master on the demand of any immigrant inspector or other officer of the United States authorized to examine the same, and shall be open to such inspection and examination by any such officer, and a true copy thereof shall be furnished to any such officer upon request. Such manifests shall be preserved for a period of three years after the date of the last entry to which they relate, and shall be subject to such reasonable regulations for their preservation and inspection as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver manifests required by this section, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to any immigrant inspector any such manifest in his possession or control, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truthfully any question propounded to him by any such inspector touching any person who may have been brought into the United States in such vessel, or concerning the immigration thereto of any such person, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof in any court of the United States shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each and every such refusal or neglect, and may also be punished by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit any fine in excess of $300 imposed upon any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel for the refusal or neglect of any officer thereof to deliver the manifest required by this section, or any part thereof, if it shall appear to his satisfaction that such refusal or neglect was occasioned by sickness or accident, and that no wilful default or negligence existed on the part of such master, agent, owner, or consignee.

(a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival like manifests of all persons on board such vessel, whether destined to some other port or place in the United States or not, and shall be in the form and contain such information as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Such manifests shall be produced by the master on demand of any immigrant inspector or other officer of the United States authorized to examine the same, and shall be open to such inspection and examination by any such officer, and a true copy thereof shall be furnished to any such officer upon request. Such manifests shall be preserved for a period of three years after the date of the last entry to which they relate, and shall be subject to such reasonable regulations for their preservation and inspection as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver manifests required by this section, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truthfully any question propounded to him by any such inspector touching any person who may have been brought into the United States in such vessel, or concerning the immigration thereto of any such person, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof in any court of the United States shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each and every such refusal or neglect, and may also be punished by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit any fine in excess of $300 imposed upon any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel for the refusal or neglect of any officer thereof to deliver the manifest required by this section, or any part thereof, if it shall appear to his satisfaction that such refusal or neglect was occasioned by sickness or accident, and that no wilful default or negligence existed on the part of such master, agent, owner, or consignee. (43 Stat. 161, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival like manifests of all persons on board such vessel, whether destined to some other port or place in the United States or not, and shall be in the form and contain such information as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Such manifests shall be produced by the master on demand of any immigrant inspector or other officer of the United States authorized to examine the same, and shall be open to such inspection and examination by any such officer, and a true copy thereof shall be furnished to any such officer upon request. Such manifests shall be preserved for a period of three years after the date of the last entry to which they relate, and shall be subject to such reasonable regulations for their preservation and inspection as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver manifests required by this section, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truthfully any question propounded to him by any such inspector touching any person who may have been brought into the United States in such vessel, or concerning the immigration thereto of any such person, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof in any court of the United States shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each and every such refusal or neglect, and may also be punished by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit any fine in excess of $300 imposed upon any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel for the refusal or neglect of any officer thereof to deliver the manifest required by this section, or any part thereof, if it shall appear to his satisfaction that such refusal or neglect was occasioned by sickness or accident, and that no wilful default or negligence existed on the part of such master, agent, owner, or consignee. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(b) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the immigration of alien seamen, and to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(c) If the Attorney General shall be satisfied that any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel has failed to comply with the provisions of this section or any regulations made thereunder, or with any of the requirements of section 16 of this Act, with respect to any alien seaman employed on such vessel, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has been informed by the Attorney General that the provisions of this section have been complied with, such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such fine or any part thereof if he is satisfied that the vessel has sailed and cannot be returned to the port of arrival within a reasonable time, and that there was no fault or negligence on the part of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel. This section shall not be enforced in respect of any vessel entering the United States solely because of stress of weather or other circumstances beyond the control of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel, and which could not have been foreseen or prevented by the exercise of due diligence and foresight.

(d) Every alien seaman who did not depart from the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like manifests of all persons on board such vessel, whether destined to some other port or place in the United States or not, and shall be in the form and contain such information as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Such manifests shall be produced by the master on demand of any immigrant inspector or other officer of the United States authorized to examine the same, and shall be open to such inspection and examination by any such officer, and a true copy thereof shall be furnished to any such officer upon request. Such manifests shall be preserved for a period of three years after the date of the last entry to which they relate, and shall be subject to such reasonable regulations for their preservation and inspection as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver manifests required by this section, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truthfully any question propounded to him by any such inspector touching any person who may have been brought into the United States in such vessel, or concerning the immigration thereto of any such person, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof in any court of the United States shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each and every such refusal or neglect, and may also be punished by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit any fine in excess of $300 imposed upon any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel for the refusal or neglect of any officer thereof to deliver the manifest required by this section, or any part thereof, if it shall appear to his satisfaction that such refusal or neglect was occasioned by sickness or accident, and that no wilful default or negligence existed on the part of such master, agent, owner, or consignee. (43 Stat. 164–165, 8 U. S. C. 167.)

(e) If the Attorney General shall be satisfied that any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel has failed to comply with the provisions of this section or any regulations made thereunder, or with any of the requirements of section 16 of this Act, with respect to any alien seaman employed on such vessel, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has been informed by the Attorney General that the provisions of this section have been complied with, such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such fine or any part thereof if he is satisfied that the vessel has sailed and cannot be returned to the port of arrival within a reasonable time, and that there was no fault or negligence on the part of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel. This section shall not be enforced in respect of any vessel entering the United States solely because of stress of weather or other circumstances beyond the control of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel, and which could not have been foreseen or prevented by the exercise of due diligence and foresight. (43 Stat. 164–165, 8 U. S. C. 167.)

(f) Every alien seaman who did not depart from the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel in the United States to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like manifests of all persons on board such vessel, whether destined to some other port or place in the United States or not, and shall be in the form and contain such information as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Such manifests shall be produced by the master on demand of any immigrant inspector or other officer of the United States authorized to examine the same, and shall be open to such inspection and examination by any such officer, and a true copy thereof shall be furnished to any such officer upon request. Such manifests shall be preserved for a period of three years after the date of the last entry to which they relate, and shall be subject to such reasonable regulations for their preservation and inspection as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver manifests required by this section, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truthfully any question propounded to him by any such inspector touching any person who may have been brought into the United States in such vessel, or concerning the immigration thereto of any such person, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof in any court of the United States shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each and every such refusal or neglect, and may also be punished by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit any fine in excess of $300 imposed upon any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel for the refusal or neglect of any officer thereof to deliver the manifest required by this section, or any part thereof, if it shall appear to his satisfaction that such refusal or neglect was occasioned by sickness or accident, and that no wilful default or negligence existed on the part of such master, agent, owner, or consignee. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any American vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 17. (a) Any alien employee, master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who refuses to deliver to the Attorney General upon demand any manifest required by section 28 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), when called upon to do so by the Attorney General, shall not be granted clearance for such vessel until such manifest is delivered, but this provision shall not apply to masters of vessels who have been granted a permit by the Attorney General to depart without delivering such manifest. Any such alien employee, master, agent, consignee, or owner who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or to which correct lists are not attached, or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival [list] containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and whether they have been in the port of arrival [list] continue on board of such vessel, and all such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, the name of any alien employed on such vessel, and all such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed over and above those named in the list first delivered, and also the names of those, if any, who have been discharged, and all such information likely to lead to the apprehension of such deserters as the last-named officer may require. If any such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall refuse to deliver either of the lists required, or shall refuse to furnish the information required, or shall willfully furnish false information, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or to such lesser fine not exceeding $500 for each alien concerning whom correct information is not furnished, as the court may impose, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, no clearance shall be granted such vessel. [Amended, June 29, 1940, 54 Stat. 686; 8 U. S. C. 191.]

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes or alterations made by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alteration, addition, or correction is made, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens employed on such vessel, arrange the positions they respectively hold in the alpha columns, when and where they were respectively shipped or entered, and description there of; and write the entries of any such vessel in small pencil figures to the right of each alien.

SEC. 36. After noon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the alpha columns, when and where they were respectively shipped or entered, and description there of; and write the entries of any such vessel in small pencil figures to the right of each alien. Correct with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel in addition to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, stating a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of the master to all aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who officer a further list containing the names of those, if any, who have been hired on and discharged; and will leave port thereon at the time of the departure and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired on and discharged; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such alien arriving and departing, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Attorney General, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 890-891; 8 U. S. C. 131.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unavoidable detention as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman, (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board the vessel at such port, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while a fine sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty, to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the discharge of the duties imposed upon the deputy collector of customs by this section, as a head tax, and such deputy collector shall remit same to the collector of customs.

This section, as amended, shall apply to all immigration officers at the various seaports of the world on which the arrival in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent island, or from any port or place in Mexico, Central America, the West Indies Islands, Bermuda, or the Canal Zone, is destined directly or indirectly.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not deposit with the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver on board such vessel at the time of departure from the United States, unless the master establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that such alien seaman was prevented from so doing by reason of illness or injury requiring hospital treatment or by reason of his detention by the authorities of any country.

(c) If the Attorney General shall find that a deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, but such person shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR
IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE
(Rev. 4-1-23)
Form I-418

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. ~~When an alternate address is a location to that effect should be made on the manifest.~~ In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the alien's employment, whether they were respectively shipped or entered, the ports from which they severally came, and the ports for which they have severally taken clearance, and the length of time they have severally been employed in the service of such vessel; and it shall be the duty of the alien passengers who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who intelligibly indicate a purpose to land contraband the names of all alien employees who were not discharged, and also the names of all aliens who, to the knowledge of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or manager of such vessel, intend to land in the United States, and such information in writing shall be delivered to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien may be found on board after the departure of any such vessel from the port of arrival; and the master of any such vessel shall report from time to time any additional information which may be received by him concerning such aliens, and any such alien who may be discharged, or who may leave such vessel for any cause, shall be reported forthwith by the master to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival. Any master who refuses or fails to deliver lists in the manner and at the time prescribed in this section, or who refuses or fails to report, from time to time, information concerning any such alien who may be discharged, or who may leave such vessel for any cause, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding $1,000 for each such offense. (39 Stat. 878–879; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.13. Lists of alien employees: when clearance to vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171) have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to final prescribed by section 36 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 191) have been served, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, inc. have been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or by reason of the necessity of obtaining repairs to such vessel unavailable in the port of arrival, or other temporary emergency, under such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, for the purpose of performing the duties of his employment, or unless destined to the country whose flag such vessel flies and he is in possession of a valid passport viséed by the consul of such country, or unless he is a citizen of the United States, or unless he establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he is entitled by birth to the nationality of a country in North, Central, or South America, adjacent islands, the Philippine Islands, Newfoundland, Miquelon, Cuba, Haiti, the Dominican Republic, the Canal Zone, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands of the United States, and intends to land in the country of his nationality.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be taken into custody and deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States.

(c) Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien seaman who is required by this section to be deported shall pay the cost of maintenance of such alien seaman while detained awaiting deportation, and the cost of his deportation from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof having on board any alien seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), shall have such seaman examined by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival before such seaman shall be allowed to land in the United States, except temporarily and upon such immigration officer or the medical examiners, for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or by reason of the necessity of obtaining repairs to such vessel unavailable in the port of arrival, or other temporary emergency, under such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 32. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside thereof, any alien (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), found upon such inspection or to be afflicted with any contagious disease, or who shall have been deported from the United States, except upon the certificate of a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service that such alien was not afflicted with any such disease at the time of his departure from the United States, or that such disease was contracted after arrival, shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the payment thereof, or pending the payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all deserting alien seamen irrespective of the date of desertion.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain the detention certificate required by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien, he may cause such alien to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be required to pay the expenses of more than one alien seaman for each 2 tons of the net register of such vessel.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival in a navy yard in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the position they respectively hold in the gift, a company, where and where they were respectively applied or enlisted, and whether those so to be landed on the port of arrival lists containing the names of such aliens as the aforesaid (General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all additional persons employed on such vessel, stating a description of such alien, together with the information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed upon such vessel, but not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been employed as hands, and discharged, and the cause for such discharge, and the destination of such aliens. Any master, consignee, or agent of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to the immigration officer at the time of departure of such vessel from any port of the United States, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to pay the same, or while it remains pending; nor shall such vessel be granted clearance papers in any case where the master, consignee, or agent of such vessel shall fail to deposit with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of departure is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a duly authorized inspector of the United States at the time of departure of such vessel, which deposit shall be returned to the master, consignee, or agent of such vessel if no such alien shall be found to have been unlawfully landed within the United States, or if the master, consignee, or agent of such vessel shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that it was impossible for him to secure the information required by the officers of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty in not exceeding $500 for each seaman in respect to whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General shall think proper.

The master of any vessel, shall apply to all penalties arising independent of June 2, 1840

(b) Hospital dues on alien seamen shall not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrives in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress, or to be transferred to any vessel lying within the jurisdiction of the United States from which he came to the port of arrival, or to any vessel sailing to a foreign port or place, or to be returned to the country to which he belongs, or from which he came to the United States, or to the country in which he resided before coming to the United States, or to be detained in the United States pending the determination of such question upon the certificate in writing of a medical officer of the United States specially designated by the Secretary of Labor. Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel and certified by the medical officer in charge at the port of arrival to be afflicted with any contagious disease, or any alien seaman who refuses to be treated for such disease, shall be detained on board or at quarantine as directed by the Attorney General. Any alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in port shall be deported in the same manner as provided in the case of an alien passenger who is unlawfully in the United States. Any alien seaman who shall remain in the United States after the departure of the vessel upon which he arrived, or to which he was transferred, or who shall land in violation of this section, shall be deported in the same manner as provided in the case of an alien passenger who is unlawfully in the United States. Any alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in port shall be deported in the same manner as provided in the case of an alien passenger who is unlawfully in the United States. Any alien seaman who shall remain in the United States after the departure of the vessel upon which he arrived, or to which he was transferred, or who shall land in violation of this section, shall be deported in the same manner as provided in the case of an alien passenger who is unlawfully in the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall, prior to the departure of such vessel from the port of arrival, deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel and shall report to such immigration officer the additions, removals, or changes in such lists, if any, which may occur before the departure of such vessel from such port. Such lists shall contain such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver such lists, or to report additions, removals, or changes therein, as required by this section, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty in not exceeding $300 for each seaman in respect to whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General shall think proper.

(b) Hospital dues on alien seamen shall not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrives in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 38. [That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival [list containing the names of all persons on board, which list shall be prepared in such manner and form and contain such additional information as may be required from time to time by the Attorney General, and shall be delivered by the master, commander, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's entry into the port, or, in case of vessels arriving at night, immediately upon the next official business day following such arrival; and it shall be the duty of the master, commander, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to deliver to each alien listed on said list, before the departure of such vessel from the port of arrival, a card containing a legible statement made by such alien of the answers to such of the questions set forth in such list as may be applicable to such alien, and to deliver to such alien such other cards and take from such alien such other receipts as may be required by the Attorney General to enable such alien to comply herewith and with the immigration laws, rules, and regulations. Any master, commander, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival the list required by this section, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver to each alien listed on such list a card containing the statement made by such alien as required by this section, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver to such officer, at the time of the departure of such vessel from the port of arrival, any such card containing a statement made by any such alien, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver to such officer any such card or list required by this section, or who shall refuse or fail to comply with such regulations as the Attorney General shall prescribe relative to the inspection of aliens arriving at ports of the United States, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver to each alien on board such vessel the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to deliver such manifest to such immigration officer or to the Attorney General as to or from whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers during the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance papers may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien manifested in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties which may have been incurred under the provisions specified since June 2, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the conveyance manifested by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or that he was otherwise lawfully permitted to land temporarily by the immigration officer of the Attorney General, shall be prima facie evidence to a claim of debt arising therefrom by the immigration officer of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman if he were caused him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such seaman shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws may be hired on board any vessel arriving at a port in the United States from any place outside thereof unless there be produced to the master, purser, or person in charge of the vessel a certificate issued by an immigration officer at the port of arrival, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the medical examination of such alien seaman, stating that the applicant for such certificate has been duly examined by a medical officer of the United States and found to be physically capable to perform the duties required of him on board the vessel, and that he is not affected with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects which would be a ground for the exclusion of aliens from the United States under the immigration laws in force at the time of such examination. Any such certificate may be withdrawn by any immigration officer if the holder thereof becomes afflicted with any such disease or defect before the departure of the vessel from the port. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel at any port without having been granted a certificate by the Attorney General, or who shall land at any port in violation of the terms of the certificate granted to him, shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have been admitted to the United States. Any master, commander, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver to such immigration officer, in charge of the port at which such vessel shall arrive, any such alien seaman employed on board such vessel, or who shall refuse or fail to pay the cost of maintaining such alien seaman at a hospital or elsewhere pending such examination, or who shall refuse or fail to pay the cost of the return of such alien seaman to the country to which he belongs, or to the country from which he was shipped, or to pay the cost of maintaining such alien seaman pending such return, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties which may have been incurred under the provisions specified since June 2, 1940.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the conveyance manifested by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or that he was otherwise lawfully permitted to land temporarily by the immigration officer of the Attorney General, shall be prima facie evidence to a claim of debt arising therefrom by the immigration officer of the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman if he were caused him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such seaman shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. SEC. 150.1. Liens of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted via vessel until the liens created by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 117), have been satisfied, and no fines arising solely out of inability to the administrative bills prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 131 (a)), have been served, the deposit specified in 8 CFR 150.18–150.21, has been made.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector pertaining the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall not be delivered on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form I–418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. It shall be the duty of each master, commander, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel arriving at any port of the United States from any foreign port or place to deliver at the port of the vessel's entry into the United States to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival the list or manifest required by regulations prescribed by the Attorney General, and shall be prepared and subscribed in the form and manner and contain such additional information as may be required from time to time by the Attorney General, and shall be delivered by the master, commander, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel at the time of the vessel's entry into the port, or, in case of vessels arriving at night, immediately upon the next official business day following such arrival; and it shall be the duty of the master, commander, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to deliver to each alien listed on such list, before the departure of such vessel from the port of arrival, a card containing a legible statement made by such alien of the answers to such of the questions set forth in such list as may be applicable to such alien, and to deliver to such officer, at the time of the departure of such vessel from the port of arrival, any such card containing a statement made by any such alien, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver to such officer any such card or list required by this section, or who shall refuse or fail to comply with such regulations as the Attorney General shall prescribe relative to the inspection of aliens arriving at ports of the United States, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival the lists required by section 38 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 117), shall be prima facie evidence of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted via vessel until the liens created by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 117), have been satisfied, and no fines arising solely out of inability to the administrative bills prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 131 (a)), have been served, the deposit specified in 8 CFR 150.18–150.21, has been made.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 161; 8 U. S. C. 183.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall before the departure of such vessel from the port of arrival pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof. $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section as amended shall apply to all penalties arising subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a collector to debar or deport alien seamen in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such report the immigration officer at the port of arrival may cause him to be detained on board or at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived pending the action of the Attorney General in the deportation of such alien seaman, including names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such seaman shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165; 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

Immigration Officer

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, A. F. Mantzaris, Master of the S.S. Cassandra, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly on said vessel upon her or hence during her present voyage, and I have noted the cause of absence of any person who was on board at the time of the vessel's departure and who is not now on board, and the time and place of the shipping of any substitute.

A. F. Mantzaris
Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this 11th day of June, 1962

H. J. Martinez
Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew (Form I–418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "witness" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien employees on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, where and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and such descriptive facts as to the said aliens employees: and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension: and any officer a tariff list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a supplemental list containing the names of all such employees, and the cause of their leaving the vessel: and any owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall fail to report, list, or deliver to any immigration officer the name of any alien employee, or who shall refuse to pay the head tax levied by section 2 of this Act against any such alien employee, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain on board thereof any such alien employee when ordered by such immigration officer, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien employee in respect of whom any such failure occurs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than the amount of head tax due on such alien employee in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therein, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such return as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section as amended shall apply to all penalties arising subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(d) Front fine on alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman on board the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and such alien seaman shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such deportation shall be at the cost of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or treatment to which he is entitled as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 161; 8 U. S. C. 163.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any person in charge of any railroad train arriving from any place outside contiguous territory (which term as used in all cases shall include a person immigrant by the medical examiners), shall before the departure of such vessel (which term as used in all cases shall include a person temporarily detained by the medical examiners) from the port of arrival, report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival at the time of such departure the name of each alien seaman employed on such vessel (and the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall thereupon notify the master of such vessel of the name of each alien seaman employed on board thereof who is not reported by the master as a deserter), and shall deliver to such immigration officer or to any person designated by such officer a list containing the name of each such alien seaman, the capacity in which employed, the date and port of last arrival, the date of intended departure, the vessel for which destined, and the intended future movements of such alien seaman. The Attorney General may prescribe such additional information to be furnished by such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master with respect to such alien seamen as he may deem necessary for the proper administration of the immigration laws. Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master who fails to comply with any provision of this section shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therein, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such return as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section as amended shall apply to all penalties arising subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Front fine on alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman on board the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and such alien seaman shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such deportation shall be at the cost of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Colton McCormick, of the M/S Cornice IV, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from one port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1871, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 50, Act of May 28, 1954, supra appear below.

Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this 12 day of May, 1954

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below must be prepared on blank forms supplied by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. Data shall be entered on the list in the order in which the names appear on the ship's articles. The list of changes of alien members by reason of crews (from 1–1 to 1–2) shall be terminated on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is granted a "waiver" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alien American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew to be made after the vessel has left the last port of call in the United States, or after the departure of the vessel from a foreign port for the United States, shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. Each list must be signed by the master, and verified by the oath of the master or first officer, or, in the absence of both, by the second officer or other officer performing the duties of master. Any change in the list of members of the crew occurring after the departure of the vessel from the last port of call in the United States must be noted on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of crews (Form I-418) shall not be attached to board, but shall be delivered by the master to the Principal Immigration Officer at the port. When an alleged seaman is a "stowaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In case of desertion of alien seamen, include names of alleged American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival list containing the names of all persons who shall have been taken on board such vessel in any foreign port or place, and who are destined to the United States, which list shall be verified by the oath of the master or first officer, or, in the absence of both, by the second officer or other officer performing the duties of master, and shall show the full name, nationality, last residence, calling, and destination of every such person, whether he is a citizen of the United States or an alien, whether he has in his possession a ticket through to his destination or not, whether he has been assisted in coming, and whether the passage is paid in whole or in part by any person, corporation, society, or government, and if so by whom; whether he is in possession of $50 in money or not, and if any alien has been refused a visa by a consular officer; and such other information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, touching the right of any such person to enter the United States, which list shall be prepared in such manner and upon such forms as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be subject to such verification and inspection, before and after debarkation, as the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may prescribe; and any master, owner, agent, consignee, or representative of any such owner, agent, consignee, or master who shall refuse to deliver to any immigration officer any such list when demanded, or who shall neglect to prepare the same in the manner directed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse to subscribe to the verification of the same, or who shall refuse to furnish in connection therewith any information in his possession touching the persons carried, or who shall refuse to answer any question put to him by any immigration officer touching the same, or who shall willfully furnish false or misleading information concerning the same, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court: Provided, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or representative of any such owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien who is afflicted with any contagious disease, or who is a member of any of the classes excluded by law, may, in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, be exempted from the payment of the penalties herein prescribed in respect of such alien: And provided further, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or representative of any such vessel shall not be required to pay the penalty prescribed herein in respect of any such alien who was in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or representative of such vessel shall have been notified by the Secretary of Labor not to permit the landing of such alien, or unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or representative of such vessel shall have actual knowledge that such alien has a disease or belongs to a class which under the law would be excluded from admission into the United States: And provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax. (39 Stat. 888–892; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.18. Liens of alien employees; entry upon clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171) have been transmitted, and from such lists it is impossible to identify any alien employee who is entitled to the administrative time prescribed by said section or to any time prescribed by section 38 of said Act (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 158) unless such alien employee has been paid, or his deposit specified in § 150.18–§150.21, and has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unavoidable detention, or to secure repairs to such vessel unable to proceed without such repairs, or to obtain supplies, or for any cause found by the Commissioner General of Immigration to be sufficient, but in no case for a longer period than five days, unless in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, after recommendation by the Commissioner General of Immigration, additional time is necessary for the foregoing purposes, and such seaman shall be deported in the manner provided in section 14 hereof upon the departure of the vessel on board which he arrived. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 183.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any transportation company of such territories as may be designated by the Commissioner General of Immigration, shall pay a tax of $8 for each alien not in transit entering the United States, and a like tax for each alien not in transit entering the United States from any place outside thereof, or any transportation company of such territories as may be designated by the Commissioner General of Immigration, shall pay a tax of $4 for each alien not in transit entering the United States from any place outside thereof, which tax shall be paid to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of entry at which such alien is landed is located, and the same shall be refunded to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel if such alien is not permitted to land in the United States, except that no refund shall be made in the case of any alien who has been admitted to the United States and who departs within one year from the date of his entry, unless the Commissioner General of Immigration shall determine that such alien departed from the United States because of sickness or disability to be ascertained in such manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. No refund shall be granted in respect of any such alien unless application therefor is made to the Commissioner General of Immigration within two years after the payment of the tax. The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, is authorized to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this section. (b) Any person, company, or corporation who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien as to whom such violation occurs. Any fine collected under this section shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and credited to the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. (c) The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, is authorized to refund the tax in the case of any alien who is refused admission to the United States, or who departs within one year from the date of his entry, unless the Commissioner General of Immigration shall determine that such alien departed from the United States because of sickness or disability to be ascertained in such manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. No refund shall be granted in respect of any such alien unless application therefor is made to the Commissioner General of Immigration within two years after the payment of the tax. The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, is authorized to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this section. (d) Taxes shall be paid in such manner and at such time as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and credited to the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. (e) Any person, company, or corporation who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien as to whom such violation occurs. Any fine collected under this section shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and credited to the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. (f) The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, is authorized to refund the tax in the case of any alien who is refused admission to the United States, or who departs within one year from the date of his entry, unless the Commissioner General of Immigration shall determine that such alien departed from the United States because of sickness or disability to be ascertained in such manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. No refund shall be granted in respect of any such alien unless application therefor is made to the Commissioner General of Immigration within two years after the payment of the tax. The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, is authorized to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this section. (g) Taxes shall be paid in such manner and at such time as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and credited to the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. (h) Any person, company, or corporation who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien as to whom such violation occurs. Any fine collected under this section shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and credited to the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. (i) The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, is authorized to refund the tax in the case of any alien who is refused admission to the United States, or who departs within one year from the date of his entry, unless the Commissioner General of Immigration shall determine that such alien departed from the United States because of sickness or disability to be ascertained in such manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. No refund shall be granted in respect of any such alien unless application therefor is made to the Commissioner General of Immigration within two years after the payment of the tax. The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, is authorized to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this section. (j) Taxes shall be paid in such manner and at such time as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and credited to the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. (k) Any person, company, or corporation who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien as to whom such violation occurs. Any fine collected under this section shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and credited to the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. (l) The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, is authorized to refund the tax in the case of any alien who is refused admission to the United States, or who departs within one year from the date of his entry, unless the Commissioner General of Immigration shall determine that such alien departed from the United States because of sickness or disability to be ascertained in such manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. No refund shall be granted in respect of any such alien unless application therefor is made to the Commissioner General of Immigration within two years after the payment of the tax. The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, is authorized to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this section. (m) Taxes shall be paid in such manner and at such time as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and credited to the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. (n) Any person, company, or corporation who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien as to whom such violation occurs. Any fine collected under this section shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and credited to the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. (o) The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, is authorized to refund the tax in the case of any alien who is refused admission to the United States, or who departs within one year from the date of his entry, unless the Commissioner General of Immigration shall determine that such alien departed from the United States because of sickness or disability to be ascertained in such manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. No refund shall be granted in respect of any such alien unless application therefor is made to the Commissioner General of Immigration within two years after the payment of the tax. The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, is authorized to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this section. (p) Taxes shall be paid in such manner and at such time as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and credited to the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. (q) Any person, company, or corporation who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien as to whom such violation occurs. Any fine collected under this section shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and credited to the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. (r) The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, is authorized to refund the tax in the case of any alien who is refused admission to the United States, or who departs within one year from the date of his entry, unless the Commissioner General of Immigration shall determine that such alien departed from the United States because of sickness or disability to be ascertained in such manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. No refund shall be granted in respect of any such alien unless application therefor is made to the Commissioner General of Immigration within two years after the payment of the tax. The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, is authorized to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this section. (s) Taxes shall be paid in such manner and at such time as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and credited to the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. (t) Any person, company, or corporation who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien as to whom such violation occurs. Any fine collected under this section shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and credited to the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. (u) The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, is authorized to refund the tax in the case of any alien who is refused admission to the United States, or who departs within one year from the date of his entry, unless the Commissioner General of Immigration shall determine that such alien departed from the United States because of sickness or disability to be ascertained in such manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. No refund shall be granted in respect of any such alien unless application therefor is made to the Commissioner General of Immigration within two years after the payment of the tax. The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, is authorized to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this section. (v) Taxes shall be paid in such manner and at such time as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and credited to the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. (w) Any person, company, or corporation who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien as to whom such violation occurs. Any fine collected under this section shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and credited to the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. (x) The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, is authorized to refund the tax in the case of any alien who is refused admission to the United States, or who departs within one year from the date of his entry, unless the Commissioner General of Immigration shall determine that such alien departed from the United States because of sickness or disability to be ascertained in such manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Hans Olsen, master of the M.S. Island Navigator, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew, promptly in said vessel from and port or place during the per. previous voyage. I have noted the color of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 21 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

Signed to before me this 15 day of May, 1954 AM

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. Data shall be as indicated on the vessel. The list of changes to alien members, if any, on arrival at the port of departure, and subscribed under oath before an authorized immigration officer at the port. "Crew" as mentioned in section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, means all persons employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place. It shall be the duty of the master, or commanding officer, in arriving at the port of arrival, to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port a complete list containing as many of the alien members of the crew as have been reported to him as having been discharged from the vessel, stating the positions they respectively held in the vessel's complement, name and nationality of each alien, together with information as to the time and place of the last entry of the alien into the United States, and the reason for the alien's discharge. The master, commander, or officer in charge of the vessel shall also report the name of any alien member of the crew who shall desert while in port, and shall, upon the departure of the vessel from port, report the name of any alien member of the crew who shall have been left behind for any reason, stating the circumstances in connection therewith. Any master, commander, or officer in charge of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the proper immigration officer, or who shall conceal, remove, or destroy any part of the list of the crew, or who shall refuse or neglect to report, list, and deliver to the immigration officer at the time of the vessel's departure from port the full number of alien members of the crew originally reported on the list, or who shall refuse or neglect to report the name of any alien member of the crew who shall desert while in port, or who shall refuse or neglect to report the cause of absence of any alien member of the crew who shall fail to arrive with the vessel at the time of her departure from port, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada or adjacent islands, shall be responsible for the proper maintenance of any alien member of the crew employed on such vessel during the immigration officer's inspection or to the proper such member from the vessel, and shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien member of the crew not produced for such

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Attorney General for the allowance of such seaman to land temporarily for medical treatment, or hospital or burial, or for such other purpose as may be approved by the Attorney General, and any such seaman who lands in the United States under such regulations and who fails to depart therefrom on a vessel or aircraft departing therefrom, or within such period of time as may be allowed by the Attorney General for the purpose for which he was permitted to land, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 144.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deport such seaman on board such vessel when such vessel departs from the United States, except temporarily under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Attorney General for the medical examination of such seaman, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or for medical treatment, or hospital or burial, or for such other purpose as may be approved by the Attorney General, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit or cancel any such fine, or any part thereof, if he shall be satisfied that such seaman (1) was lawfully admitted to the United States or has since been lawfully admitted thereto for permanent residence, or (2) had a lawful right to enter the United States, or (3) was unable to depart therefrom because of illness of such seaman or the vessel upon which he arrived, or (4) was a stowaway, and the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States has satisfied the Attorney General that reasonable efforts were made to prevent the stowaway from secreting himself on board such vessel, or (5) was forced by stress of weather or other cause beyond the control of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel to land in the United States, or (6) was a member of the crew and was detained for the period of time the vessel remained in port as a necessary member of the crew thereof, or (7) was a member of the crew and has been continuously employed on board such vessel since her last arrival at a port in the United States, or (8) was a member of the crew and was left behind because of illness, or (9) was a member of the crew and was temporarily detained pending examination, or (10) was a member of the crew and has been granted shore leave by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel upon which he arrived and has returned to the vessel with sufficient time to depart therein without the payment of a penalty, or (11) was a member of the crew and has been granted shore leave by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel upon which he arrived and has returned to the vessel with sufficient time to depart therein without the payment of a penalty, or (12) was a member of the crew and has been granted shore leave by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel upon which he arrived and has returned to the vessel with sufficient time to depart therein without the payment of a penalty, or (13) was a member of the crew and has been granted shore leave by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel upon which he arrived and has returned to the vessel with sufficient time to depart therein without the payment of a penalty, but who was not employed thereon at the time of the vessel's departure, but who was employed thereon at a time prior thereto as the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel may show to the satisfaction of the Attorney General, or (14) was a member of the crew and has been granted shore leave by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel upon which he arrived and has returned to the vessel with sufficient time to depart therein without the payment of a penalty, but who was not employed thereon at the time of the vessel's departure, but who was employed thereon at a time prior thereto as the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel may show to the satisfaction of the Attorney General, or (15) was a member of the crew and has been continuously employed on board such vessel since her last arrival at a port in the United States, or (16) was a member of the crew and was left behind because of illness, or (17) was a member of the crew and was temporarily detained pending examination, or (18) was a member of the crew and has been granted shore leave by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel upon which he arrived and has returned to the vessel with sufficient time to depart therein without the payment of a penalty, but who was not employed thereon at the time of the vessel's departure, but who was employed thereon at a time prior thereto as the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel may show to the satisfaction of the Attorney General, or (19) was a member of the crew and has been granted shore leave by the master, AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, C. M. Johnson, of the M/V TANET W, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place named for present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 35, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

C. M. Johnson
Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this 4th day of January, 1957

[illegible]
Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below must be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the Immigration Inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival; and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crew (Form I–418) shall not be attached to board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternative seaman is a foreigner, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternative American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the nationality, last residence, and calling at the port of arrival; to state in what capacity each alien is employed; to show for how long he has been employed; to state the amount of money he has with him and whether any part thereof has been furnished him by any person in the United States, and if so, by whom; to state whether he intends to return to the United States, and whether he has a ticket to any place beyond; to state whether he has been in the United States before, and if so, when and how long he resided here; to state whether he has ever been in prison or in almshouse or supported by charity, and if so, when and where; to state whether he is a polygamist; to state whether he is an anarchist; to state whether he is a person who believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or who disbelieves in or is opposed to organized government, or who advocates or teaches the duty, necessity, or propriety of the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers, either of specific individuals or of officers generally, of the Government of the United States or of any other organized government, because of his or their official character, or who advocates or teaches the unlawful destruction of property; to state whether he is coming to perform any specific kind of labor for any person or corporation, and if so, what the nature of such labor is, and the name and address of the person or corporation who has promised him employment; to state whether he has a ticket or passage through to the place in the United States to which he is destined, and if so, who purchased the ticket; to state whether he has been deported from the United States, and if so, when and why; to state whether he is coming in pursuance of a prearranged marriage, and if so, with whom such marriage is to be consummated; to state whether he is coming for an immoral purpose; to state whether he is suffering from tuberculosis in any form or from a mental defect; and to state whether he is coming in pursuance of a contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia. Such list shall be sworn to before the immigration officer at the port of arrival by the master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of the vessel, who shall certify his manifest of alien passengers and crew. Such list shall be prepared in such manner and upon such forms as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall contain such additional information required by the Commissioner General of Immigration touching the right of any alien to enter the United States, as may be prescribed by him. Any master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer any question pertaining to the information required to be stated therein, or who shall knowingly or willfully report falsely or make any false statement in reference thereto, or who shall refuse to permit any immigrant inspector to go on board of any vessel for the purpose of performing any duty or exercising any power conferred upon him by this Act, or who shall refuse to detain on board any alien passenger when ordered by the immigration officer in charge of the port so to do, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of first arrival any alien passenger destined to a port in the United States, or who shall refuse or neglect to perform any other duty required of him by this Act or by the rules prescribed hereunder, or who shall bring to the United States any alien who has been refused admission and ordered returned by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port of arrival is located shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court: Provided, That the penalty of imprisonment shall not be imposed in the case of the failure of the master to deliver the list required by this section if the master shall prove to the satisfaction of the court that he had no knowledge, information, or reason to believe that the list delivered by him was incorrect, incomplete, or false in any particular.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who shall fail to deport on board the vessel such alien seaman employed on such vessel shall pay the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival $20 for each such alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

That section 30, as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising independent of June 5, 1940.

(b) Proof shall be on alien seaman who appeal upon the question arising of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to sustain a finding to the effect that such alien seaman has been duly discharged in the port of arrival by the immigration officer at the direction of the master of such vessel, and that such alien seaman has not been granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, W. A. FLEMING, of the S. S. MARKET, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in and shall report or have duties during her present voyage. I have tested the copy of section 30 of the Act of February 3, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 30, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

W. A. Fleming
Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this 13 day of [illegible]

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I-418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien crewman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or any port in the United States from any foreign port to which the provisions of section 37 of this Act apply, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel, whether they are passengers or members of the crew, and shall answer such questions touching the right of any person to enter the United States as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Such list or manifest shall be prepared and delivered in such manner and form and contain such particulars as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel shall furnish such additional information relative to any person on board as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration or any officer of the United States Immigration Service designated by him. Such list or manifest shall be produced at the time of the inspection of the vessel by the immigration officer at the port of arrival and shall be corrected to the time of such inspection by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel. Such list or manifest shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and one copy shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, one copy shall be delivered to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, and one copy shall be delivered to the Commissioner General of Immigration at Washington, District of Columbia. Such list or manifest shall be signed by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel, and sworn to before the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and such master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, as aforesaid, to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port is located: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such fine, if a sum sufficient to cover such fine is deposited with the collector of customs to insure the payment thereof when finally determined. Such fine shall not be remitted or refunded except that no fine shall be imposed for failure to deliver the list or manifest of any alien crewman who shall have been duly certified by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service at the time of departure from a foreign port or place as being unable to proceed to the United States by reason of illness, injury, or other medical condition requiring treatment, and who shall be left behind in a foreign port or place for such reason, and such certification is noted on the list or manifest of aliens required to be delivered at the port of arrival: Provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such fine upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be required of such alien seaman before a clearance bond for the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign port or place will be granted. Such proof may consist of the certificate of the master of the vessel that the alien seaman in respect of whom such fine is imposed was employed on board such vessel until the immigration officer at the port of arrival had inspected the alien seaman (which inspection it is the duty of such immigration officer to make), or the alien seaman has been treated in a hospital, or has been otherwise properly accounted for to the satisfaction of the Commissioner General of Immigration. Such clearance bond shall be void and the amount paid thereon refunded to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel upon the production of such proof within six months from the date of the payment of such fine, or within such further time, not exceeding six months in addition thereto, as the Commissioner General of Immigration may allow. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign port or place will be prejudicial to the interests of such vessel or the owner thereof, such alien seaman may be permitted to land in the United States under such conditions as to security, bond, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such alien seaman is so landed or such bond is given, notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (b) of this section. Such bond shall be in such amount as the Attorney General may require, but not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such bond is given, and shall be conditioned that such alien seaman shall depart from the United States within such period as may be allowed by the Attorney General and shall comply with all the requirements of the immigration laws during such period. Such bond may be sued for and recovered by the United States in the name of the Attorney General for the use of the United States upon the breach of any condition thereof.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel, whether passengers or members of the crew, and such additional information relative to any person on board as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Such list or manifest shall be prepared and delivered in such manner and form and contain such particulars as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $30 for each person concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, as aforesaid, to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, and one copy shall be delivered to the Commissioner General of Immigration at Washington, District of Columbia. Such list or manifest shall be signed by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel, and sworn to before the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and such master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each person concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, as aforesaid, unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel shall have delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a certified copy of the list or manifest of such alien which has been visaed by the consular officer who issued the passport or other travel document of such alien, or, if such passport or other travel document was not issued by the country to which such alien owes allegiance, by the consular officer who issued the passport or other travel document of the country to which such alien owes allegiance, or, if such alien does not have a passport or other travel document, by the consular officer who issued a passport or other travel document to such alien for the country from which such alien last came to the United States, and such list or manifest shall show the date, place, and manner of such alien's admission for permanent residence in the United States or for temporary residence, specifying the particular temporary residence granted, and the date, place, and manner of such alien's last admission into the United States, and whether such alien has been in the United States before, and if so, how long he remained, and whether he has ever been refused admission to the United States, or deported, or has ever applied for such admission or deportation, and if so, when and where, and whether such alien is in possession of a valid unexpired immigrant visa, and whether such alien is in possession of a valid unexpired passport or other travel document, and such other information as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, for the identification of such alien. The list or manifest shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and one copy shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, one copy shall be delivered to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, and one copy shall be delivered to the Commissioner General of Immigration at Washington, District of Columbia. Such list or manifest shall be signed by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel, and sworn to before the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and such master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each person concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, as aforesaid, to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, as aforesaid, to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port is located, and one copy shall be delivered to the Commissioner General of Immigration at Washington, District of Columbia. Such list or manifest shall be signed by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel, and sworn to before the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and such master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, as aforesaid, unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel shall have delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a certified copy of the list or manifest of such alien which has been visaed by the consular officer who issued the passport or other travel document of such alien, or, if such passport or other travel document was not issued by the country to which such alien owes allegiance, by the consular officer who issued the passport or other travel document of the country to which such alien last came to the United States, and such list or manifest shall show the date, place, and manner of such alien's admission for permanent residence in the United States or for temporary residence, specifying the particular temporary residence granted, and the date, place, and manner of such alien's last admission into the United States, and whether such alien has been in the United States before, and if so, how long he remained, and whether he has ever been refused admission to the United States, or deported, or has ever applied for such admission or deportation, and if so, when and where, and whether such alien is in possession of a valid unexpired immigrant visa, and whether such alien is in possession of a valid unexpired passport or other travel document, and such other information as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, for the identification of such alien. The list or manifest shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and one copy shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, one copy shall be delivered to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, and one copy shall be delivered to the Commissioner General of Immigration at Washington, District of Columbia. Such list or manifest shall be signed by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel, and sworn to before the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and such master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each person concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, as aforesaid, to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, as aforesaid, to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port is located, and one copy shall be delivered to the Commissioner General of Immigration at Washington, District of Columbia. Such list or manifest shall be signed by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel, and sworn to before the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and such master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, as aforesaid, unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel shall have delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a certified copy of the list or manifest of such alien which has been visaed by the consular officer who issued the passport or other travel document of such alien, or, if such passport or other travel document was not issued by the country to which such alien owes allegiance, by the consular officer who issued the passport or other travel document of the country to which such alien last came to the United States, and such list or manifest shall show the date, place, and manner of such alien's admission for permanent residence in the United States or for temporary residence, specifying the particular temporary residence granted, and the date, place, and manner of such alien's last admission into the United States, and whether such alien has been in the United States before, and if so, how long he remained, and whether he has ever been refused admission to the United States, or deported, or has ever applied for such admission or deportation, and if so, when and where, and whether such alien is in possession of a valid unexpired immigrant visa, and whether such alien is in possession of a valid unexpired passport or other travel document, and such other information as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, for the identification of such alien. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below is prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the port of arrival. Use black ink or indelible pencil. Write plainly on all manifests as failure to do so may cause delay in the examination of the passengers. (See "Notice to masters" in the front of the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of crews (Form I—418) crew list should be detached on the dotted line and delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is given "notify" address should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of entering American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization to such extent as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 160.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deport on board such vessel such alien seaman employed on such vessel when required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and each alien seaman (whether inspected and admitted or not) employed on board such vessel who fails to report for such immigration officer at the time of departure of such vessel from the United States, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The action, as amended, shall apply to all penalties already incurred at the time of the approval of the Act of 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily in the United States for medical treatment or hospitalization to such extent as the Attorney General shall require, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart with such vessel, notwithstanding the production of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, but such presumption may be overcome to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival like counterpart of all lists or manifests of alien passengers required by the laws and regulations governing the admission of aliens to the United States, to be delivered to the master of the vessel by the boarding officer at the time of his going on board for the purpose of inspecting the passengers on board such vessel, and before such vessel shall be granted clearance papers. Such lists or manifests shall be prepared and delivered or transmitted by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall contain such additional information relative to each alien mentioned therein as the Commissioner General of Immigration shall require to carry into effect the provisions and purposes of this Act. Such lists or manifests shall be signed by the master of the vessel, who shall make oath before the immigration officer at the port of arrival that the lists or manifests by him subscribed contain a full, true, and complete manifest of all persons for whom he is required by this Act to make such manifest, and that the same is in all respects true and correct, and that no person mentioned therein has been overlooked. Such master shall also produce the crew list required by the shipping commissioner at the port of departure, and deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a list of all members of the crew who have been left behind at any foreign port or place, specifying the cause of their detention, if known, and the intended destination of each. Such master shall also report the name of any alien stowaway found on board after the vessel has left her last foreign port or place, and the intended destination of such stowaway, and the immigration officer at the port of arrival shall cause a search to be made for stowaways before granting clearance papers to such vessel. Such master shall also report the illness or death of any person on board during the voyage, the cause thereof, and the medical treatment provided, and shall deliver a certificate of the illness or death of each such person, which certificate shall be prepared by the medical officer in charge, if there was one on board, and if not, by the master. Such master shall also report the name of any alien seaman who shall desert while in port, and shall, before clearance papers are granted to the vessel, deposit with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to pay the cost of the return of each such alien seaman to the country whence he came, to be determined by the Commissioner General of Immigration, unless such master shall produce a receipt from the consular officer of the country to which such alien seaman belongs showing that provision has been made for his return, or that such consular officer declines to make any charge therefor. Such master shall also report the name of any alien seaman who shall have been left behind at any foreign port or place, and the reason for failure to return him to the United States, and the steps taken to effect his return, and deposit with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to pay the cost of his return

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the port of arrival. One list, to include names of all persons (including the crew, cabin passengers, and master) who arrive, must be delivered to the inspector. If there is more than one vessel, a separate list must be delivered for each vessel. The list of crew (including the master) must be typewritten on paper. Any alteration in writing made after the list is signed must be initialed by the master. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens arriving at ports where there are many, it is suggested that the names of aliens be written in a separate list, consecutively numbered, and that the crew list be prepared in the order of the names appearing in the separate list. Any alien member of the crew who is to be discharged in a foreign port or who is to be left behind for any cause must be reported to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. Any alien member of the crew who has been discharged in a foreign port or who has died or deserted must be reported to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. Any alien member of the crew who has been left behind for any cause

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival and not in advance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens must be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. Any master who refuses or neglects to deliver (Form I-425) shall not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port, or the master will be required to deposit with the collector of customs a bond in the penal sum of $1,000 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a fine thereof in not more than $300 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered.

The Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 153; 8 U. S. C. 201) provides that no alien shall be admitted to the United States unless he has an unexpired immigration visa and passport duly viséed by an American consular officer, except that certain classes of aliens specified in the Act may be admitted without visas. Among those required to obtain visas are aliens in transit through the United States, aliens who have been in the United States and who are returning from a temporary visit abroad, aliens who have been lawfully admitted to the United States and who are returning from a visit to Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, the West Indies, Panama, the Canal Zone, or some island possession of the United States, and aliens who are coming to the United States solely as bona fide crew members of vessels arriving at ports of the United States. Masters should bear in mind that the Immigration Act of 1924 requires that all aliens coming to the United States must be in possession of valid passports and visas, and that severe penalties are provided for violations of the law. Masters should therefore assure themselves that all aliens coming on board their vessels at foreign ports are in possession of valid passports and visas before they are allowed to depart for the United States.

Masters should also bear in mind that the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended, excludes from admission into the United States aliens who are unable to read the English language or some other language or dialect, including Hebrew or Yiddish, with certain specified exceptions. Masters should therefore assure themselves that all aliens coming on board their vessels at foreign ports are able to read the English language or some other language or dialect, including Hebrew or Yiddish, with certain specified exceptions. Masters should therefore assure themselves that all aliens coming on board their vessels at foreign ports are able to read the English language or some other language or dialect, including Hebrew or Yiddish, with certain specified exceptions.

Masters should also bear in mind that the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended, excludes from admission into the United States aliens who are unable to read the English language or some other language or dialect, including Hebrew or Yiddish, with certain specified exceptions. Masters should therefore assure themselves that all aliens coming on board their vessels at foreign ports are able to read the English language or some other language or dialect, including Hebrew or Yiddish, with certain specified exceptions.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival by vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the alien's employ, when and where they were respectively applied for and shipped, and specifying those to be paid off in the port of arrival; to list contiguous as much of such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and also to list the names of the crew of such vessel if ahead of the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report such information officer, in writing as soon as discovered, all cases in which any alien has been illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed after were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of such departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such aliens arriving and departing, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Attorney General, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a fine thereof is not made as above provided; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. SEC. 150.13. Lists of alien employees: When clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted via vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171) have been furnished and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by this section or to that prescribed by section 36 of said Act (43 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171) appear upon the face of the clearance, or a statement to such effect signed by the master to the immigrant inspector, stating that no fine is believed to be incurred, or that the fine incurred will be paid at the port specified.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such temporary inability to depart as the Attorney General may prescribe for its ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation (43 Stat. 164 & U. S. C. 166)

SEC. 16. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, other than Canada or Mexico, shall cause each alien seaman employed on such vessel duly inspected and examined (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner) or who fails to obtain on board such alien seaman or board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10.12 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to pay such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section as amended shall apply to all proceedings pending independent to June 5, 1924.

(b) Front that on alien seaman did not appear upon the onboard manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to its payment Enstructed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165; 8 U. S. C. 166 (b) 167(c))

SEC. 36. [Any alien arriving in the United States from the foreign part of the State of Texas, or any alien who has entered the United States from the Republic of Mexico at any seaport or land border port of entry, shall, at the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, be debarred from entering the United States for a period of one year from the date of his deportation or removal, unless prior to his application for admission he shall have received permission from the Secretary of Labor to reapply for admission to the United States.]

SEC. 37. (a) The owner, master, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the immediate deportation of such alien from the United States. (8 USC 1a1, 8 U. S. C. 1a1.)

SEC. 38. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, (which immediately previously had been infected with the bubonic plague,) or the medical examiner of the port of arrival at which a vessel arrives, shall report the fact to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, and the master of such vessel shall report the fact to the nearest customs officer if the vessel arrives at a port at which there is no customs officer. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the facts relative to the presence of such plague, or while the same remains infected, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such facts upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof.

(b) Any vessel which shall violate the provisions of subsection (a) of this section, as amended, shall be subject to all penalties against unspecified to June 2, 1940.

(c) If the Attorney General shall determine that a vessel is a vessel, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after treatment by the Immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after treatment by the Immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General shall determine to the vessel on which he arrived on the expense of the vessel, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or all payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for the purpose of medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 161; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof to which is destined to depart on board such vessel shall file with the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspection a list containing the name of each alien employed on such vessel and such other information with respect to the alien as may be required by the Attorney General, and, whether or not required to report as such immigration officer, in writing as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien may have illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, following, with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed by them on such vessel since the filing of the list of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of such departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those who have deserted, and the last known address of each such alien; and before the departure of any such vessel from a port in the United States the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like lists containing the names of all persons employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively signed on and, if discharged, and whether those so paid and discharged in the port of arrival; to state concerning each alien so much of such information as may be required by the Attorney General, and, whether or not required to report as such immigration officer, in writing as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien may have illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, following, with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed by them on such vessel since the filing of the list of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of such departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those who have deserted, and the last known address of each such alien; and before the departure of any vessel from a port in the United States the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver a like list of such alien employees, and, if any, who have been detected in landing: Provided, That if any such alien is prevented by sickness or injury from departing on such vessel, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master shall report such fact and the cause thereof to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and such report shall be considered a compliance with this section so far as such alien is concerned: Provided further, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien who is destined to a foreign country, and who is not admissible into the United States, shall not be required to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the name of such alien, but in lieu thereof shall deliver to such officer a separate list containing the name and such other information regarding such alien as may be required by the Attorney General: And provided further, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien who is in possession of a valid unexpired immigrant visa, or who is not required to obtain a visa, shall deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a list containing the name of such alien and such other information regarding him as may be required by the Attorney General.

(b) Upon the refusal by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively signed on and, if discharged, and whether those so paid and discharged in the port of arrival; to state concerning each alien so much of such information as may be required by the Attorney General, and, whether or not required to report as such immigration officer, in writing as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien may have illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, following, with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed by them on such vessel since the filing of the list of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of such departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those who have deserted, and the last known address of each such alien; and before the departure of any vessel from a port in the United States the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver a like list of such alien employees, and, if any, who have been detected in landing from such vessel, and the reason for each such alien's departure, desertion, or landing, and the destination of each such alien, and the vessel on which he will depart, if known, have been reported to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel has been notified that such vessel will be granted clearance upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, and in the event such sum is not deposited, while it remains pending; the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withhold such deposit or any part thereof pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, or in a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withhold such deposit or any part thereof pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, or in a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper, in lieu of such deposit, accept the agreement in writing of such master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel bringing an alien who is in possession of a valid unexpired immigrant visa, or who is not required to obtain a visa, to pay the tax imposed by section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, upon the arrival of such alien at a port of the United States, and such agreement shall have the same force and effect as a bond given to secure the payment of such tax. (43 Stat. 161; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such seaman shall not be detained on board such vessel after the expiration of the time allowed by the Attorney General for his departure. (43 Stat. 161–162, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), 161 (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has been employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or by reason of the act of the master in discharging him from the vessel, or for the sole purpose of obtaining surgical treatment which cannot be obtained on board the vessel, or for such other reasons as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel having arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to depart on board the same vessel which the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or to deliver such seaman on board such vessel when departing to the immigration officer at the port of departure, or who fails to report the illness or hospital treatment of such seaman as required by the regulations of the Attorney General or to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport alien seaman by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States. Clearance shall not be granted such vessel while such alien seaman remains in the port, or a bond to the satisfaction of the Attorney General in the penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman, conditioned upon the production of such alien seaman or proof of his death, may be given.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which the arrived, under such regulations as he may prescribe, and the expense of the deportation shall be a lien against the vessel to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(42 Stat. 164–182, 28 Stat. 218; 8 U. S. C. 101 (d), 101 (e).)

I, _____, of the _____, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from any port or place during my present voyage. I have noted the cause of absence of each person mentioned in said list, and the time of shipping or leaving. I have made a like entry in the ship's log-book, and have exhibited to the Immigrant Inspector the said log-book, from the time of leaving the last port to the time of sailing from this port. I have also noted the number of passengers taken on board at each port, and the number landed at each port, during the present voyage. I have also noted the number of deaths and births that have occurred during the present voyage, and the cause of each death. I have also noted the number of seamen discharged or left behind during the present voyage, and the reasons for such discharge or desertion. I have also noted the number of seamen shipped during the present voyage, and the ports at which they were shipped. I have also noted the number of passengers carried during the present voyage, and the ports at which they were received and landed. I have also noted the number of stowaways, if any, who have been discovered on board my vessel during the present voyage, and the disposition made of them. I have also noted the number of deserters from my vessel during the present voyage, and the proceedings taken for the apprehension of such deserters. I have also noted the number of seamen who have died during the present voyage, and the cause of death of each. I have also noted the number of births that have occurred during the present voyage, and the cause of death of each infant. I have also noted the number of passengers who have died during the present voyage, and the cause of death of each. I have also noted the number of passengers who have been sent on board any other vessel during the present voyage, and the name of such vessel. I have also noted the number of passengers who have been transferred from any other vessel during the present voyage, and the name of such vessel. I have also noted the number of passengers who have been left behind during the present voyage, and the reasons for such passengers being left behind. I have also noted the number of passengers who have been taken on board during the present voyage, and the ports at which they were received on board. I have also noted the number of passengers who have been landed during the present voyage, and the ports at which they were landed. I have also noted the number of passengers who have been transferred during the present voyage, and the ports at which they were transferred

SEC. 150.15. Limit of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be refused the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof, on account of the failure to deliver lists of alien members of the crew, or any of them, required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 171), unless upon demand therefor, and upon refusal by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver such lists, the immigrant inspector in charge at the port shall have reported the facts to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, and he shall have directed the withholding of clearance. Clearance shall not be refused for failure to deliver lists of alien members of the crew in excess of the number shown by the vessel's crew manifest, but the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master shall furnish a correct list of the persons actually employed on board the vessel at the time of departure. (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

VERIFICATION OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, M. A. Ellis Nickel, of the Sea Gull, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from and port or hence during her present voyage. I have noted the cobh of section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and cobh of sections 51 and 52, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

M. A. Ellis Nickel
Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this ____ day of ____, 51

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector promptly the vessel at the port of arrival. Not list or changes of alien members of crews (Form I-418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival list containing the names of all alien employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off in the port of arrival; or list containing as much of such information as may be required from the vessel, stating a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his identification: and it shall be the duty of the alien employee who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival and who intend to depart from the United States to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which the said alien had been shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off in the port of arrival; or list containing as much of such information likely to lead to his identification: and it shall be the duty of the alien employee who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who intend to depart from the United States to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which the said alien had been shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off in the port of arrival; or list containing as much of such information likely to lead to his identification: and it shall be the duty of the master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who had been shipped or engaged, and specifying those who had been discharged, and the cause, if any, why such person was discharged: and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, or failure to report as to any alien employee, the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10 for each alien concerning whom correct list are not delivered or a true report is not made as aforesaid, or by imprisonment for not more than ten days, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the inspector of such district in which the port of arrival is located the fine of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising subsequent to June 2, 1910.

(b) Every alien seaman on board any vessel upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to a place outside thereof, to which he was a passenger, shall be taken charge of by the immigration officer to the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be charged elsewhere than paid by him to its payment Emergency to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

AFFIDAVIT OF TRUE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, STUART A LULLOCH, MASTER, of the AMER OIL SCREW T.E. LOVELOA, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew presently in said vessel from and port or place during her foreign voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 30 of the Act of February 3, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 41 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, supra above hereof.

Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this THIRTY FIRST day of MARCH 1961

Immigrant Inspector.

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector pending the vessel at the port of arrival. Line No. 1 will be filled in by the master, or officer in charge of the vessel at the port of departure: Line No. 2 will be filled in by the port of arrival: to illustrate completion of the list, if Line No. 1 shows that the vessel left Hamburg, Germany, on April 1, 1924, and arrived at New York, N. Y., on April 15, 1924, Line No. 2 will show the name of the vessel, the name of the master, the number of persons on board, and the name of the port of arrival. (1) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien named on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien's husband, wife, or minor child, or parent, he may cancel proceedings against such alien and adjust his status to that of an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence, if such alien is found admissible under the immigration laws at the time of his application for adjustment of status and is eligible to receive an immigrant visa and admission to the United States for permanent residence is immediately available to him at the time his application is approved. Such adjustment may be made in the discretion of the Attorney General in the case of any alien who is found to be a refugee within the purview of section 203 (a) (7) of this Act and who applies for such adjustment within one year after the effective date of this subsection. The Attorney General may, in his discretion, record the lawful admission for permanent residence as of the date of the alien's arrival into the United States or as of the date one year before the date of his application for adjustment of status, whichever is more advantageous to the alien, if the alien is otherwise entitled to have his status adjusted under the provisions of this subsection at the time of his arrival into the United States. Nothing in this subsection shall be applicable to any alien who (A) has been convicted of a felony or felonies or other crimes, or a combination thereof, evidencing such moral turpitude that in the opinion of the Attorney General his admission would be contrary to the national welfare, safety, or security, or (B) is a member of a subversive organization or party, or (C) is within any of the classes enumerated in subsections (27) (D) and (28) of section 212 (a) of this Act. (8 U. S. C. 1182 (a) (27) (D), (28).)

(2) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of any alien would be prejudicial to the interests of the United States for any reason relating to the public welfare, he may, in his discretion, suspend deportation of such alien regardless of the time of his entry into the United States, for such period or periods as he deems necessary, if such alien applies to the Attorney General for suspension during the period in which he is physically present in the United States and establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that during such period he is and has been a person of good moral character. Upon the termination of each period of suspension, the Attorney General shall cancel deportation and adjust the status of such alien to that of an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence as of the date of the termination of such period of suspension. Upon the cancellation of deportation in the case of any alien under this paragraph, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, record the lawful admission for permanent residence as of the date of the alien's arrival into the United States or as of the date one year before the date of his application for adjustment of status, whichever is more advantageous to the alien, if the alien is otherwise entitled to have his status adjusted under the provisions of this subsection at the time of his arrival into the United States. Nothing in this subsection shall be applicable to any alien who (A) has been convicted of a felony or felonies or other crimes, or a combination thereof, evidencing such moral turpitude that in the opinion of the Attorney General his admission would be contrary to the national welfare, safety, or security, or (B) is a member of a subversive organization or party, or (C) is within any of the classes enumerated in subsections (27) (D) and (28) of section 212 (a) of this Act. (8 U. S. C. 1182 (a) (27) (D), (28).)

(3) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of any alien would be prejudicial to the interests of the United States for any reason relating to the public welfare, he may, in his discretion, suspend deportation of such alien regardless of the time of his entry into the United States, for such period or periods as he deems necessary, if such alien applies to the Attorney General for suspension during the period in which he is physically present in the United States and establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that during such period he is and has been a person of good moral character. Upon the termination of each period of suspension, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, record the lawful admission for permanent residence as of the date of the alien's arrival into the United States or as of the date one year before the date of his application for adjustment of status, whichever is more advantageous to the alien, if the alien is otherwise entitled to have his status adjusted under the provisions of this subsection at the time of his arrival into the United States. Nothing in this subsection shall be applicable to any alien who (A) has been convicted of a felony or felonies or other crimes, or a combination thereof, evidencing such moral turpitude that in the opinion of the Attorney General his admission would be contrary to the national welfare, safety, or security, or (B) is a member of a subversive organization or party, or (C) is within any of the classes enumerated in subsections (27) (D) and (28) of section 212 (a) of this Act. (8 U. S. C. 1182 (a) (27) (D), (28).)

(4) Every alien and every person acting for him who knowingly makes any false statement or representation with respect to any matter upon the consideration of which he is entitled to receive any benefit under this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(5) Upon the termination of each period of suspension, the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withhold such deportation of such alien for such further period or periods as he deems necessary, if such alien applies to the Attorney General for such further suspension during the period in which he is physically present in the United States and establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that during such period he is and has been a person of good moral character. Upon the termination of each period of such further suspension, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, record the lawful admission for permanent residence as of the date of the alien's arrival into the United States or as of the date one year before the date of his application for adjustment of status, whichever is more advantageous to the alien, if the alien is otherwise entitled to have his status adjusted under the provisions of this subsection at the time of his arrival into the United States. Nothing in this subsection shall be applicable to any alien who (A) has been convicted of a felony or felonies or other crimes, or a combination thereof, evidencing such moral turpitude that in the opinion of the Attorney General his admission would be contrary to the national welfare, safety, or security, or (B) is a member of a subversive organization or party, or (C) is within any of the classes enumerated in subsections (27) (D) and (28) of section 212 (a) of this Act. (8 U. S. C. 1182 (a) (27) (D), (28).)

(6) Every alien and every person acting for him who knowingly makes any false statement or representation with respect to any matter upon the consideration of which he is entitled to receive any benefit under this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(7) Upon the termination of each period of suspension, the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withhold such deportation of such alien for such further period or periods as he deems necessary, if such alien applies to the Attorney General for such further suspension during the period in which he is physically present in the United States and establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that during such period he is and has been a person of good moral character. Upon the termination of each period of such further suspension, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, record the lawful admission for permanent residence as of the date of the alien's arrival into the United States or as of the date one year before the date of his application for adjustment of status, whichever is more advantageous to the alien, if the alien is otherwise entitled to have his status adjusted under the provisions of this subsection at the time of his arrival into the United States. Nothing in this subsection shall be applicable to any alien who (A) has been convicted of a felony or felonies or other crimes, or a combination thereof, evidencing such moral turpitude that in the opinion of the Attorney General his admission would be contrary to the national welfare, safety, or security, or (B) is a member of a subversive organization or party, or (C) is within any of the classes enumerated in subsections (27) (D) and (28) of section 212 (a) of this Act. (8 U. S. C. 1182 (a) (27) (D), (28).)

(8) Every alien and every person acting for him who knowingly makes any false statement or representation with respect to any matter upon the consideration of which he is entitled to receive any benefit under this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(9) Upon the termination of each period of suspension, the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withhold such deportation of such alien for such further period or periods as he deems necessary, if such alien applies to the Attorney General for such further suspension during the period in which he is physically present in the United States and establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that during such period he is and has been a person of good moral character. Upon the termination of each period of such further suspension, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, record the lawful admission for permanent residence as of the date of the alien's arrival into the United States or as of the date one year before the date of his application for adjustment of status, whichever is more advantageous to the alien, if the alien is otherwise entitled to have his status adjusted under the provisions of this subsection at the time of his arrival into the United States. Nothing in this subsection shall be applicable to any alien who (A) has been convicted of a felony or felonies or other crimes, or a combination thereof, evidencing such moral turpitude that in the opinion of the Attorney General his admission would be contrary to the national welfare, safety, or security, or (B) is a member of a subversive organization or party, or (C) is within any of the classes enumerated in subsections (27) (D) and (28) of section 212 (a) of this Act. (8 U. S. C. 1182 (a) (27) (D), (28).)

(10) Every alien and every person acting for him who knowingly makes any false statement or representation with respect to any matter upon the consideration of which he is entitled to receive any benefit under this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(11) Upon the termination of each period of suspension, the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withhold such deportation of such alien for such further period or periods as he deems necessary, if such alien applies to the Attorney General for such further suspension during the period in which he is physically present in the United States and establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that during such period he is and has been a person of good moral character. Upon the termination of each period of such further suspension, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, record the lawful admission for permanent residence as of the date of the alien's arrival into the United States or as of the date one year before the date of his application for adjustment of status, whichever is more advantageous to the alien, if the alien is otherwise entitled to have his status adjusted under the provisions of this subsection at the time of his arrival into the United States. Nothing in this subsection shall be applicable to any alien who (A) has been convicted of a felony or felonies or other crimes, or a combination thereof, evidencing such moral turpitude that in the opinion of the Attorney General his admission would be contrary to the national welfare, safety, or security, or (B) is a member of a subversive organization or party, or (C) is within any of the classes enumerated in subsections (27) (D) and (28) of section 212 (a) of this Act. (8 U. S. C. 1182 (a) (27) (D), (28).)

(12) Every alien and every person acting for him who knowingly makes any false statement or representation with respect to any matter upon the consideration of which he is entitled to receive any benefit under this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(13) Upon the termination of each period of suspension, the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withhold such deportation of such alien for such further period or periods as he deems necessary, if such alien applies to the Attorney General for such further suspension during the period in which he is physically present in the United States and establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that during such period he is and has been a person of good moral character. Upon the termination of each period of such further suspension, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, record the lawful admission for permanent residence as of the date of the alien's arrival into the United States or as of the date one year before the date of his application for adjustment of status, whichever is more advantageous to the alien, if the alien is otherwise entitled to have his status adjusted under the provisions of this subsection at the time of his arrival into the United States. Nothing in this subsection shall be applicable to any alien who (A) has been convicted of a felony or felonies or other crimes, or a combination thereof, evidencing such moral turpitude that in the opinion of the Attorney General his admission would be contrary to the national welfare, safety, or security, or (B) is a member of a subversive organization or party, or (C) is within any of the classes enumerated in subsections (27) (D) and (28) of section 212 (a) of this Act. (8 U. S. C. 1182 (a) (27) (D), (28).)

(14) Every alien and every person acting for him who knowingly makes any false statement or representation with respect to any matter upon the consideration of which he is entitled to receive any benefit under this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(15) Upon the termination of each period of suspension, the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withhold such deportation of such alien for such further period or periods as he deems necessary, if such alien applies to the Attorney General for such further suspension during the period in which he is physically present in the United States and establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that during such period he is and has been a person of good moral character. Upon the termination of each period of such further suspension, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, record the lawful admission for permanent residence as of the date of the alien's arrival into the United States or as of the date one year before the date of his application for adjustment of status, whichever is more advantageous to the alien, if the alien is otherwise entitled to have his status adjusted under the provisions of this subsection at the time of his arrival into the United States. Nothing in this subsection shall be applicable to any alien who (A) has been convicted of a felony or felonies or other crimes, or a combination thereof, evidencing such moral turpitude that in the opinion of the Attorney General his admission would be contrary to the national welfare, safety, or security, or (B) is a member of a subversive organization or party, or (C) is within any of the classes enumerated in subsections (27) (D) and (28) of section 212 (a) of this Act. (8 U. S. C. 1182 (a) (27) (D), (28).)

(16) Every alien and every person acting for him who knowingly makes any false statement or representation with respect to any matter upon the consideration of which he is entitled to receive any benefit under this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(17) Upon the termination of each period of suspension, the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withhold such deportation of such alien for such further period or periods as he deems necessary, if such alien applies to the Attorney General for such further suspension during the period in which he is physically present in the United States and establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that during such period he is and has been a person of good moral character. Upon the termination of each period of such further suspension, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, record the lawful admission for permanent residence as of the date of the alien's arrival into the United States or as of the date one year before the date of his application for adjustment of status, whichever is more advantageous to the alien, if the alien is otherwise entitled to have his status adjusted under the provisions of this subsection at the time of his arrival into the United States. Nothing in this subsection shall be applicable to any alien who (A) has been convicted of a felony or felonies or other crimes, or a combination thereof, evidencing such moral turpitude that in the opinion of the Attorney General his admission would be contrary to the national welfare, safety, or security, or (B) is a member of a subversive organization or party, or (C) is within any of the classes enumerated in subsections (27) (D) and (28) of section 212 (a) of this Act. (8 U. S. C. 1182 (a) (27) (D), (28).)

(18) Every alien and every person acting for him who knowingly makes any false statement or representation with respect to any matter upon the consideration of which he is entitled to receive any benefit under this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(19) Upon the termination of each period of suspension, the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withhold such deportation of such alien for such further period or periods as he deems necessary, if such alien applies to the Attorney General for such further suspension during the period in which he is physically present in the United States and establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that during such period he is and has been a person of good moral character. Upon the termination of each period of such further suspension, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, record the lawful admission for permanent residence as of the date of the alien's arrival into the United States or as of the date one year before the date of his application for adjustment of status, whichever is more advantageous to the alien, if the alien is otherwise entitled to have his status adjusted under the provisions of this subsection at the time of his arrival into the United States. Nothing in this subsection shall be applicable to any alien who (A) has been convicted of a felony or felonies or other crimes, or a combination thereof, evidencing such moral turpitude that in the opinion of the Attorney General his admission would be contrary to the national welfare, safety, or security, or (B) is a member of a subversive organization or party, or (C) is within any of the classes enumerated in subsections (27) (D) and (28) of section 212 (a) of this Act. (8 U. S. C. 1182 (a) (27) (D), (28).)

(20) Every alien and every person acting for him who knowingly makes any false statement or representation with respect to any matter upon the consideration of which he is entitled to receive any benefit under this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(21) Upon the termination of each period of suspension, the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withhold such deportation of such alien for such further period or periods as he deems necessary, if such alien applies to the Attorney General for such further suspension during the period in which he is physically present in the United States and establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that during such period he is and has been a person of good moral character. Upon the termination of each period of such further suspension, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, record the lawful admission for permanent residence as of the date of the alien's arrival into the United States or as of the date one year before the date of his application for adjustment of status, whichever is more advantageous to the alien, if the alien is otherwise entitled to have his status adjusted under the provisions of this subsection at the time of his arrival into the United States. Nothing in this subsection shall be applicable to any alien who (A) has been convicted of a felony or felonies or other crimes, or a combination thereof, evidencing such moral turpitude that in the opinion of the Attorney General his admission would be contrary to the national welfare, safety, or security, or (B) is a member of a subversive organization or party, or (C) is within any of the classes enumerated in subsections (27) (D) and (28) of section 212 (a) of this Act. (8 U. S. C. 1182 (a) (27) (D), (28).)

(22) Every alien and every person acting for him who knowingly makes any false statement or representation with respect to any matter upon the consideration of which he is entitled to receive any benefit under this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(23) Upon the termination of each period of suspension, the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withhold such deportation of such alien for such further period or periods as he deems necessary, if such alien applies to the Attorney General for such further suspension during the period in which he is physically present in the United States and establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that during such period he is and has been a person of good moral character. Upon the termination of each period of such further suspension, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, record the lawful admission for permanent residence as of the date of the alien's arrival into the United States or as of the date one year before the date of his application for adjustment of status, whichever is more advantageous to the alien, if the alien is otherwise entitled to have his status adjusted under the provisions of this subsection at the time of his arrival into the United States. Nothing in this subsection shall be applicable to any alien who (A) has been convicted of a felony or felonies or other crimes, or a combination thereof, evidencing such moral turpitude that in the opinion of the Attorney General his admission would be contrary to the national welfare, safety, or security, or (B) is a member of a subversive organization or party, or (C) is within any of the classes enumerated in subsections (27) (D) and (28) of section 212 (a) of this Act. (8 U. S. C. 1182 (a) (27) (D), (28).)

(24) Every alien and every person acting for him who knowingly makes any false statement or representation with respect to any matter upon the consideration of which he is entitled to receive any benefit under this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(25) Upon the termination of each period of suspension, the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withhold such deportation of such alien for such further period or periods as he deems necessary, if such alien applies to the Attorney General for such further suspension during the period in which he is physically present in the United States and establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that during such period he is and has been a person of good moral character. Upon the termination of each period of such further suspension, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, record the lawful admission for permanent residence as of the date of the alien's arrival into the United States or as of the date one year before the date of his application for adjustment of status, whichever is more advantageous to the alien, if the alien is otherwise entitled to have his status adjusted under the provisions of this subsection at the time of his arrival into the United States. Nothing in this subsection shall be applicable to any alien who (A) has been convicted of a felony or felonies or other crimes, or a combination thereof, evidencing such moral turpitude that in the opinion of the Attorney General his admission would be contrary to the national welfare, safety, or security, or (B) is a member of a subversive organization or party, or (C) is within any of the classes enumerated in subsections (27) (D) and (28) of section 212 (a) of this Act. (8 U. S. C. 1182 (a) (27) (D), (28).)

(26) Every alien and every person acting for him who knowingly makes any false statement or representation with respect to any matter upon the consideration of which he is entitled to receive any benefit under this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(27) Upon the termination of each period of suspension, the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withhold such deportation of such alien for such further period or periods as he deems necessary, if such alien applies to the Attorney General for such further suspension during the period in which he is physically present in the United States and establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that during such period he is and has been a person of good moral character. Upon the termination of each period of such further suspension, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, record the lawful admission for permanent residence as of the date of the alien's arrival into the United States or as of the date one year before the date of his application for adjustment of status, whichever is more advantageous to the alien, if the alien is otherwise entitled to have his status adjusted under the provisions of this subsection at the time of his arrival into the United States. Nothing in this subsection shall be applicable to any alien who (A) has been convicted of a felony or felonies or other crimes, or a combination thereof, evidencing such moral turpitude that in the opinion of the Attorney General his admission would be contrary to the national welfare, safety, or security, or (B) is a member of a subversive organization or party, or (C) is within any of the classes enumerated in subsections (27) (D) and (28) of section 212 (a) of this Act. (8 U. S. C. 1182 (a) (27) (D), (28).)

(28) Every alien and every person acting for him who knowingly makes any false statement or representation with respect to any matter upon the consideration of which he is entitled to receive any benefit under this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(29) Upon the termination of each period of suspension, the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withhold such deportation of such alien for such further period or periods as he deems necessary, if such alien applies to the Attorney General for such further suspension during the period in which he is physically present in the United States and establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that during such period he is and has been a person of good moral character. Upon the termination of each period of such further suspension, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, record the lawful admission for permanent residence as of the date of the alien's arrival into the United States or as of the date one year before the date of his application for adjustment of status, whichever is more advantageous to the alien, if the alien is otherwise entitled to have his status adjusted under the provisions of this subsection at the time of his arrival into the United States. Nothing in this subsection shall be applicable to any alien who (A) has been convicted of a felony or felonies or other crimes, or a combination thereof, evidencing such moral turpitude that in the opinion of the Attorney General his admission would be contrary to the national welfare, safety, or security, or (B) is a member of a subversive organization or party, or (C) is within any of the classes enumerated in subsections (27) (D) and (28) of section 212 (a) of this Act. (8 U. S. C. 1182 (a) (27) (D), (28).)

(30) Every alien and every person acting for him who knowingly makes any false statement or representation with respect to any matter upon the consideration of which he is entitled to receive any benefit under this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(31) Upon the termination of each period of suspension, the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withhold such deportation of such alien for such further period or periods as he deems necessary, if such alien applies to the Attorney General for such further suspension during the period in which he is physically present in the United States and establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that during such period he is and has been a person of good moral character. Upon the termination of each period of such further suspension, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, record the lawful admission for permanent residence as of the date of the alien's arrival into the United States or as of the date one year before the date of his application for adjustment of status, whichever is more advantageous to the alien, if the alien is otherwise entitled to have his status adjusted under the provisions of this subsection at the time of his arrival into the United States. Nothing in this subsection shall be applicable to any alien who (A) has been convicted of a felony or felonies or other crimes, or a combination thereof, evidencing such moral turpitude that in the opinion of the Attorney General his admission would be contrary to the national welfare, safety, or security, or (B) is a member of a subversive organization or party, or (C) is within any of the classes enumerated in subsections (27) (D) and (28) of section 212 (a) of this Act. (8 U. S. C. 1182 (a) (27) (D), (28).)

(32) Every alien and every person acting for him who knowingly makes any false statement or representation with respect to any matter upon the consideration of which he is entitled to receive any benefit under this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(33) Upon the termination of each period of suspension, the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withhold such deportation of such alien for such further period or periods as he deems necessary, if such alien applies to the Attorney General for such further suspension during the period in which he is physically present in the United States and establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that during such period he is and has been a person of good moral character. Upon the termination of each period of such further suspension, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, record the lawful admission for permanent residence as of the date of the alien's arrival into the United States or as of the date one year before the date of his application for adjustment of status, whichever is more advantageous to the alien, if the alien is otherwise entitled to have his status adjusted under the provisions of this subsection at the time of his arrival into the United States. Nothing in this subsection shall be applicable to any alien who (A) has been convicted of a felony or felonies or other crimes, or a combination thereof, evidencing such moral turpitude that in the opinion of the Attorney General his admission would be contrary to the national welfare, safety, or security, or (B) is a member of a subversive organization or party, or (C) is within any of the classes enumerated in subsections (27) (D) and (28) of section 212 (a) of this Act. (8 U. S. C. 1182 (a) (27) (D), (28).)

(34) Every alien and every person acting for him who knowingly makes any false statement or representation with respect to any matter upon the consideration of which he is entitled to receive any benefit under this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(35) Upon the termination of each period of suspension, the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withhold such deportation of such alien for such further period or periods as he deems necessary, if such alien applies to the Attorney General for such further suspension during the period in which he is physically present in the United States and establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that during such period he is and has been a person of good moral character. Upon the termination of each period of such further suspension, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, record the lawful admission for permanent residence as of the date of the alien's arrival into the United States or as of the date one year before the date of his application for adjustment of status, whichever is more advantageous to the alien, if the alien is otherwise entitled to have his status adjusted under the provisions of this subsection at the time of his arrival into the United States. Nothing in this subsection shall be applicable to any alien who (A) has been convicted of a felony or felonies or other crimes, or a combination thereof, evidencing such moral turpitude that in the opinion of the Attorney General his admission would be contrary to the national welfare, safety, or security, or (B) is a member of a subversive organization or party, or (C) is within any of the classes enumerated in subsections (27) (D) and (28) of section 212 (a) of this Act. (8 U. S. C. 1182 (a) (27) (D), (28).)

(36) Every alien and every person acting for him who knowingly makes any false statement or representation with respect to any matter upon the consideration of which he is entitled to receive any benefit under this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(37) Upon the termination of each period of suspension, the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withhold such deportation of such alien for such further period or periods as he deems necessary, if such alien applies to the Attorney General for such further suspension during the period in which he is physically present in the United States and establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that during such period he is and has been a person of good moral character. Upon the termination of each period of such further suspension, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, record the lawful admission for permanent residence as of the date of the alien's arrival into the United States or as of the date one year before the date of his application for adjustment of status, whichever is more advantageous to the alien, if the alien is otherwise entitled to have his status adjusted under the provisions of this subsection at the time of his arrival into the United States. Nothing in this subsection shall be applicable to any alien who (A) has been convicted of a felony or felonies or other crimes, or a combination thereof, evidencing such moral turpitude that in the opinion of the Attorney General his admission would be contrary to the national welfare, safety, or security, or (B) is a member of a subversive organization or party, or (C) is within any of the classes enumerated in subsections (27) (D) and (28) of section 212 (a) of this Act. (8 U. S. C. 1182 (a) (27) (D), (28).)

(38) Every alien and every person acting for him who knowingly makes any false statement or representation with respect to any matter upon the consideration of which he is entitled to receive any benefit under this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(39) Upon the termination of each period of suspension, the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withhold such deportation of such alien for such further period or periods as he deems necessary, if such alien applies to the Attorney General for such further suspension during the period in which he is physically present in the United States and establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that during such period he is and has been a person of good moral character. Upon the termination of each period of such further suspension, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, record the lawful admission for permanent residence as of the date of the alien's arrival into the United States or as of the date one year before the date of his application for adjustment of status, whichever is more advantageous to the alien, if the alien is otherwise entitled to have his status adjusted under the provisions of this subsection at the time of his arrival into the United States. Nothing in this subsection shall be applicable to any alien who (A) has been convicted of a felony or felonies or other crimes, or a combination thereof, evidencing such moral turpitude that in the opinion of the Attorney General his admission would be contrary to the national welfare, safety, or security, or (B) is a member of a subversive organization or party, or (C) is within any of the classes enumerated in subsections (27) (D) and (28) of section 212 (a) of this Act. IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE
U. S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon written waiver of any vessel in the United States from any tonnage port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of entry likely containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and whether those to be paid off in the port of entry or those to be brought to the United States as passengers; and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and upon failure of any such vessel to comply with any of the requirements of this section as to the report or description of any alien employed upon any such vessel, or the illegal landing of any alien, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of entry is located the sum of $120 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a sum sufficient to cover such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, no clearance shall be granted such vessel from the port, and in addition thereto such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall be liable to the penalties provided in section 37 of this Act: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such disposition upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 890, 891; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or insular, territorial, or island possessions as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 16. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall have inspected such seamen (which inspection is all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner) arriving and seamen employed on board after such inspection or to depart such seamen if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs when such action as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section as amended shall apply to all immigration matters unaffected to June 2, 1930.

(b) Every alien seaman who did not appear upon the outward manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was permitted by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart after requirement by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place at the port of arrival shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or injury to such seaman, unless specifically authorized by the Attorney General, under such regulations as he may prescribe, for the purpose of deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous land territory of Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, Panama Canal Zone, or any island adjacent thereto in which immigration officers are stationed, shall, at the time of arrival, report and account for each alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or has taken such steps to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing made within ninety days after payment of such fine, refund the same in whole or in part, together with interest at the rate of 6 per centum per annum in respect of any period subsequent to the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of the execution of the bond, as the case may be, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (43 Stat. 264, 265; 8 U. S. C. 131.)

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after readmittance by the immigration officer of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165; 24 Stat. 414; 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), 163 (c).)

I, ... of the S.S. Host-Main, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew properly in said vessel from and Port or place during her. Present voyage. I have noted the copies of section 30 of the Act of February 3, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 21 and 30, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear above.

Master, First or second officer.

Sworn to before me this ..... day of ....., 19..

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. Such list shall in no instance be taken from the crew. The list of changes of alien members part of crews (Form I-418) shall not be required on board but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, thereof, to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like counterpart of the manifest of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and whether such aliens or any of them have been in the United States before, and if so, when and how long they resided therein, and whether they have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, and whether they have a ticket or money to pay their passage to their ultimate destination; and such list shall be subscribed and sworn to before the immigration officer at the port of arrival by the master of such vessel, or by the first officer, purser, or surgeon thereof, in case of the master's inability to attend by reason of sickness or other cause, and shall be accompanied by a certificate of the master, signed by him in the presence of the immigration officer, stating that he has caused a careful inspection to be made of the crew, and that he has found no stowaways on board, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief the persons named in such list are all the persons who have been employed on board such vessel since her departure from her last foreign port or place, or since she began to take on board cargo at the port of departure, if that be the only foreign port or place at which she has taken on board cargo, and that the list contains a full and correct account of the date and place of birth of each person who has been employed on board such vessel during the period aforesaid, so far as the same can be ascertained by the master after diligent inquiry, and that he has caused a careful inspection to be made of the effects of each person named in such list, and that no prohibited articles are concealed among their effects; and such list and certificate shall be produced to the immigration officer at the time of the vessel's entry at the port of arrival, and before any of the persons named therein are landed therefrom; and such master shall furnish to such immigration officer such additional information concerning the persons named in such list as may be required by such officer; and such master shall, before granted clearance papers for the vessel, deliver to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the vessel is documented or enrolled a list, subscribed and sworn to by him before such collector, containing the names of all persons who have been taken on board such vessel at any port or place in the United States, and the reasons why they were not landed therefrom, if any there be, and produce to such collector the certificate of the immigration officer that the persons named in such list have been duly reported, examined, and landed, as required by this section, and that the certificate required by section 30 of this Act has been duly delivered to him; and such collector shall not grant clearance papers for such vessel if he has reason to believe that any person who has been taken on board such vessel in the United States has not been reported, examined, and landed as required by this section and section 30 of this Act, unless the master produces to such collector the receipt of the proper immigration officer for the commutation tax required by section 2 of this Act in respect of such person. Any master who knowingly fails to comply with the requirements of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each person in respect of whom he so fails to comply, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and may be arrested either before or after the departure of the vessel from the port, and may be prosecuted and punished in the district in which he shall be found or into which the vessel shall first enter, as the case may be; and the vessel shall be liable for the payment of any fine imposed upon the master for violation of this section, and may be seized and proceeded against in the district court of the United States for the district in which the vessel may be found. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the foregoing provisions of this section have been complied with, and the decision of the collector of customs refusing clearance shall be subject to review by the Secretary of the Treasury, whose decision shall be final. Immigration Inspector.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of members of alien members of the crew, or seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), to whom leave to depart has been granted by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival is located the name of the alien, and the number of the certificate issued to him, or the reason why no certificate was issued, and the amount of the bond given for the deposit. Any vessel which shall depart from the port of arrival without the permission of the immigration officer in charge, or without the certificate of deposit, or bond, if required, or without the payment of the head tax, if any, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such tax, or while the tax remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such duration upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof when levied by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit or bond in any case in which he is satisfied that no such tax will be levied, or that the same has been paid, or sufficient sum deposited in the port of arrival; or that conditions exist which render such tax unenforceable, and shall report to the Congress at the beginning of each regular session thereof the names of persons in behalf of whom such action has been taken, together with the reasons therefor.

(b) That the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe rules for the return of seamen who have been lawfully admitted to the United States from any foreign port or place if found in the port, or who have been employed on board any vessel, arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, which shall have been libeled or against which a petition in admiralty has been filed, for the recovery of wages, or which shall have been proceeded against by the United States for the violation of the customs or navigation laws, or which shall be unseaworthy, and shall prescribe rules for the disposition of seamen who have been granted temporary admission into the United States for the purpose of testifying in such cases, and for the return to the vessels on which they were employed or to other vessels of seamen who have been granted temporary admission into the United States for the purpose of testifying in such cases, and shall prescribe rules for the disposition of seamen who have been granted temporary admission into the United States for the purpose of testifying in such cases, and for the return to the vessels on which they were employed or to other vessels of seamen who have been granted temporary admission into the United States for the purpose of testifying in such cases.

SEC. 30. (a) That the master, purser, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board any vessel arriving from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical examination, or in case of epidemic, until the master, purser, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall have complied with the requirements as to the production of seamen, and the payment of the penalties provided for in this section, and shall have been granted a permit so to do by the Secretary of Labor or such person as he may designate for the purpose. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(c) That the Attorney General shall prescribe regulations for the entry and landing of seamen employed on any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or for the detention on board or elsewhere, pending the completion of the physical and mental examination of such seamen, and the treatment of those certified to be suffering from any communicable disease, by the medical officer of the United States Public Health Service at the port of arrival, and for the report to the Secretary of Labor of the name of any seaman who shall have been certified to be suffering from any such disease, and the name of the vessel on which he arrived, and the date of such certification, and the destination of such seaman at the time of such certification

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 30. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the foreign immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete list of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the location their employment, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the names and residences of those to be landed at the port of arrival, and such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe, and upon the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such master, agent, consignee, or owner to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as ascertained, all cases in which any alien employed on such vessel has illegally landed from the vessel, giving description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to the apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such master, agent, consignee, or owner to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not discharged from the vessel at the port of arrival, and the cause of their discharge, and the intended destination of each, so far as known; and failure to perform any of the duties imposed by this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $100 for each alien employee with respect to which such failure occurs: Provided, That clearance may be granted to any vessel prior to the delivery of the list herein required upon the production to the collector of customs of a certificate issued by the Secretary of Labor showing that a sufficient sum of money has been deposited with him to pay the cost of the removal of any alien employee specified in the list who may become a public charge, and that the master, agent, consignee, or owner has given a bond to the United States in such additional sum as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, not to exceed $1,000, conditioned for the delivery to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival of any such alien employee specified in the list who may become a public charge within one year after the date of the vessel's arrival at such port: Provided further, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel may, upon the departure of such vessel, request the immigration officer in charge of the port of departure to issue to him a certificate showing the number of aliens employed on such vessel, and the immigration officer shall issue such certificate upon the production of the list required to be delivered upon the arrival of such vessel and upon the payment of the head tax required by section 2 of this Act. Upon the production of such certificate to the master of any vessel upon its arrival at any port of the United States the master shall be relieved of any liability for the failure of any alien employed on such vessel to land at such port, unless such alien has been specifically listed by the master as required by this section, and

The penalties below shall be enforced on blank forms obtained at the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector before the vessel in which the immigrant arrives shall be entered at the port. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the master shall have made oath that the lists of passengers delivered by him contain the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and destination of each, and that he will not knowingly or willfully land, or permit to be landed, any alien from such vessel at any port in the United States other than a port designated by the Secretary of Labor for the landing of aliens, unless forced by stress of weather or other unavoidable cause to land at some other port, and in such case will report the cause of such landing to the Secretary of Labor, the commissioner of immigration at the port of arrival, and the United States consular officer at the port where the vessel was cleared, and will report the names and last known addresses of all aliens who may be left behind, and pay the cost of their maintenance and transportation to the port of arrival, unless such aliens are otherwise provided for to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor. Such report shall be rendered within forty-eight hours after the arrival at any port in the United States, if by telegraph, and if by mail within five days thereafter. Masters will not be allowed to land at any port in the United States any alien who is afflicted with any loathsome disease, mental defect, or dangerous contagious disease, or who has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who is a polygamist, or who is an anarchist, or who believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or who disbelieves in or is opposed to organized government, or who advocates or teaches the duty, necessity, or propriety of the unlawful assaulting or killing of any official of the United States or of any other organized government because of his official character, or who advocates or teaches the unlawful destruction of property, or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining and teaching such disbelief in or opposition to organized government, or who advocates or teaches the assassination of public officials, or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, teaching, or advocating such assassination, or who is coming to perform labor if it has been previously determined by the Secretary of Labor that suitable labor can be obtained in the United States, unless such labor is specifically exempted by the terms of the immigration laws. Masters will not be allowed to land at any port in the United States any alien who has been deported, unless specially permitted to reapply for admission by the Secretary of Labor, or any alien who has been excluded within the previous year, unless specially permitted to reapply for admission by the Secretary of Labor. Masters will not be allowed to land at any port in the United States any alien who is not in possession of an unexpired immigration visa, if such visa is required by the immigration laws now in force or by such laws as may hereafter be enacted or by regulations issued thereunder, unless such alien is specifically exempted from the requirements of a visa by the immigration laws or regulations issued thereunder. Masters will not be allowed to land at any port in the United States any alien who is afflicted with tuberculosis in any form or with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, if it is known or reasonably apparent that the alien has such disease when the vessel leaves any foreign port or place, or if such disease develops during the voyage, unless the master shall have previously caused such alien to be detained at a maritime quarantine station until the result of a thorough medical examination shall show that such alien is not afflicted with such disease. Masters will not be allowed to land at any port in the United States any alien who is not in possession of a valid passport, if a passport is required by the immigration laws now in force or by such laws as may hereafter be enacted or by regulations issued thereunder, unless such alien is specifically exempted from the requirements of a passport by the immigration laws or regulations issued thereunder. Masters will not be allowed to land at any port in the United States any alien who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, if such visa is required by the immigration laws now in force or by such laws as may hereafter be enacted or by regulations issued thereunder, unless such alien is specifically exempted from the requirements of a visa by the immigration laws or regulations issued thereunder. Masters will not be allowed to land at any port in the United States any alien who is not in possession of a valid unexpired passport, if a passport is required by the immigration laws now in force or by such laws as may hereafter be enacted or by regulations issued thereunder, unless such alien is specifically exempted from the requirements of a passport by the immigration laws or regulations issued thereunder.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 30. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States with persons host or hired it shall be the duty of the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel in the foreign country from which such persons sail to deliver to the immigrant inspector at each port of entry in the United States a correct list, made in quadruplicate, of all such persons, in such manner as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, containing the name, nationality, last residence, and destination of each person who may be brought to the United States, the name of the vessel, and such information shall be kept on file by the immigrant inspector at the port of entry. Such list shall be verified by the oath of the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel, taken before the immigrant inspector at the port of entry, or before some officer designated by the Secretary of Labor for the purpose, and shall be in such form and contain such other information as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Such verification shall state that each person named in the list is actually and in good faith an alien coming to the United States solely for the purpose stated, that he has not been induced, assisted, or solicited to migrate to the United States by any person, company, or corporation in the interest of whom such vessel may have come, or by any agent, owner, or consignee thereof, and that he has not paid by himself or any other person, company, or corporation any part of the cost of his transportation, or has not the means of paying it, except as follows (stating which): Provided, That the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel shall not be required to include in such list the name of any person who is in transit through the United States to a foreign country, but who is destined to a foreign country, and who is not to be admitted to the United States: Provided further, That the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel shall not be required to include in such list the name of any person who is in possession of a United States passport, or who is a citizen of the United States, or who has been admitted to the United States by an immigrant inspector, or who is a child born on a vessel during her voyage to the United States, or who is in possession of a certificate issued by the Secretary of Labor or by a person designated by him for the purpose, showing that the case of such person has been specially investigated by a duly authorized officer of the United States, and that such person is not subject to exclusion under the immigration laws, and is entitled to enter the United States without question, and such certificate shall be presented to the immigrant inspector at the port of entry.

SEC. 41. (a) That any person, company, or corporation bringing an alien into the United States otherwise than as provided by law, or any person, company, or corporation violating or refusing or neglecting to comply with the provisions of section 30 of this Act, or any person who shall, by himself or through another, knowingly assist, solicit, or encourage the importation of any alien who is excluded by law or by reason of being afflicted with any of the diseases or mental defects specified as grounds for exclusion in section 3 of this Act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court, and shall, moreover, pay a sum equal to the expenses paid for the transportation of such alien from the place of embarkation to the place of arrest, and the cost of his maintenance while in custody pending the decision as to his landing, which sum shall constitute a lien against the vessel on which such alien arrived, and such vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for the district in which she may be found or into which she may enter, and such sum shall be recovered by the United States marshal for the district in which the libel is filed, and shall be deposited in the Treasury of the United States and accounted for as part of the head tax fund. Every such alien, if not a citizen of the United States, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act, unless the Secretary of Labor shall, in his discretion, allow him to depart voluntarily at his own expense in lieu of being deported, and such alien shall be arrested and detained in custody until the final determination of the case: Provided, That nothing contained in this section shall be construed to require the detention of any alien who is not likely to become a public charge or who is likely to be able to give security that he will not become a public charge pending the final determination of the case, or to require the detention of any alien who is not likely to become a public charge pending an appeal taken by him from the decision in his case.

(b) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power and duty to establish such regulations, make such rules, and issue such instructions not inconsistent with this Act as he may deem necessary and proper to carry out the provisions of this Act, and to prescribe the manner in which the cost of maintenance and transportation of aliens provided for in this Act shall be collected and paid over.

(c) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with any transportation company engaged in bringing aliens to the United States for the detention of such aliens on board vessels or at Ellis Island or other immigrant stations pending the decision as to the admissibility of such aliens into the United States, and for their maintenance while so detained, and for their transportation to the country whence they came, or to such other country as may be willing to receive them, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(d) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become public charges from causes existing prior to their entry into the United States, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(e) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become public charges from causes existing subsequent to their entry into the United States, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(f) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become insane within three years after entry, from causes existing prior to entry, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(g) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become insane within five years after entry, from causes existing prior to entry, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(h) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become afflicted with tuberculosis within three years after entry, from causes existing prior to entry, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(i) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease within three years after entry, from causes existing prior to entry, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(j) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become afflicted with any dangerous mental disease within three years after entry, from causes existing prior to entry, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(k) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become afflicted with any dangerous physical disease within three years after entry, from causes existing prior to entry, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(l) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become afflicted with any disease within three years after entry, from causes existing prior to entry, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(m) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become afflicted with any disease within three years after entry, from causes existing prior to entry, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(n) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become afflicted with any disease within three years after entry, from causes existing prior to entry, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(o) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become afflicted with any disease within three years after entry, from causes existing prior to entry, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(p) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become afflicted with any disease within three years after entry, from causes existing prior to entry, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(q) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become afflicted with any disease within three years after entry, from causes existing prior to entry, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(r) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become afflicted with any disease within three years after entry, from causes existing prior to entry, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(s) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become afflicted with any disease within three years after entry, from causes existing prior to entry, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(t) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become afflicted with any disease within three years after entry, from causes existing prior to entry, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(u) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become afflicted with any disease within three years after entry, from causes existing prior to entry, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(v) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become afflicted with any disease within three years after entry, from causes existing prior to entry, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(w) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become afflicted with any disease within three years after entry, from causes existing prior to entry, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(x) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become afflicted with any disease within three years after entry, from causes existing prior to entry, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(y) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become afflicted with any disease within three years after entry, from causes existing prior to entry, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

(z) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter into contracts with transportation companies for the return of aliens who may become afflicted with any disease within three years after entry, from causes existing prior to entry, at such price as may be agreed upon, not exceeding in any case the amount received from such aliens for such purposes.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. Alien seamen coming from adjacent foreign territory, or from any island adjacent thereto, or from the West Indies, Mexico, Central or South America, or any island adjacent thereto, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except from vessels arriving in the United States from any foreign port, for temporary shore leave, to be defined in regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, under such conditions as he may prescribe, and upon the immediate departure of such seamen from the United States on the vessel on which they arrived, or on any vessel which may be available for such seamen, they shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of the Act of February 5, 1917, to the country whence they came, or to the country from which they last departed, or to such other country as may be willing to receive them, at the option of the Secretary of Labor. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States.

SEC. 41. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the West Indies, Mexico, Central or South America, or any island adjacent thereto, except vessels engaged in the coastwise trade, shall be required to post a bond in the United States Treasury, except for vessels arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place in North America, Central America, the West Indies, Bermuda, the Republic of Panama, or the Canal Zone, except vessels temporarily entering a port of the United States for the purpose of discharging passengers destined to such port, in such sum, not exceeding $300 for each alien, as the Secretary of Labor may require, conditioned for the payment of a tax of $8 for each alien seaman (which requirement in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner at the port of entry), other than a bona fide member of the crew of a vessel arriving at a port of the United States, who may be granted shore leave under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and for the deportation of such alien seaman. Such bond shall not be required for any seaman who is in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, if such visa is required by the immigration laws now in force or by such laws as may hereafter be enacted or by regulations issued thereunder, unless such seaman is specifically exempted from the requirements of a visa by the immigration laws or regulations issued thereunder.

(b) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power and duty to establish such regulations, make such rules, and issue such instructions not inconsistent with this Act as he may deem necessary and proper to carry out the provisions of this Act, and to prescribe the manner in which the cost of maintenance and transportation of aliens provided for in this Act shall be collected and paid over.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because left behind by reason of illness certified by the medical officer of the port, or for such other cause as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor, under such conditions as he may prescribe, but not from any higher quota zone than that to which the vessel belongs. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States, except as provided in this section, shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act, and shall be ineligible to citizenship. The cost of maintenance of any such alien seaman while detained under authority of this section shall be considered a part of the expense of his deportation

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively naturalized or admitted to the United States, the intended final destination of such aliens, together with such information likely to lead to the apprehension of any such alien found unlawfully landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and any owner, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, the cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and any owner, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, at the time of the departure of any such vessel, a list containing the names of all such employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who before the departure of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all such employees who were employed thereon at the time of the arrival and the time of the departure; and the owner, consignee, or master of any such vessel violating the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense; and if any such vessel shall depart from any port of the United States without the lists required by this section having been delivered, the owner, consignee, or master thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense; and such vessel, her tackle, furniture, apparel, boats, and cargo, or a sufficient amount of the proceeds of the sale thereof, shall be liable, and may be seized by any officer authorized to enforce the provisions of this section, and shall be sold to pay such fine, or so much thereof as may remain unpaid, after the payment of the actual costs and charges of such seizure and sale; and the master of such vessel shall be liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year.

SEC. 37. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the foreign contiguous territory of the United States any alien not in possession of an unexpired immigration visa and valid passport or other travel document required by the immigration laws and regulations, or not in possession of a reentry permit or other travel document required by section 212(a)(20) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, shall be liable to a penalty of $3,000 for each such alien, unless the master establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he had no reason to believe that such alien did not possess such visa, reentry permit, or other travel document at the time of departure for the United States, or that such alien became a bona fide resident of Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, Bermuda, the Panama Canal Zone, or adjacent islands after the time of departure for the United States and has been in Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, Bermuda, the Panama Canal Zone, or adjacent islands for a period of at least 60 days.

(b) Any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of any order issued under the provisions of section 215(a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, or who shall enter the United States at a time or place other than as designated by immigration officers, or who shall enter the United States by eluding examination or inspection by immigration officers, or who shall attempt to enter or who shall obtain entry to the United States by willfully concealing a material fact or by willfully misrepresenting a material fact, shall be deported as provided in section 241(a)(1) of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

(c) Any person who shall bring into the United States any alien not duly admissible, or who shall assist, abet, or aid any alien to enter the United States in violation of law, or who shall conceal, harbor, or shield from detection, or attempt to conceal, harbor, or shield from detection any such alien in any place, including any building or any means of transportation, or who shall encourage or induce any such alien to enter the United States, knowing or having reason to know that such entry or attempt to enter is or will be in violation of law, shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000 or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, for each alien in respect to whom any violation of this subsection occurs.

(d) Any vessel in which an alien shall arrive to or depart from the United States in violation of this section shall be subject to seizure and forfeiture to the United States, unless it is established by the master of such vessel to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that the violation occurred without the knowledge or consent of the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel.

(e) The Attorney General may, upon application in writing, remit or cancel any fine, or any part of any fine, or any penalty or forfeiture, incurred or alleged to have been incurred under the provisions of this section, or may discontinue any prosecution for any such fine, penalty, or forfeiture, upon such terms and conditions as he may deem reasonable and just, or may mitigate any such fine, penalty, or forfeiture and enter judgment for such sum as he may think proper, and may stay any execution on any judgment pending application to him.

(f) Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to impair, alter, or restrict the power of the courts of the United States to punish for contempt.

(g) The Attorney General may, upon application in writing, remit or cancel any fine, or any part of any fine, or any penalty or forfeiture, incurred or alleged to have been incurred under the provisions of this section, or may discontinue any prosecution for any such fine, penalty, or forfeiture, upon such terms and conditions as he may deem reasonable and just, or may mitigate any such fine, penalty, or forfeiture and enter judgment for such sum as he may think proper, and may stay any execution on any judgment pending application to him.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving at any port of the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or by reason of the failure of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel to furnish adequate maintenance and transportation to the country to which the alien seaman may belong, or to the country from which such alien seaman was brought to the United States, or to the country in which he shipped for the voyage on which he arrived, or for the reason that the cost of maintenance of such alien seaman will be unduly burdensome upon the public funds of the place of landing, or for the reason that the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival is satisfied that such alien seaman may be permitted to land temporarily without prejudice to the interests of the United States, under such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor any such alien seaman may be required to furnish a bond in such sum and with such sureties as may be deemed necessary to insure that such alien seaman will depart from the United States on the vessel or some other vessel within the period for which he is granted permission to land, and will not become a public charge, and will comply with such other conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section, or who shall fail to depart therefrom on the vessel on which he arrived or some other vessel within the period for which he is granted permission to land, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act (8 U. S. C. 155, 156). Any master who shall fail to detain any alien seaman on board his vessel when ordered so to do by an immigration officer, or who shall refuse to receive any such alien seaman on board his vessel when ordered so to do by an immigration officer, or who shall fail to report and deliver any such alien seaman on board his vessel when ordered so to do by an immigration officer, or who shall fail to detain any such alien seaman on board his vessel until the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival is located the sum of $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such liability upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such fine, or any part thereof, upon the payment of such sum as he may think proper, or may remit the remaining unpaid part of such fine, or any bond or part thereof given to secure the payment thereof. This section, as amended, shall apply to all vessels arriving subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(d) Every alien seaman who did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be found not to have been reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain any alien seaman when ordered so to do by an immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship, or that the cost of maintenance and transportation will be unduly burdensome, or that the public interest will not be prejudiced by the granting of such application, he may cause a bond to be executed, and upon the performance of the conditions thereof, or upon the payment of such sum as he may think proper, not exceeding the amount of the bond, the bond shall be canceled. Any bond given under the provisions of this section shall be void if the alien seaman fails to depart within the time limited, and no bond shall be canceled unless the alien seaman has departed within the time limited. Any bond given under the provisions of this section shall be void if the alien seaman fails to depart within the time limited, and no bond shall be canceled unless the alien seaman has departed within the time limited. Any bond given under the provisions of this section shall be void if the alien seaman fails to depart within the time limited, and no bond shall be canceled unless the alien seaman has departed within the time limited.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving at a port in the United States, except temporarily while in the regular performance of his duties as a member of the crew of such vessel, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily and solely for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury requiring surgical treatment, or because of detention by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for the purpose of obtaining such seaman's testimony, or pending the removal of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 180.)

SEC. 50. (a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the foreign West Indies who fails to obtain on board such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), and has delivered to such seaman on board such alien such immigration or to depart such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the master to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper. This section as amended, shall apply to all penalties wholly unpaid prior to June 2, 1924.

(d) Every alien seaman who has not been duly admitted to the United States for permanent residence and who lands in the United States from any vessel arriving at a port in the United States, except temporarily while in the regular performance of his duties as a member of the crew of such vessel, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deposit with the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165; 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), 161 (c), (e).)

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien employees on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's complement, when and where they were respectively engaged or shipped, and the intended length of their stay in the United States; but the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe: but this shall not be construed to require the entry of such information in the case of aliens in continuous transit through the United States to foreign countries, or to require to be set forth in such lists the names of aliens employed exclusively in the service of any such vessel upon the high seas who may depart therefrom with such vessel without having been admitted to the United States. Any owner, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the immigration officers at the time of the departure of the vessel from the United States the lists required by this section, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain any alien employee when ordered by such officers, or who shall refuse or neglect to furnish such further information in addition to that required to be contained in such lists as may be prescribed by the Attorney General within three years after the arrival of such vessel at a port of the United States, shall pay a penalty of $10 for each such alien employee with respect to which any such violation occurs. Any such vessel may be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or pending an appeal, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover the amount of such penalty with the collector of customs, or a bond with sufficient surety for the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit or reduce such penalty or discharge any bond given hereunder if he shall be satisfied that the circumstances do not warrant the imposition of the penalty or the amount thereof. Such remission, reduction, or discharge shall be made only upon the certificate of the Secretary of Labor. This section as amended shall apply to all vessels arriving thereafter, irrespective of the date of sailing from any place outside thereof, to which it shall be held to apply by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and irrespective of the date of the departure of such vessel as a coastwise vessel from any port of the United States for any port or place outside thereof. Act of June 5, 1940.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien upon the outgoing vessel, unless such alien seaman shall have been lawfully permitted by the immigration officer at the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival [date contained in the manifest] a list or manifest of all persons [including the master] on board such vessel, whether such persons be passengers or members of the crew, or otherwise, and whether they be citizens of the United States or aliens, and whether in transit through the United States or not, before any such person shall be allowed to land, which list or manifest shall be prepared and delivered in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall contain such information as may be required by the said Commissioner General of Immigration, or by any rule or regulation made in pursuance of law, touching the right of any person to enter the United States, and such other information as may be required by the said Commissioner General of Immigration touching the right of any person to enter the United States: Provided, That the master of any vessel may, in lieu of delivering such list or manifest, present a copy of the list or manifest required by this section, certified under his hand and the seal of the vessel by the customs officer at the port where such list or manifest was prepared, or, if there be no such officer at such port, then certified under the hand of the master of the vessel: Provided further, That the master of any vessel may be required by the principal immigration officer at any port into which such vessel may come, before any person is allowed to land from such vessel, to make oath before a duly authorized officer to the correctness of the list or manifest delivered by him, and to such further facts to be shown on such list or manifest touching the right of any person to enter the United States as may be required by any rule or regulation made by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, or by any immigrant inspector: Provided further, That the master of any vessel may be required to deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival a separate list or manifest of all persons on board who are destined to any place within the United States not adjacent to the port of arrival, which list or manifest shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector in charge of the district within which is located the place of destination of such persons: Provided further, That the master of any vessel may be required to deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all persons on board who have been refused admission to the United States, and the cause for such refusal.

SEC. 37. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival [date contained in the manifest] a certificate in writing, signed by the master and the surgeon of the vessel (if there be a surgeon), stating the number of all aliens employed on board such vessel, their capacities in such employment, the wages paid to each, the amount of money in possession of each alien, the number of pieces of baggage belonging to each, the final destination of each alien, whether they have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether they have a ticket through to their destination, whether they have been in the United States previously, and if so, when, how long they remained, and what they were employed at while here, and whether they intend to return to the United States, and such other information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, touching the right of any such person to enter the United States. Such certificate shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival at the first port of entry in the United States, and a duplicate thereof shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's departure from the last port of departure in the United States. Any master who shall fail to deliver such certificate, or who shall knowingly or willfully make a false statement therein, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each offense. The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this section.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or shall be required to detain on board any vessel after such vessel is ready to depart from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 186.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except from foreign contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or shall be required to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or has been notified by the Attorney General that such seaman will be treated by such immigration officer at the port of destination, or has been notified by the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such demand, or modify the time for the payment of the tax, or refund the tax in the event the alien seaman is duly treated by such immigration officer at the port of arrival, or upon the production of such other evidence as may be satisfactory to the Attorney General that the illness or injury of such alien seaman was such as to prevent his inspection by such immigration officer at the port of arrival, or that the vessel has been delayed in port for a period sufficient to secure the payment thereof, or of such duration that the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such demand, or modify the time for the payment of such tax, or refund the tax in the event the alien seaman is duly treated by such immigration officer at the port of arrival, or upon the production of such other evidence as may be satisfactory to the Attorney General that the illness or injury of such alien seaman was such as to prevent his inspection by such immigration officer at the port of arrival, or that the vessel has been delayed in port for a period sufficient to secure the payment thereof, or of such duration that the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such demand, or modify the time for the payment of such tax, or refund the tax in the event the alien seaman is duly treated by such immigration officer at the port of destination, or upon the production of such other evidence as may be satisfactory to the Attorney General that the illness or injury of such alien seaman was such as to prevent his inspection by such immigration officer at the port of destination, or that the vessel has been delayed in port for a period sufficient to secure the payment thereof, or of such duration that the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs, or upon the production of such other evidence as may be satisfactory to the Attorney General that the illness or injury of such alien seaman was such as to prevent his inspection by such immigration officer at the port of destination, or that the vessel has been delayed in port for a period sufficient to secure the payment thereof, or of such duration that the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such demand, or modify the time for the payment of such tax, or refund the tax in the event the alien seaman is duly treated by such immigration officer at the port of destination

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel in the port of arrival, and in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes to alien members of crew (Form I-418) shall not be required to be furnished on board, but shall be retained by the master to the inspector at the time of departure of the vessel from the last foreign port. Where an alternate nationality is claimed, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, master, or consignee, or the person in charge of the port or place if arrival there conforming the manner of all alien employed on such vessel, whether the positions they temporarily hold at the ship's company, shall be required to make report to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival there conforming to such rules as may be prescribed by the Attorney General. Such report shall be in addition to any other report required by law to be made by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, at arrival, as soon as practicable, and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of the master to report to such immigration officer, at such time and place as may be designated by the Attorney General, all aliens employed on such vessel, whether as members of the crew or otherwise, who have been reported to the immigration officer at the port of arrival and who have been lawfully landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his identification: and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to the immigration officer, at such time and place as may be designated by the Attorney General, all aliens employed on such vessel who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who shall thereafter ship, and all aliens who have been reported to the immigration officer at the time of the arrival of the vessel and who have left the vessel without the permission of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master, or who have been granted shore leave and have not returned to the vessel within the period of such shore leave, and such information as may be required by the Attorney General concerning the movements of such aliens. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section, or to furnish any information required thereunder, or who shall wilfully furnish false or misleading information concerning any alien, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to or withheld: Provided, That clearance shall not be withheld by reason of the failure of the master to deliver lists concerning any alien who shall have been lawfully admitted to the United States and who, at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port, was in the service of the United States or any of its departments, or was in the employ of any contractor with the United States for the benefit of the United States, and who is employed on board the vessel in the same capacity in which he was employed at the time of such departure, and who is in possession of a certificate from the proper officer of the United States showing the fact of such employment: Provided further, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel shall not be required to deliver lists containing the names of all alien members of the crew employed on board such vessel at the time of her departure from any foreign port or place if such vessel shall be in the service of the United States or any of its departments, or shall be employed by any contractor with the United States for the benefit of the United States, and the Secretary of Commerce shall certify that the vessel is necessary for the proper prosecution of the business in which she is engaged: Provided further, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel shall not be required to deliver lists containing the names of

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I–418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien employees on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or entered, and describing those to be paid off and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as is in the master's possession; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired on and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, or master shall, if required by the Attorney General, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty: and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888, 889; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.15. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to fine prescribed by section 35 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 191) prevail been waived, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.14, has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the allowance of temporary shore leave, or in case of the substitution of such alien crew members for other alien crew members specified in the manifest, or in case of the discharge of alien seamen by consent of the United States authorities at a foreign port for the good of the vessel or the convenience of the owners thereof. Any alien seaman (master excepted) who fails to report for departure with the vessel or other conveyance provided by the master or owner, or who secretes himself aboard vessel about to depart from the United States, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act. Any master who shall refuse or fail to deport any alien seaman specified in this section, as directed, shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such refusal or failure the Attorney General in his discretion shall refuse clearance to the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall permit such vessel to depart only upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover the cost of the maintenance and passage to the country to which destined of any such alien seaman who may be specified by the Attorney General, such deposit to be applied to the payment of such cost and passage. Such seaman may be treated in any hospital of the United States Public Health Service or in any institution with which the Service has contracted for such treatment, and the cost of such treatment, not exceeding $2 per day, shall be paid by the master or owner of the vessel on which he arrived. Such cost and the cost of maintenance and passage may be recovered from such master or owner in a suit brought for the purpose by the Attorney General. All moneys collected under the provisions of this section shall be covered into the Treasury.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or from any place outside thereof, or who shall be reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart with vessel contemplated by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (except conveyances plying solely between ports in the continental United States or between the United States and the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone) shall be responsible for the proper conduct while in the United States of each alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or has determined that such seaman is not a member of the crew of such vessel, and for the payment of a tax of $8 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the inquiry to the alien seaman or the payment of the tax, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, or of such duration upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, the inquiry to be completed as the case may be, or while the tax remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the inquiry to a vessel which has been certified by the immigration officer at the port of arrival to the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the inquiry to the alien seaman or the payment of the tax, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, of such duration upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, the inquiry to be completed as the case may be, or while the tax remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the inquiry to a vessel which has been certified by the immigration officer at the port of arrival to the Attorney General to do so. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such bond(s) to such lesser sum as he may deem sufficient, or cancel such bond(s) upon the payment of the tax, or such portion thereof as he may deem sufficient, or upon the deposit of such sum in lieu of bond(s) as he may deem sufficient, or upon the production of such vessel for the inquiry, or upon the payment of the tax in respect of such seaman, or such portion thereof as he may deem sufficient, or upon the production of such evidence as he may deem sufficient that such seaman is not a member of the crew of such vessel, or upon the cancellation of the certificate of such vessel, or upon the substitution of sufficient sureties upon such bond(s), or upon such other terms as he may deem sufficient, refund such tax, or such portion thereof as he may deem sufficient, or cancel such bond(s). The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such bond(s) to such lesser sum as he may deem sufficient, or cancel such bond(s) upon the payment of the tax, or such portion thereof as he may deem sufficient, or upon the deposit of such sum in lieu of bond(s) as he may deem sufficient, or upon the production of such vessel for the inquiry, or upon the payment of the tax in respect of such seaman, or such portion thereof as he may deem sufficient, or upon the production of such evidence as he may deem sufficient that such seaman is not a member of the crew of such vessel, or upon the cancellation of the certificate of such vessel, or upon the substitution of sufficient sureties upon such bond(s), or upon such other terms as he may deem sufficient, refund such tax, or such portion thereof as he may deem sufficient, or cancel such bond(s). The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such bond(s) to such lesser sum as he may deem sufficient, or cancel such bond(s) upon the payment of the tax, or such portion thereof as he may deem sufficient, or upon the deposit of such sum in lieu of bond(s) as he may deem sufficient, or upon the production of such vessel for the inquiry, or upon the payment of the tax in respect of such seaman, or such portion thereof as he may deem sufficient, or upon the production of such evidence as he may deem sufficient that such seaman is not a member of the crew of such vessel, or upon the cancellation of the certificate of such vessel, or upon the substitution of sufficient sureties upon such bond(s), or upon such other terms as he may deem sufficient, refund such tax, or such portion thereof as he may deem sufficient, or cancel such bond(s).

This section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties which independent to June 2, 1924.

(b) Front fund an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to defray or deport alien readmitted, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. Such list shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port or, when an arriving vessel is met at quarantine, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate the examination of alien passengers, including members of arriving vessels, the master shall cause the following information to be given in the order indicated in columns for each alien, commencing the names of all alien passengers who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival of such vessel at a United States port, and specifying those who are to be landed at that port, those in transit to another port of the United States, those entering the United States at that port, those who have been previously admitted to the United States, and those who are not citizens of the United States, stating the country to which they severally belong, and the country of which they severally are citizens, the last permanent residence of each, the final destination of each, whether each has a ticket through to such destination, whether the passage was paid for by himself or by others, whether in possession of money, and if so how much, whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends and their names and complete addresses, whether ever before in the United States and if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity and if so what and where, whether a polygamist, whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, agreement, or prepaid or other ticket, or by whom such passage was paid, whether in possession of a ticket through to ultimate destination, whether any of the passengers have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether connected with any criminal institution or penal institution, whether any of the passengers are coming pursuant to any prearrangement with any society or individual, whether any of the passengers have come in consequence of advertisements for laborers or solicitation on the part of any corporation or agent, whether any of the passengers have been deported on previous occasions, whether any of the passengers are under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, their calling or occupation, whether they can read or write, whether they are male or female, their age, whether married or single, the name and complete address of the nearest relative or friend in the country whence they came, their nationality, their race, whether they are deformed or crippled, and if so how, the height of each, whether blind, deaf-mute, or otherwise defective, and whether they have been in the United States before, and if so when, how long they intend to remain, and whether they intend to become citizens of the United States; and such other information regarding each alien as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, Washington, District of Columbia.

Sec. 30. (a) That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who are to be landed in the port of arrival; to list continuously on such lists information as to the sex, marital condition, age, calling, and last permanent residence of each alien employed as aforesaid, and such additional information relative thereto as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration; and to report to such immigration officer in writing, as soon as ascertained, the name of each alien employed as aforesaid who may have been left behind, and the cause of such alien's detention, so far as known to the master, owner, consignee, or agent of the vessel. Every description required by this section of any such vessel if made per the oath of the master, owner, consignee, or agent of the vessel, shall be sufficient for the purposes of this section.

Before the departure of any such vessel from any foreign port or place for the United States the master, owner, consignee, or agent thereof shall deliver to the consular officer in charge of the port at which such alien is to embark a true list containing as much of such information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration as can be ascertained by reasonable inquiry, which list shall be verified by the oath of such master, owner, consignee, or agent, and specifying those who have been accepted and visaed, those who have been refused such visa, and those who have been granted temporary permits to land for medical treatment, and shall present such list to such consular officer for examination before receiving the consular visa of any such alien. Such consular officer may, within his discretion, refuse to visa any such list when he has reason to believe that any of the provisions of this section have been knowingly violated, and in such case shall report his action and his reasons therefor to the Commissioner General of Immigration. Such consular officer shall also have the right to require such other reasonable evidence as he may deem necessary to establish the right of any alien to enter the United States under the provisions of the immigration laws and to refuse a visa to any alien who fails to establish such right to his satisfaction.

Sec. 31. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or unless a certificate in such case is granted by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

Sec. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (except a vessel plying solely between ports in the United States or between the United States and the Dominion of Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Panama, or the Canal Zone) shall be responsible for the proper conduct on board such vessel while in port of all alien seamen employed thereon, and for the expenses incident to the proper relief, maintenance, and removal of such alien seamen, and for the payment of the hospital dues and other charges incident to the treatment of such alien seamen in hospitals in the United States, and for the payment of the head tax and the cost of the immigrant inspection of such alien seamen, and for the deportation of such alien seamen, including expenses of maintenance, while detained at the port of arrival pending deportation, and for the transportation of such alien seamen to the port of foreign departure, or to the port of embarkation if destined to adjacent foreign territory, and for the payment of the cost of the return of such alien seamen to the United States if they shall be found within one year after such deportation to have been in violation of the immigration laws, and for the payment of the cost of the maintenance of such alien seamen in the United States pending such return, and for the payment of the cost of the burial of such alien seamen in the United States who may die pending such return, and for the payment of the cost of the maintenance of such alien seamen in the United States who may be hospitalized pending such return, and for the payment of the cost of the burial of such alien seamen in the United States who may die in the hospitals pending such return, and for the payment of the cost of the maintenance of such alien seamen in the United States who may be imprisoned pending such return, and for the payment of the cost of the burial of such alien seamen in the United States who may die in prison pending such return, and for the payment of the head tax and the cost of the immigrant inspection of such alien seamen upon such return, and for the payment of the cost of the burial of such alien seamen in the United States who may die pending such return, and for the payment of the cost of the maintenance of such alien seamen in the United States who may be imprisoned

Sworn to before me this 25th day of MARCH, 19 52

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be printed on plain forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I-418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "motorman," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 3E. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like continuing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively born, their nationality, last permanent residence, and the name and address of the nearest relative or friend in the country whence they came, and the final destination of each such alien, so far as known, and the intended length of stay in the United States or while in transit through the United States; and the last port from which such vessel departed with such aliens on board, and the number of days such vessel was in port, and the name of the master or commanding officer thereof; and such other information relative to such aliens as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, which information shall be subscribed by the master or commanding officer of such vessel, and verified before the examining officer at the time of the vessel's entry. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such information, or who shall make any false statement in relation thereto, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer who shall refuse or neglect to report, list, detain, or deliver any such alien, or who shall refuse or neglect to pay the head tax provided for by section 2 of this Act, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain any such alien on board vessel or at such port pending the inspection and examination by the immigrant inspectors, or who shall refuse or neglect to carry back to the last port from which he came, or to the country whence he came, any such alien ordered to be so taken back by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or who shall refuse or neglect to pay the cost of maintenance and support of such alien while detained, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court. Any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer who shall refuse or neglect to deliver lists of persons as required by this section, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer questions or furnish information in accordance herewith, or who shall willfully falsify or conceal or cover up any material fact touching the matters required to be stated in such lists, or who shall aid or assist any such alien to land in the United States, except as provided by this Act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such alien in respect of whom any such failure occurs, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court. Any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer who shall refuse or neglect to report the illness or hospital treatment of any alien on board vessel, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain in hospital any such alien specified by the medical officer of the public health service, or who shall refuse or neglect to furnish such certificates in regard to such cases as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or who shall refuse or neglect to report the sickness or death of any person on board such vessel, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver the bodies of such persons for burial as required by the health authorities, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such offense. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has been employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or has been allowed to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, or to ship as a seaman on board a vessel sailing therefrom for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any person who knowingly and willfully causes to be brought into the United States by such vessel, otherwise than as lawful merchandise, any alien who is excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, or to ship as a seaman on board a vessel sailing therefrom for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

(b) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who shall refuse to detain on board the vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (master inspector) and seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or after notice to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be cleared pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or not less than $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

This section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after treatment by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be cleared pending the determination of the Attorney General.

PETITION OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, STANLEY A. LULLOCH, MASTER ..... of the AMERICAN OIL SCREW T.S.S. LOVELOCK ..... do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew presently in said vessel from any port or place outside the U.S. except Canada, and that the copy of section 30 of the Act of February 3, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 35, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this TWENTY SEVENTH day of MARCH ....., 19 52

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list required below must be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the port of arrival. One list of changes of alien members, if any, effected from the vessel's last departure from a foreign port or place (but not from Canada) must be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. Any alien seaman who fails to report to the immigration officer at the time of the vessel's arrival may be fined not to exceed $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Such penalty forms a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $50

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival in the United States from any foreign port to which it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien employees on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ships' company, manner and where they were respectively examined, and the ports at which they were severally shipped; and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, at least one hour before the departure of such vessel from the port of arrival, the additional names of any such employees who were not on the lists previously delivered, and the cause of their departure, and the ports at which they were severally shipped; and it shall be the duty of the master of every vessel to deliver to each alien employee who were not employed previous to the time of the arrival but before the departure of the vessel from the port of arrival, a printed notice, to be furnished by the Attorney General, stating in a general way the classes of aliens who may enter the United States only upon compliance with the requirements of the immigration laws as to examination by the immigration officers, the Public Health Service, and the quarantine authorities, and containing such other information as may be required by the Attorney General in the enforcement of the provisions of this Act; and it shall be the duty of the master of every vessel bringing an alien to the United States to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a true list, made at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place at which it touched, containing the name, age, sex, nationality, last residence, calling, and destination of every alien who has been in a foreign country, and who has taken passage aboard such vessel at such foreign port or place for the United States, and the nationality of the vessel upon which such alien arrived at such foreign port or place, and the names of the vessels upon which such alien has previously arrived in the United States, and the ports at which such alien landed, and the names and last known addresses of the relatives or friends in the United States whom such alien intends to join, and whether he has been previously in the United States, and if so, when, and whether he has been in prison or in a almshouse or asylum or hospital, and whether he is a polygamist, and whether he is coming by reason of any previous promise or agreement to perform any labor in the United States, and whether he has a ticket to his ultimate destination, and whether he has been deported, and if so, when and why, and whether he is in possession of $50 in money, and whether he is going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and his complete address, and whether he is an anarchist, or a member of the class of persons excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws now in force, and whether he is coming pursuant to previous promise or agreement to perform labor in the United States, and whether he is a person who believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States, or of all forms of law, or who disbelieves in or is opposed to organized government, or who advocates the assassination of public officials, or who advocates or teaches the unlawful destruction of property, or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, advocating, or teaching any of the doctrines above specified, or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization publishing or distributing any printed or written matter advocating or teaching any of the doctrines above specified, which said list shall be subscribed by the master, and shall be sworn to before the commissioner of immigration at the port of arrival, or his assistant, or before such other officer as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, which oath the commissioner of immigration, his assistant, or such other officer is hereby authorized to administer; and it shall be the duty of the master of every such vessel to exhibit his list of passengers and crew and their effects, when required, to any immigrant inspector or to any officer in charge of any United States quarantine station or hospital on board such vessel, and to answer truly all questions which may be put to him by any such officer touching the right of any person or persons to enter the United States, under the penalty of $10 for each and every violation; and it shall be the duty of the master of every such vessel to detain on board thereof, or in such enclosure as may be designated by the immigrant inspector in charge, any alien who may be pointed out to him by such inspector, and to prevent any such alien from communicating with any person, except by written permission of such inspector, until such alien shall have been duly examined by the inspector or the medical officer detailed for that purpose; and it shall be the duty of the master of every such vessel to provide proper and sufficient food, fresh water, and accommodations for the detention on board such vessel of aliens who may be ordered detained by the inspector in charge at the port of arrival, and to return on board such vessel, or such other vessel as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, any alien who may be ordered to be deported, the cost of such detention and return to be fixed by the Secretary of Labor and collected from the owners of such vessel before the departure thereof from the port: Provided, That the cost of the return of any alien who may be ordered deported on account of any of the causes stated in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), (g), (h), (i), (j), (k), (l), (m), (n), (o), (p), (q), (r), (s), (t), (u), (v), (w), (x), (y), (z), AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, _____, of the _____ do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew presently in said vessel from any port or place during the previous voyage.

I have noted the cobit of section 38 of the Act of February 7, 1931, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 21 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

_____, Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this _____ day of _____, 19__

MAR 31 1953

Immigrant Inspector.

Name of United States Consul.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms supplied by the Department and be ready for delivery to the Immigration Inspector boarding the vessel as the port of arrival. Such list shall be delivered on demand to the Immigration Officer in charge at the port of arrival. Failure to deliver such list shall be punishable by a fine of not more than $300 for each offense. (See sec. 8 U. S. C. 180.)

(a) The master or commanding officer of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States shall, before such alien lands, deliver to the Immigration Officer in charge at the port of arrival a list containing the name of every alien on board such vessel, stating the nationality, last permanent residence, and destination of each alien who is to land at that port, and shall indicate which of the aliens named are under sentence of imprisonment or have been convicted of, or admit the commission of, a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, and shall report the sex, marital status, age, occupation, and whether in possession of a passport, and the country to which each alien belongs. The master or commanding officer shall also report the number of aliens in transit through the United States to foreign countries, the number of aliens who have been admitted to the United States on previous visits, and the number of aliens who have been deported from the United States on previous visits, and such other information as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization.

(b) The master or commanding officer of any vessel arriving at a port of the United States shall report the name of every alien who may become ill during the voyage, or who may die during the voyage, and the cause of illness or death, and shall deliver to the Immigration Officer in charge at the port of arrival a full report concerning each case of illness or death on board during the voyage, and the medical treatment given to each such person. Such report shall be delivered to the Immigration Officer in charge at the port of arrival before the vessel is granted clearance or permitted to depart from the port, and shall be in addition to the list required by subdivision (a) of this section.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien named on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be assessed against the master, commanding officer, owner, consignee, or agent of such vessel as a condition precedent to the granting of clearance papers to such vessel. (43 Stat. 161–162; 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), 161 (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 21. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness requiring his detention, or for the purpose of removing him from the United States, or unless a certificate has been issued to such alien seaman by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, which certificate shall not be granted except upon the written recommendation of a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, or of a duly qualified medical officer of the United States, to the effect that such alien seaman has been found upon a careful medical examination to be suffering from a disease or disability which is not likely to endanger the public health, and that such disease or disability existed prior to the time of application for the certificate. Such certificate shall be granted only upon the condition that the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived shall guarantee the payment of the cost of maintenance and treatment of such alien seaman, and also guarantee the payment of the cost of his return passage, or the passage of any substitute who may be employed in his place, and that such alien seaman will depart on the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel. Such certificate shall be granted only upon the condition that the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived shall deposit with the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization a sum sufficient to cover the cost of such maintenance and treatment and of such return passage, or the passage of such substitute, and such sum may be used for the purposes aforesaid. Such deposit shall be refunded to the depositor, or his assignee, or such part thereof as may not be required for the purposes aforesaid, upon the certificate of the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization that such sum or part thereof is not required for the purposes aforesaid. Such certificate shall not be granted in the case of any alien seaman who has been certified by the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service to be suffering from any of the diseases or disabilities described in section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, or who has been certified by any medical officer of the United States to be suffering from any mental disease, or who has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who is a polygamist, or who believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or who is going to join a husband, wife, father, or other relative, unless the Secretary of Labor, in his discretion, shall be satisfied that such alien seaman does not belong to any of the classes excluded by section 3 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and that his admission would not be contrary to the interests of the United States. SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury certified by the examining medical officer, or because of the necessity for his presence as witness in connection with any investigation, prosecution, or legal proceeding, or pending the settlement of his wages, or pending his return on board when his services are required, or pending his transfer to another vessel on which he has signed or shipped to resume his employment, or pending his departure on board the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on board some other vessel, or pending examination by the medical examiner, unless security satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor is given that he will not become a public charge, and that he will depart from the United States when required to do so by the Secretary of Labor or his authorized agents, and that he will not land in the United States at any time or place other than the port at which he is scheduled to depart, or at which the vessel may obtain clearance, except in case of emergency or by permission of the Secretary of Labor or his authorized agents, and that he will not land at any port in the United States in violation of any law or regulation governing the admission of aliens to the United States. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act. Any master who shall employ any alien seaman who is not lawfully entitled to be employed under this section shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien seaman, and such alien seaman shall be detained on board or at such port of entry as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor until the master shall have complied with the requirements of this section with respect to such alien seaman, or such alien seaman shall have been otherwise lawfully landed in the United States or shipped on board some vessel departing from the United States, or shall have been deported pursuant to law. Clearance may be granted to any such vessel notwithstanding the detention on board thereof of any such alien seaman. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of law shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act. The Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the application of this section to aliens who have served on board vessels touching at ports of the United States during the war in which the United States was engaged, and who have been honorably discharged from the United States service, if such aliens have submitted to the immigration officers such evidence as may be required by them as to their good character and conduct while in the service of the United States.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof duly failed to obtain on board the vessel manifest (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who failed to obtain on board such alien seaman (which inspection to or to obtain such seaman if required by such immigration officer at the port of arrival, has inspected such seaman) (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who failed to obtain such seaman on board after such inspection or to obtain such seaman if required by such immigration officer at the port of arrival, has failed to obtain such seaman on board after such inspection or to obtain such seaman if required by such immigration officer at the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of Attorney General to do so; shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum; or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum; or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all vessels arriving independent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Every alien, as alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or obtain valid landing permit by the immigration officer at the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that obstruction of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be detained on shipboard or landed at the expense of the vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such detained not shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

I, Henry C. Grandy, master of the Amer SS Ironsides do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 21 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, commander, or master of such vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and their respective ages, sex, and places of birth, and the last permanent residence of each such alien, as far as known, and the final destination of each such alien as indicated by the ticket, and such other information as shall be required by regulations prescribed and altered from time to time by the Attorney General, relative to the entry of any such alien into the United States from any foreign port or place. Such list shall be delivered before the departure of any such vessel if aliens be on board thereof destined to ports in the United States, and in case it shall appear that any such alien has been overlooked, or that any alien has been shipped or engaged to be employed on board any such vessel after the departure of such vessel from a foreign port or place, it shall be the duty of the master, agent, commander, or owner of such vessel to deliver a further list containing the names of all such aliens to the immigration officer at the first port at which such vessel shall arrive thereafter, and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such master, agent, commander, or owner to report to such immigration officer in writing, as soon as discovered, the name of any such alien not included in any list theretofore delivered, and such other information relative to such alien as may be required by regulations prescribed and altered as aforesaid. Any master, agent, commander, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to any immigration officer any list required by this section, or who shall refuse or neglect to report any such alien not included in any list theretofore delivered, or who shall refuse or neglect to furnish any information in relation to any such alien required by this section or by regulations prescribed thereunder, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain on board any alien passenger employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who shall land or permit to be landed any alien passenger (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner) from any vessel at any port in the United States from which the immigration officer at the port of arrival may have decided that such alien shall not be landed, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain such alien on board after such inspection or to deport such alien, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien as to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be cleared pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper.

(b) That all fines, penalties, and liabilities arising under subdivision (a) of this section may be recovered by the master of such vessel as a debt due from such vessel to the United States, and such debt shall be a lien upon such vessel, which may be enforced by libel in the district court of the United States in which the port of arrival is located.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien assumes on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to be a menace to the interests of the United States, he may require such vessel to remain in the port of arrival until such alien has been deported or otherwise removed from the United States, or until the Attorney General is satisfied that such alien is not to be deported, or until a bond, in such sum not exceeding $500 for each alien as the Attorney General may require, with sufficient surety, shall be deposited with the collector of customs conditioned upon the deportation of such alien within such time as may be prescribed. Such bond shall not be canceled until such alien has been deported or otherwise removed from the United States, or until the Attorney General is satisfied that such alien is not to be deported, or a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or such portion thereof as the Attorney General may determine, has been deposited as security for the payment thereof. Such bond or deposit shall not be required with respect to any alien who is a citizen, national, or resident of Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Haiti, the Dominican Republic, the Canal Zone, the Republic of Panama, or the Republic of Costa Rica, unless the Attorney General knows or has reason to believe that such alien is otherwise subject to such requirement, or to any alien crewman who is destined to a port or place in the United States other than the port of arrival, or to any alien crewman who is employed on a vessel which is scheduled to depart from a port or place in the United States within 24 hours of its arrival at such port or place, or to any alien crewman who is employed on a vessel which has been allowed to land temporarily under bond.

(d) Every alien crewman shall be subject to such physical and mental examination and such other rules and regulations governing the conditions of his admission to the United States as may be prescribed by the Attorney General.

(e) Any master, agent, commander, or owner of any vessel who violates any provision of this section, or any rule, regulation, or order made thereunder, for which violation a penalty is not specifically prescribed, shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(f) The Attorney General shall prescribe rules, regulations, and forms for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this section.

(g) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any alien seaman employed on a vessel touching at a port of the United States solely for the purpose of taking on board the crew of a vessel lost or destroyed, or for the purpose of bringing the crew of a vessel unable to proceed on her voyage to a port of the United States, or for the purpose of bringing the crew of a vessel to the United States to be employed on a vessel other than the vessel on which they arrived, or to any alien seaman employed on a vessel touching at a port of the United States solely for the purpose of repairing such vessel, unless the Attorney General has reason to believe that such alien seaman intends to land temporarily or permanently in the United States.

(h) Any alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immediately preceding provisions of this section may be employed on board the vessel bringing him to the United States, and such vessel may be required to remove such alien seaman from the United States in the manner provided by the immediately preceding provisions of this section for the removal of such alien seaman upon the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, unless the Attorney General has granted a landing permit to such alien seaman as provided by regulations prescribed by him.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immediately preceding provisions of this section may be employed on board any vessel departing from any port or place in the United States, except temporarily and solely for the purpose of taking on board the crew of a vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, and unable to proceed on her voyage, or bringing to the United States the crew of a vessel to be employed on a vessel other than the vessel on which they arrived in the United States, or for the purpose of repairing such vessel, unless the Attorney General has granted a landing permit to such alien seaman as provided by regulations prescribed by him.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing into the United States from any place outside thereof any alien who is subject to deportation under any provision of this Act may be required to furnish a bond in such sum, not exceeding $500 for each such alien, and with such sureties, as may be required by the Attorney General, conditioned for the payment of the head tax and the expenses of the maintenance and care during detention and the deportation of such alien, provided for in this Act, or to deport such alien and maintain and care for him during detention pending deportation, and to pay the head tax and expenses of deportation. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 180.)

SEC. 150.15. Limit of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted via the limitations imposed by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 131), years passed (unlimited), and not then subject to limitation, to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to fine prescribed by section 38 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 169) pending proceedings to deport the alien, until the deposit described in §§ 150.13–150.17, has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immediately preceding provisions of this section may be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or departing from any port or place in the United States, except temporarily and solely for the purpose of taking on board the crew of a vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or bringing to the United States the crew of a vessel to be employed on a vessel other than the vessel on which they arrived in the United States, or for the purpose of repairing such vessel, unless the Attorney General has granted a landing permit to such alien seaman as provided by regulations prescribed by him.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing into the United States from any place outside thereof any alien who is subject to deportation under any provision of this Act may be required to furnish a bond in such sum, not exceeding $500 for each such alien, and with such sureties, as may be required by the Attorney General, conditioned for the payment of the head tax and the expenses of the maintenance and care during detention and the deportation of such alien, provided for in this Act, or to deport such alien and maintain and care for him during detention pending deportation, and to pay the head tax and expenses of deportation. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 180.)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, commander, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and their respective ages, sex, and places of birth, and the last permanent residence of each such alien, as far as known, and the final destination of each such alien as indicated by the ticket, and such other information as shall be required by regulations prescribed and altered from time to time by the Attorney General, relative to the entry of any such alien into the United States from any foreign port or place. Such list shall be delivered before the departure of any such vessel if aliens be on the lands of the United States, and in case it shall appear that any such alien has been overlooked, or that any alien has been shipped or engaged to be employed on board any such vessel after the departure of such vessel from a foreign port or place, it shall be the duty of the master, agent, commander, or owner of such vessel to deliver a further list containing the names of all such aliens to the immigration officer at the first port at which such vessel shall arrive thereafter, and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such master, agent, commander, or owner to report to such immigration officer in writing, as soon as discovered, the name of any such alien not included in any list theretofore delivered, and such other information relative to such alien as may be required by regulations prescribed and altered as aforesaid. Any master, agent, commander, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to any immigration officer any list required by this section, or who shall refuse or neglect to report any such alien not included in any list theretofore delivered, or who shall refuse or neglect to furnish any information in relation to any such alien required by this section or by regulations prescribed thereunder, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain on board any alien passenger employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who shall land or permit to be landed any alien passenger (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner) from any vessel at any port in the United States from which the immigration officer at the port of arrival may have decided that such alien shall not be landed, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain such alien on board after such inspection or to deport such alien, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien as to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be cleared pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper.

(b) That all fines, penalties, and liabilities arising under subdivision (a) of this section may be recovered by the master of such vessel as a debt due from such vessel to the United States, and such debt shall be a lien upon such vessel, which may be enforced by libel in the district court of the United States in which the port of arrival is located.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien assumes on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to be a menace to the interests of the United States, he may require such vessel to remain in the port of arrival until such alien has been deported or otherwise removed from the United States, or until the Attorney General is satisfied that such alien is not to be deported, or until a bond, in such sum not exceeding $500 for each alien as the Attorney General may require, with sufficient surety, shall be deposited with the collector of customs conditioned upon the deportation of such alien within such time as may be prescribed. Such bond shall not be canceled until such alien has been deported or otherwise removed from the United States, or until the Attorney General is satisfied that such alien is not to be deported, or a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or such portion thereof as the Attorney General may determine, has been deposited as security for the payment thereof. Such bond or deposit shall not be required with respect to any alien who is a citizen, national, or resident of Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Haiti, the Dominican Republic, the Canal Zone, the Republic of Panama, or the Republic of Costa Rica, unless the Attorney General knows or has reason to believe that such alien is otherwise subject to such requirement, or to any alien crewman who is destined to a port or place in the United States other than the port of arrival, or to any alien crewman who is employed on a vessel which is scheduled to depart from a port or place in the United States within 24 hours of its arrival at such port or place, or to any alien crewman who is employed on a vessel which has been allowed to land temporarily under bond.

(d) Every alien crewman shall be subject to such physical and mental examination and such other rules and regulations governing the conditions of his admission to the United States as may be prescribed by the Attorney General.

(e) Any master, agent, commander, or owner of any vessel who violates any provision of this section, or any rule, regulation, or order made thereunder, for which violation a penalty is not specifically prescribed, shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(f) The Attorney General shall prescribe rules, regulations, and forms for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this section.

(g) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any alien seaman employed on a vessel touching at a port of the United States solely for the purpose of taking on board the crew of a vessel lost or destroyed, or for the purpose of bringing the crew of a vessel unable to proceed on her voyage to a port of the United States, or for the purpose of bringing the crew of a vessel to the United States to be employed on a vessel other than the vessel on which they arrived in the United States, or to any alien seaman employed on a vessel touching at a port of the United States solely for the purpose of repairing such vessel, unless the Attorney General has reason to believe that such alien seaman intends to land temporarily or permanently in the United States.

(h) Any alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immediately preceding provisions of this section may be employed on board the vessel bringing him to the United States, and such vessel may be required to remove such alien seaman from the United States in the manner provided by the immediately preceding provisions of this section for the removal of such alien seaman upon the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, unless the Attorney General has granted a landing permit to such alien seaman as provided by regulations prescribed by him.

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I-418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is a "nonquota" immigrant under section 3 (b) of the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended, the master, agent, commander, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States shall be liable to the payment of the head tax, unless such alien seaman is in possession of a valid immigration visa and a ticket to a country adjacent to the United States and to which country he is destined to enter. AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, C.S. ROBSON, of the SS "PRINCESS LOUISE", do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew, brought in said vessel from and port or place during her foreign voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 30 of the Act of February 7, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 14 and 30, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

Sworn to before me this 23rd day of May, 1954

Immigrant Inspector.

Master, [illegible]

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crew (Form I-418) shall not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of departure. "Alien" means "foreign citizen". A nonimmigrant alien is a person admitted temporarily for a specific purpose. Nonimmigrant aliens include, among others, visitors for business or pleasure, in transit, crew members, students, and representatives of foreign governments. Immigrant aliens are persons admitted for permanent residence. Nationality means country of citizenship. Place of birth means city or town and country. Port means seaport or airport. Vessel includes aircraft. Crew list means a complete list of all persons employed on board a vessel or aircraft during her stay in port. Crew member means any person on board a vessel or aircraft except a passenger. Alien crew member means any crew member who is not a citizen or national of the United States. Alien crew list means a crew list containing the names of all alien crew members. Master means the person in command of a vessel. Pilot means any person, not a member of the crew or passenger, who is taken on board while a vessel is entering, leaving, or moving within the navigable waters of the United States. Passport means a travel document issued by the government of a foreign country or by the competent authority of a territory, showing the bearer's identity and nationality, which is valid for the entry of the bearer into a foreign country. Visa means the formal permission by an American consular officer for an alien to enter the United States. Consular officer means any consul general, consul, vice consul, consular agent, or any other person authorized to perform the functions of a consular officer abroad. Immigration officer means any employee or agent of the Service authorized by the Attorney General to perform any function relating to the admission or exclusion of aliens. Special inquiry officer means any immigration officer authorized by the Attorney General to conduct proceedings to determine the admissibility of aliens. Service means the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Attorney General means the Attorney General of the United States. Act or "the Act" means the Immigration and Nationality Act. Application for admission means an application to enter the United States. Admitted means the lawful entry of an alien into the United States after inspection by an immigration officer. Lawfully admitted for permanent residence means the status of having been lawfully accorded the privilege of residing permanently in the United States as an immigrant in accordance with the immigration laws, such status not having changed. Immigrant visa means an immigrant visa which is valid for the admission of the alien to whom it was issued. Nonimmigrant visa means a visa which is valid for the admission of a nonimmigrant alien. Application for visa means the application prescribed by the Department of State for the purpose of securing a visa. Visa fee means the fee prescribed by the Department of State for the issuance of a visa. Special immigrant means an alien described in section 101(a)(27) of the Act. Unless otherwise specifically provided in the Act or in these regulations, any act required of or authorized to be performed by an immigration officer may be performed by any immigration officer.

SEC. 2. (a) Except as otherwise provided in these regulations, every alien, including every nonimmigrant alien, shall be presumed to be an immigrant until he establishes to the satisfaction of the immigration officer at the port of arrival that he is entitled to a nonimmigrant status under section 101(a)(15) of the Act, or until he establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he was lawfully admitted for permanent residence and that his subsequent absence or proposed return is not prejudicial to the interests of the United States. The burden of proof shall be upon such alien to establish that he is not subject to exclusion under any provision of the immigration laws.

(b) Every alien who has been admitted to the United States as a nonimmigrant shall be presumed to remain a nonimmigrant until he establishes that he has complied with the conditions of his admission as a nonimmigrant or that he is entitled, under the immigration laws, to be admitted or to remain in the United States as a nonimmigrant or as an immigrant.

SEC. 3. (a) Every alien, including a child, shall be in possession of a valid unexpired passport or other travel document, or document of identity and nationality if such document is required under the regulations issued by the Attorney General pursuant to section 215(a) of the Act, unless the alien is (1) a citizen of Canada lawfully admissible to the United States, (2) an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence who is returning from a temporary visit to Canada, (3) an alien who has been granted a waiver of the requirements of section 212(a)(26) of the Act, or (4) an alien entitled to nonimmigrant status under section 101(a)(15)(B) of the Act who is in possession of a border crossing identification card.

(b) Every alien crewman, including a member of the crew of a vessel or aircraft which has been granted landing privileges as a nonimmigrant visitor pursuant to section 252 of the Act, shall be in possession of a valid unexpired passport or other travel document, or document of identity and nationality if such document is required under the regulations issued by the Attorney General pursuant to section 215(a) of the Act, unless the alien is a citizen of Canada lawfully admissible to the United States.

(c) Every alien crewman who is in possession of a passport or travel document shall have a valid unexpired nonimmigrant visa or border crossing identification card, if required under the regulations issued by the Attorney General pursuant to section 212(d)(4) of the Act, except that no nonimmigrant visa or border crossing identification card is required of an alien crewman who is in transit through the United States in immediate and continuous passage through an area of the United States solely as a member of the crew of a vessel or aircraft arriving at a port or place in the United States for the purpose of joining the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived as a member of the crew, or who is in the United States solely as a member of the crew of a vessel or aircraft which has been granted landing privileges as a nonimmigrant visitor pursuant to section 252 of the Act.

(d) Every alien crewman in possession of a passport or travel document shall have an unexpired visa for each country to which he is destined and for which a visa is required, except that no visa is required for Canada.

SEC. 4. (a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, every alien crewman shall present himself for inspection and examination at the port of arrival to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or to such other immigration officer as he may designate, and shall remain in the port of arrival until admitted or otherwise permitted to land by an immigration officer.

(b) Any alien crewman who is in transit through the United States under the immediate and continuous passage provisions of section 252 of the Act, and who is in possession of a valid unexpired passport and visa, if required, may be admitted temporarily to the United States without regard to the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section.

SEC. 5. (a) Every alien crewman who is in possession of a valid unexpired passport and visa, if required, and who is not otherwise inadmissible, may be admitted temporarily to the United States for a period not to exceed 29 days, subject to the following conditions:

(1) That he will depart from the United States with the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived, or on any vessel or aircraft on which he may thereafter depart, within the period of his temporary admission;

(2) That he will not accept employment in the United States during his period of temporary admission;

(3) That he will not land in the United States at any port or place other than the port of arrival, except in case of emergency, or unless he has been granted shore leave by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival;

(4) That he will not remain in the United States after the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived has departed from the United States, unless he has been granted an extension of his period of temporary admission by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival;

(5) That he will not leave the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived at any time during his temporary admission, except as provided in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, unless he has been granted permission to do so by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival;

(6) That he will not leave the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived at any time during his temporary admission, except as provided in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, unless he has been granted permission to do so by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival;

(7) That he will not leave the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived at any time during his temporary admission, except as provided in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, unless he has been granted permission to do so by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival;

(8) That he will not leave the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived at any time during his temporary admission, except as provided in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, unless he has been granted permission to do so by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival;

(9) That he will not leave the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived at any time during his temporary admission, except as provided in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, unless he has been granted permission to do so by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival;

(10) That he will not leave the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived at any time during his temporary admission, except as provided in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, unless he has been granted permission to do so by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival;

(11) That he will not leave the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived at any time during his temporary admission, except as provided in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, unless he has been granted permission to do so by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival;

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons employed on such vessel, showing the additional lists respectively both of the aliens destined to the United States and those not so destined, and the ports for which they were respectively shipped to embark, and showing those who have been transferred on the high seas to other vessels, and the names of the ports from which such persons were so transferred, and the ports at which they severally intend to land, and such information as may be required by the Attorney General as to the sex, age, nationality, race, and last permanent residence of each alien, and such information as may be required by the Attorney General as to whether each alien has a ticket or sufficient money to pay his way to his ultimate destination, and whether he has been in the United States before, and if so, when, where, and how long he resided there, whether he has a relative or friend in the United States, and if so, what relative or friend, and such other information as may be required by the Attorney General touching the right of any alien to enter the United States. Such lists shall be prepared at such time before the departure of the vessel from the last port at which it touches before coming to the United States as may be prescribed by the Attorney General, and shall be certified by the master or commanding officer of the vessel, or by the first or second officer thereof, who shall be in charge of the vessel at the time of her departure from such last port, or by the agent of the vessel at such port, to be correct according to the best of his knowledge and belief. Such lists shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector in charge of the port of arrival at the time of the vessel's arrival at such port, and shall be corrected, changed, and amended if necessary, according to the facts subsequently appearing, before the same shall be finally passed upon by the immigrant inspector in charge of the port. Any master, commander, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons employed on such vessel, showing the additional persons shipped to embark, and the ports from which they were respectively transferred on the high seas to such vessel, and the ports at which they severally intend to land, or who shall refuse or neglect to report any additional persons so shipped, transferred, or intending to land, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver lists containing the names of all persons employed on such vessel, or who shall refuse or neglect to report to the proper immigration officer, at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last port at which it shall touch before coming to the United States, the names of all persons employed on such vessel who have not been reported as having been so employed before the departure of the vessel from such last port, or who shall refuse or neglect to report the sex, age, nationality, race, and last permanent residence of each alien employed on such vessel who has not been reported as having been so employed before the departure of the vessel from such last port, or who shall refuse or neglect to report whether each alien has a ticket or sufficient money to pay his way to his ultimate destination, and whether he has been in the United States before, and if so, when, where, and how long he resided there, whether he has a relative or friend in the United States, and if so, what relative or friend, and such other information as may be required by the Attorney General touching the right of any alien to enter the United States, or who shall refuse or neglect to report any alien employed on such vessel who has not been reported as having been so employed before the departure of the vessel from such last port, or who shall refuse or neglect to report any alien who has been transferred on the high seas to such vessel, or who shall refuse or neglect to report the ports at which they severally intend to land, or who shall refuse or neglect to report any additional persons so shipped, transferred, or intending to land, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver lists containing the names of all persons employed on such vessel, showing the additional persons shipped to embark, and the ports from which they were respectively transferred on the high seas to such vessel, and

ATTENDANT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, _____, of the _____ do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place outside the United States and that I have made diligent inquiry into the conduct of each of the crew while on board said vessel and to the best of my knowledge and belief no one of the crew has been guilty of any violation of the immigration laws of the United States, except as follows:

I have noted the color of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and color of sections 61 and 65, Act of May 26, 1924, as given above.

Sworn to before me this _____ day of _____, 19__

_____
Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms supplied by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel as the port of arrival. One list of changes of alien members of crew (Form I-418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate member is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seamen, include names of alternate citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel using any port or place in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness arising after the vessel's departure from a foreign port, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except for the purpose of obtaining such medical treatment, or because of quarantine, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the allowance of temporary landing in cases of emergency.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to depart on board the vessel such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has been notified reasonably such seaman (which notification in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), to the satisfaction of such immigration officer or the Attorney General, to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the discharge shall think proper.

This section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising independent to June 2, 1924.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a similar to depart with reimbursement by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel of the same or another line sailing to the same port, but such reasonable expense as may be required to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

DUPLICATE FOR THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OFFICER

I, S.S. Buttrig Chief, of the S.S., do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from and port or place during the year preceding. I have noted the cause of vacancy opposite the name of each person who has left the vessel, and the time when and the place where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and whether alone or by a written agreement. I have also noted the number of births and deaths that have occurred on board during the said year, and the cause of death in each case. I have exhibited the log-book of the said vessel, and have therein recorded the respective times of the departure of the said vessel from each port or place in which she has been during the said year, and the number of persons on board at each departure from each port or place. I have also produced to the proper officer the certificate of registry of the said vessel, and indorsed thereon the number of persons on board on her departure from the last port or place at which she has been entered inwards. And I do further declare that the said list contains a full and true account of all seamen who have been discharged or have died on board the said vessel during the said year, or have been left behind at any port or place, and of all persons who have been engaged to serve as seamen on board the said vessel during the said year, and have not been discharged before the proper officer, or who are still on board the said vessel at the date hereof, with the capacity in which they have been so engaged, and the time when they are expected to return to the United States.

Master, Mate or Chief Officer.

Sworn to before me this 1 day of APR 1 1923, 19

Immigrant Inspector.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crew (Form I-418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure. Attention is called to section 20 of the act of February 5, 1917, a portion of which should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all persons who may be found on board such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and whether alone or by a written agreement, all of which shall be fully answered as to each person; and the said officer shall have the right to go on board any such vessel and examine the list and all persons on board thereof, and may administer oaths to any person concerning the matters required to be stated in such list, and may detain such vessel for a period not exceeding two days for the purpose of such examination. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any such vessel who shall refuse to deliver to such immigration officer, at the time of the arrival of such vessel, a correct list of the persons on board such vessel, as required by this section, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully any question concerning the matters required to be stated in such list, or who shall refuse to such officer access to such vessel for the purpose of such examination, or who shall refuse to detain such vessel for such period after notification so to do, or who shall refuse to deliver to such immigration officer, at the time of the departure of such vessel from any port in the United States, a correct list of all the persons on board such vessel, and of the additions thereto since the arrival of such vessel, stating a description of each alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and who shall knowingly land from such vessel, except in case of distress, any alien without the permission of the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who shall knowingly bring to the United States any alien not duly listed by the master at the port of departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been left behind at any foreign port or place, or who shall knowingly conceal, harbor, or secrete, or assist in concealing, harboring, or secreting any such alien, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien so landed, concealed, harbored, or secreted, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and may be arrested either before or after the departure of any such vessel from the port, and detained on board thereof or on shore until the question of the guilt of the master or other person charged with violating this section has been finally determined, and in the meantime the vessel shall be detained at the port, and in case of the final conviction of the master or other person charged with violating this section the vessel shall be forfeited to the United States and may be libeled therefor in the appropriate court of the United States. The words "master" and "vessel" as used in this section shall include, respectively, every officer of any vessel and every owner of any vessel coming into the United States from foreign ports. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, or insurance to such territories as the Attorney General may prescribe for the minimum deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 203.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory who fails to depart with such vessel from any port in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or insurance to such territories as the Attorney General may prescribe for the minimum deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 203.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory who fails to depart with such vessel from any port in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or insurance to such territories as the Attorney General may prescribe for the minimum deportation of such alien from the United States, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens irrespective of June 2, 1924.

(b) Every such alien seaman who shall depart from the United States on a vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a foreign port or place, without first obtaining from the immigration officer in charge of the port a certificate that he has been lawfully admitted to the United States or that the decision adverse to his admission has been reversed by the Attorney General, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived. Such certificate shall not be granted by the immigration officer except upon the written recommendation of the Attorney General, and such certificate shall not be granted by the Attorney General until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165; 8 U. S. C. 203, 204, 210 (a), 221 (g).)

Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 171) when such vessel intends to land any alien seaman during its stay in the United States, except temporarily to the extent permitted by and in conformity with the regulations in this chapter, or when the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof fails to furnish the list or to state therein the number of alien seamen employed on board, or when the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof fails to comply with the provisions of section 16 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 162; 8 U. S. C. 216) relative to the employment of alien seamen, or when the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof fails to comply with any of the provisions of section 17 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 162; 8 U. S. C. 217) relative to the employment of alien seamen. Failure to comply with the provisions of section 18 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 163; 8 U. S. C. 218) relative to the employment of alien seamen shall be punished as provided in section 18 of said Act. (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness requiring his detention, or unless specially permitted by the Attorney General upon written application therefor, to depart on board the vessel on which he arrived or on board some other vessel, and the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival is authorized and directed to issue a permit for the removal of any alien seaman who has been certified by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service to be suffering from any contagious disease, to a hospital for treatment, or to the office of the collector of customs, or to such other place as the Secretary of Labor may designate, for examination or hearing, and shall furnish to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived a permit in writing stating the name of such alien seaman and the vessel on which he arrived, and the cause for which he was removed from the vessel. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who refuses or fails to comply with the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit, or cancel such bond, in whole or in part. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 219.)

(a) Every alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section, or who shall remain in the United States in violation of the conditions under which he was admitted as a seaman, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act, irrespective of the time of his residence in the United States. This section as amended shall apply to all deportable aliens irrespective of date of entry. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 220.)

(b) Every alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel at any port in violation of the provisions of this section, or who shall fail to depart in accordance with the conditions under which he was admitted, shall be presumed to be a deserter, and shall be prima facie evidence of a violation of section 16 of this Act. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 221.)

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165; 8 U. S. C. 221 (a), 221 (c).)

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien employees on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the intended length of their stay in the United States; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs or other officer authorized to grant clearance papers until the master thereof has delivered to the said immigration officer a list of all alien members of the crew who have been left behind on account of illness, injury, or any cause, and the cause for such detention. Upon the departure of such vessel it shall be the duty of the master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, the name, age, nationality, last residence, and intended future residence of each alien member of the crew who was reported as left behind, and to report the name, age, nationality, last residence, and intended future residence of each alien who shall have joined the vessel during her stay in port, and to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of her departure a list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who shall leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to fill vacancies, and to deliver a like list to the collector of customs. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the requirements of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien employee, or member of the crew, in respect of whom he shall refuse or neglect to furnish the information required or to deliver the lists aforesaid, or who shall knowingly and willfully report or bring to the United States any alien employee for whom a certificate has been required by the Secretary of Labor and such certificate has been refused, or who shall knowingly and willfully bring to the United States any alien employee who has been certified specially or generally by the Secretary of Labor as unable to land because of physical or mental disability or infectious disease likely to endanger the public health

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by the said immigration officer at the port of arrival is to deport such alien, or who fails to deport any such alien when ordered to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, or to or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from this section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising independent to June 2, 1940.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival and in all instances before leaving from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens in duplicate, form I–418 (rev. 7-1-52), shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is in possession of a "waiver" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seeking admission, include names of arriving American citizens seeking re-entry as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of entry list or manifest of all persons on board the same, however destined or intending to land, specifying the nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each person who is destined to the United States, and such additional information as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization or by the Attorney General, and shall also prepare and deliver to the immigration officer at the port of entry such other lists or manifests of the persons on board such vessel, at such time and in such form as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization or by the Attorney General, and shall also deliver to the immigration officer at the port of entry a list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel who are not citizens of the United States, specifying the nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, whether destined to the United States or not, whether in possession of an immigration visa or not, whether destined to any island possession of the United States or not, and such additional information as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization or by the Attorney General.

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the foreign contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, Saint Pierre and Miquelon, or Bermuda any alien coming to the United States, shall, at the time of the departure of such vessel from such place, deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry at which such vessel arrives, a true and correct manifest of all such aliens, specifying the name, age, sex, marital status, last residence, calling, nationality, final destination, whether in transit through the United States or not, whether in possession of an immigration visa or not, whether destined to any island possession of the United States or not, and such additional information as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization or by the Attorney General.

(b) The master, agent, owner, charterer, consignee, or operator of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the foreign contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, Saint Pierre and Miquelon, or Bermuda any alien coming to the United States, shall, at the time of the departure of such vessel from such place, deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry at which such vessel arrives, a true and correct manifest of all such aliens, specifying the name, age, sex, marital status, last residence, calling, nationality, final destination, whether in transit through the United States or not, whether in possession of an immigration visa or not, whether destined to any island possession of the United States or not, and such additional information as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization or by the Attorney General.

SEC. 48. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the foreign contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, Saint Pierre and Miquelon, or Bermuda or proceeding from the United States to any place outside thereof, unless such alien seaman has been granted a waiver in the discretion of the Attorney General upon the recommendation of such alien seaman's master, owner, agent, consignee, or operator that such alien seaman is required on board such vessel and that no suitable substitute seaman is available at the port at which such alien seaman is then employed, and such waiver shall be granted only for the period of time such vessel is in port, and such alien seaman shall be deported on the vessel on which he arrived unless the Attorney General shall otherwise direct.

SEC. 48. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the foreign contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, Saint Pierre and Miquelon, or Bermuda who knowingly employs on board such vessel any alien seaman who has been excluded from admission to the United States and who has been certified as such by the Attorney General may thereafter for the period of one year next following the date of such certification be fined not more than $1,000 for each such alien seaman employed on board such vessel.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not have a proper immigration visa at the time of his departure from the United States shall be prima facie evidence for the purposes of this section that such alien seaman was employed on board such vessel with knowledge that he was excluded from admission to the United States.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien seaman by reason of the relationship of such alien seaman to a person or persons in the United States, the Attorney General may permit such alien seaman to depart from the United States on any vessel which he may select and which will accept such alien seaman for transportation, and such alien seaman shall not be granted clearance papers for any vessel other than the vessel designated by the Attorney General.

SEC. 251.1. Lists of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master thereof has delivered to the immigration officer at the port to which such vessel is destined, and not less than one hour prior to the departure of such vessel from such port, a list or manifest in duplicate, on Form I–418, of all aliens employed or to be employed in any capacity on board such vessel, except that in the case of the illness of the master, officer, or crew which could not have been known prior to the departure of the vessel from the last port, the list or manifest of the alien or aliens employed in such capacity may be delivered as soon as possible after the departure of the vessel from such port. Clearance may be granted without the delivery of such list or manifest to any vessel which does not carry any alien passengers and which does not intend to call at any port or place in the United States during the course of the voyage, upon the filing of a statement to that effect. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (8 June. 104, 8 U. S. C. 206.)

SEC. 26. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the foreign contiguous territory of Canada or Mexico shall cause to be delivered to the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry a list containing the name, age, sex, marital status, last residence, calling, nationality, final destination, whether in transit through the United States or not, whether in possession of an immigration visa or not, and such additional information as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization or by the Attorney General, of each alien (whether a citizen of the United States or not) who is on board such vessel at the time of arrival and who is destined to or intends to land in the United States, and shall also prepare and deliver to such immigration officer such other lists or manifests of the persons on board such vessel, at such time and in such form as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization or by the Attorney General, and shall also deliver to such immigration officer a list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel who are not citizens of the United States, specifying the nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, whether destined to the United States or not, whether in possession of an immigration visa or not, whether destined to any island possession of the United States or not, and such additional information as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization or by the Attorney General.

(b) Every alien in possession of a visa shall be examined as to his admissibility to the United States under the immigration laws, and every alien not in possession of a visa shall be examined as to whether he may be admitted to the United States or shall be detained for a hearing before a special inquiry officer. The Attorney General may, upon the application of the master, commanding officer, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which an alien has arrived at a port of the United States, permit such alien to be taken temporarily to a hospital or other place of detention for treatment or safekeeping, pending examination or final disposition of his case, under such conditions as he may prescribe, without the payment of the tax imposed by section 2 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 875; 8 U. S. C. 151) unless such alien is otherwise subject to such tax.

(c) Every alien who shall be found upon the examination provided for in this section to be admissible to the United States shall be duly admitted by the immigration officer if such alien is a citizen of the United States or presents an unexpired immigration visa, unless he is otherwise subject to the provisions of the immigration laws.

(d) Every alien who shall be found upon the examination provided for in this section to be inadmissible to the United States, or who cannot be found or who fails to present himself for examination, or who departs from the United States before the completion of the examination provided for in this section, shall be reported immediately to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization and to the Attorney General by the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry.

(e) Any person who shall bring to the United States any alien who is excluded from admission to the United States by the immigration laws, or who is excluded from admission to the United States by reason of his failure to comply with the provisions of this section, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such alien so brought, and may be imprisoned for not more than one year. Such fine may be imposed in addition to any other punishment provided by law for the illegal bringing of such alien into the United States.

(f) Any master, commanding officer, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of any vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver to the immigration officer any list required by subdivision (a) or (b) of this section, or who refuses or fails to deliver to the immigration officer any such list in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (a) or (b) of this section, or who refuses or fails to detain any alien on board such vessel when ordered to do so by the Attorney General, or who refuses or fails to comply with the regulations of the Attorney General governing the detention on board such vessel of aliens ordered detained, or who refuses or fails to deliver any such alien duly certified to by the immigration officer at the time of departure of such vessel from the last port outside the United States, or who refuses or fails to pay the tax imposed by section 2 of the Immigration Act of 1917 in connection with any such alien, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such alien in respect to whom any such violation occurs. (8 June. 104–108, 38 Stat. 616; 8 U. S. C. 101 (a), (c).)

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, ... of the S.S. SANTA ELISA ..... do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from subdivision B, Rule 7, and copy of sections 19 and 20, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

..... Master, First or Second Officer.

..... Immigrant Inspector.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from a place outside contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such temporary illness as may render his departure with the vessel impracticable at the time of her departure, or for the purpose of submitting his case to the Secretary of Labor for special inquiry under section 16 of this Act, or for the purpose of taking part in any hearing or proceeding before the Secretary of Labor or a court in his case, or for the purpose of testifying in his case, or pursuant to subpena of a court of the United States, or for the purpose of pursuing his calling as a seaman on board the vessel during her stay in port, or for the purpose of boarding such vessel for the purpose of proceeding to another port in the United States or to a foreign port, or for the purpose of rejoining the vessel at any port or place in the United States or foreign territory from which he may have been lawfully transported, or for the purpose of being treated in a hospital as a bona fide private patient (a person who pays for his own treatment or whose treatment is paid for by his family or friends), or for the purpose of attending a school, or for the purpose of entering the service of the United States, or for the purpose of becoming a member of the military or naval forces of the United States, if he is otherwise admissible under this Act. Such seaman shall be deported in the same manner as other aliens unlawfully in the United States, except that deportation may be directed to the country whose flag the vessel on which he arrived shall then fly, to the country in which is located the foreign port for which such vessel sails, to the country of birth, country of race, or country of last permanent residence of such seaman, or to any country which will accept him. Deportation of seamen shall be limited to those who have been in the United States not more than five years. Any seaman who fails to depart from the United States when required shall be deported notwithstanding the provisions of any other law. Any seaman who, after having been granted a visa, has been found by the immigration officers at the port of arrival to be ineligible for admission to the United States under any law existing at the time of his application for a visa, shall be deported in the manner provided by this section for the deportation of aliens who fail to depart from the United States within the time allowed them after being found inadmissible when examined by immigration officers at the port of arrival.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board until such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who has not been duly admitted to the United States on the conclusion of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or who has been ordered deported shall be detained on board or at such port pending the decision as to his admissibility or deportation, unless the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived shall deposit with the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a bond in such sum, not exceeding $1,000, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the return of such alien seaman to the vessel for departure or his deportation, if ordered, and upon the departure of the vessel from the United States without the landing of such alien seaman. Such bond shall be void and shall be returned to the obligor when such alien seaman has been granted a visa and admitted to the United States, or has been returned to the vessel for departure, or has been deported, as the case may be.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien seaman, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be finally determined or any penalty enforced to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the facts required by section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been ascertained, and not then unless notice of inability to do so administratively has been received by said section or to that prescribed by section 28 of said act, unless such vessel, the deposit specified in title 53 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 30. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ships company, such lists to be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival; or if there be no immigration officer at such port, then to such officer of the customs as the Secretary of Labor shall designate for the purpose, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers or the equivalent thereof by the collector of customs or other officer authorized to grant clearance papers in the absence of the collector of customs, or his deputy, or the consular officer of the United States in the foreign contiguous territory from which such vessel sails, until the master has delivered to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons employed on such vessel, and has subscribed and sworn to the truth thereof before the officer to whom such lists are required to be delivered. The list of members of the crew (Form 588) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate manifest is prepared in accordance with the provisions of section 4 of this act, the word "MONTHLY" is a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, W.P. Hoyt, Master, of the SS SANTA LEONOR do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew, promptly in mind vessel from and port or place qualified per foregoing voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 30 of the Act of February 3, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, supply appeal below.

[signature]

Sworn to before me this 1st day of April 1952

[illegible]
Immigration Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crew (Form I-418) shall not be furnished on board but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 3E. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien employees on such vessel, whether the positions they temporarily hold in the ship's company, upon and where they were temporarily shipped or engaged, and whether those or the positions they temporarily hold in the port of arrival are permanent or temporary, and such other information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and such owner, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, all cases in which any such alien has been allowed to depart from the vessel if such be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of any aliens employed to replace those who have been discharged, and the cause, if any, for such change. Any such owner, agent, consignee, or master who violates any of the provisions of this section shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a duly authorized immigrant inspector: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–892; 8 U. S. C. 131.)

SEC. 150.15. Limit of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 30 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 131), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to fine prescribed by section 35 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 1201) have been waived, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, have been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has been employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness requiring his detention as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alleviation thereof, or to depart from the United States on any vessel other than the vessel in which he arrived, or on any vessel sailing within 24 hours after the departure of the vessel in which he arrived, unless specially authorized by the Attorney General in his discretion to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens who arrive on vessels engaged in the coastwise trade.

(b) That any alien seaman who shall not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was refused by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a finding of deportation after reinstatement by the immigration officer of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or all payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 161–162; 38 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), 161 (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal to such destination as may be designated by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, of any alien crew who refuses to proceed on such vessel. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 160.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, (except such vessel as may be permitted to land temporarily under section 19 of this Act), shall cause each alien seaman employed on such vessel duly examined by the medical examiners at the port of arrival, and a certificate of such examination issued to each alien seaman (which certificate shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), and no such alien seaman shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, unless there has been delivered such certificate to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival. It shall be the duty of the master of any such vessel to detain on board or at quarantine any alien seaman who has been certified by the medical examiners to be suffering from any disease which may endanger the public health, until a certificate has been issued by the Public Health Service officer at the port of arrival that such alien seaman may be landed without danger to the public health. Any master who shall land or permit to be landed any alien seaman in violation of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman so landed, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in the United States shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act, and the cost of his maintenance while detained awaiting deportation shall be collected from the owner of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States. Any master who shall refuse to pay the cost of maintenance of any such alien seaman while detained awaiting deportation shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman so detained. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit or bond in any case in which he is satisfied that no fine should be imposed under this section. Any vessel which shall violate the provisions of this section shall pay a penalty of $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such refusal the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all deportation arising subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any port within contiguous territory, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a failure to depart or depart after treatment by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be finally charged against such vessel or its owner until the Attorney General is satisfied that such vessel has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

Immigrant Inspector.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. One blank shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form I-418) and not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at each port of stop (Form I-418) and not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port. When an alleged American citizen seaman is a "stowaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alleged American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival in or departure from the United States from any foreign port of three if alien or the crew, every commander, or master, purser, or agent, or other person charged with the duty of the safety of the crew, shall before the departure of any vessel from any port of the United States, deliver to the principal immigration officer at such port a manifest and list or manifests and lists, certified by the master or commander or purser or agent of the vessel to be correct, containing the name of all persons, including the crew and passengers, who may be on board when the vessel shall depart from such port, and such other information relative thereto as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, under the direction of the Secretary of Labor, and shall furnish to the master of any vessel, bound for any port of the United States, such number of manifest and list blanks as may be necessary for the purpose of complying with the provisions of this section. Such manifests and lists shall be prepared in the form and manner and contain such information as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be printed in the English language. Every master, commander, purser, or agent of any vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver to the immigration officer at any port of the United States any manifest or list required by this section, or who refuses or neglects to answer truthfully to the best of his knowledge any question touching the persons on board his vessel asked by any immigration officer, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which such port is situated the sum of $10 for each person concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a true report is not made as required by this section, and no clearance shall be granted to such vessel by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port is situated, or by any officer of customs acting in such collector's place, until such sum has been paid or secured to be paid to the satisfaction of the collector of customs or his successor in office. Such sum shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in any district court of the United States within whose jurisdiction the vessel may arrive, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance by the collector of customs of the district in which she may be found while such lien remains unsatisfied, nor shall such vessel be granted clearance by any other officer of customs while the collector of customs of the district in which she may be found has been notified that such lien remains unsatisfied: Provided, That clearance may be granted by the collector of customs of the district in which such vessel may be found upon the deposit with him of a sum sufficient to cover such tax or such part thereof as may remain unsatisfied after application of the proceeds of the vessel, if sold, and of the penalty of $10 for each person concerning whom such lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as required by this section, and no clearance shall be granted by any other officer of customs while such vessel remains in the jurisdiction of the United States if application for clearance be made within two days after the vessel's arrival, unless the master, commander, purser, or agent of such vessel shall produce to the collector of customs a certificate from the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival showing that the tax imposed by this section has been paid or that no tax is due: Provided further, That the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may, upon the application of the master, commander, purser, or agent of any vessel, remit the payment of the tax imposed by this section in the case of any alien crewman who has been allowed to land temporarily under bond, but such remission shall not affect the duty of the master, commander, purser, or agent to report such alien crewman upon departure of the vessel from the United States: Provided further, That the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may, upon the application of the master, commander, purser, or agent of any vessel, remit the payment of the tax imposed by this section in the case of any alien crewman who has been allowed to land temporarily under bond, but such remission shall not affect the duty of the master, commander, purser, or agent to report such alien crewman upon departure of the vessel from the United States: Provided further, That clearance may be granted by the collector of customs of the district in which such vessel may arrive, and such vessel shall not be required to remain at the port of arrival pending the decision of the Commissioner General of Immigration, upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover the tax imposed by this section, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof in such form and amount as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and such vessel shall not be required to remain at the port of arrival pending the decision of the Commissioner General of Immigration upon the question of the liability of such vessel to the tax imposed by this section, but such decision shall be rendered with due diligence: Provided further, That clearance may be granted by the collector of customs of the district in which such vessel may arrive, and such vessel shall not be required to remain at the port of arrival pending the decision of the Commissioner General of Immigration upon the question of the liability of such vessel to the tax imposed by this section, upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover the tax
